DEDICATION

(FROM A LATE ENGLISH WRITER.)

"The long-descended squire of earlier days had no paltry snobbery. His younger sons followed honest trades without shame; his brother, the London merchant, visited him all unknowing that commerce was a grease spot on the pedigree. The great interest of the shire is not in the titled houses, but in the plain landed gentry, honorable tradesmen and skilled artisans. The new genealogy is a living instrument; it may uphold or cast down pretentious pedigrees; but it suggests possibilities of honorable descent for the unrecognized Commoner."

Preface to New Edition

An authority on the subject has written, "The Subject of Genealogy or Family History is one of great and increasing interest to a large portion of our citizens; it meets a desire of our human hearts to know from whence we have sprung and the relation we bear to our fellow mortals. No virtuously disposed mind can look back upon a long line of venerable ancestors without feeling his motive to an honorable career strengthened."

It is also to be noted with great satisfaction that the desire to be connected back to a line of royalty has been supplanted by the fact that an ancestry of brain and brawn as found in the substantial ranks of a virtuous people furnishes an honorable basis of satisfaction and enduring pride.

With due appreciation of the very general interest of the various members of "the family," it yet still seems best to mention as valued co-operators in the work Gilbert Cope, Genealogist, of West Chester, Pa.; Prof. William T. Lyle, of the Lafayette College, Pa.; Matilda Jacobs, of Aurora, N. Y., and Hon. Geo. E. Chamberlain, late Governor and now U. S. Senator of Oregon, as having furnished especially valuable data. With the correction of errors, the addition of new data and the improvement in illustrations there is indulged a good hope for a fair measure of appreciation of the contents of the book.

Explanations

It is the hope of the writer that the plan which has been followed is such that all can understand it, yet a few observations may be of service. The work has been divided into two parts, in order to keep the lines of the Tribbles in a more compact form, believing this will give the best satisfaction. The children of each family will be found in regular order by the number of their parents in the succeeding generation. The maiden names, when obtained, are given, to show the family connections. The occupation and address always refer to the husband when the numbered name is a married woman, and in other cases to the numbered name, unless specially stated. When a small figure thus ⁹ is attached to the right of a name, it indicates that the person belongs to that generation.

ABBREVIATIONS.

Ch. or ch.	for child or children.
b.	for born.
d.	for died.
M. or m.	for married.
unm.	for unmarried.
dau.	for daughter.

The usual terms of No. for number, mo., Jan., Feb., etc. for the months, are adopted to economize space, as are also Mtg. for meeting-house, twp. for township, etc.

INCIDENTAL

As a fitting frontispiece to this work a view of Concord Friends' Meetinghouse is presented. Concord Meeting was established in connection with one at Chichester very soon after the arrival of William Penn and his Colonists in 1682. They came to establish a State and set up the "Holy Experiment" of a government on the basis of Peace. The first official record of the meeting is 17th of First month (March O. S.) 1684; the meetings being held for some time at the houses of Friends until they could afford to build their meeting house.

The first land for the meeting house and grave yard was conveyed as follows

The nature or any description of these original buildings has not been discovered. In 1728 a brick meeting house was erected; which stood until 1788 when it was at least partially destroyed by fire. The present building was then erected being considerably enlarged; the right-hand portion with its door as a centre represents the original brick building.

The first tract of land contained about one Acre and sixty seven perches, A second tract adjoining this on the South East and reaching to the old Philadelphia road (now mostly vacated) was purchased of Nicholas Newlin Sept. 4, 1739 containing 1A. 138 Perches. The whole tract of 3A. 44 Perches forming a very commodious and beautiful site.

The building and description is presented as the scene of many of our forefathers transactions in affairs of Marriages. Deaths and the sacred office of Religion.

"The name--Concord--was probably bestowed on this locality by the first settlers as illustrative of their harmonious feelings."--Smith History of Delaware Co. Pa. Here they worshipped according to the dictates of their own consciences; here their love-vows were fulfilled at the marriage altar; and close by, in the graveyard which is immediately back of the house, lies the dust of

"Brave hearts that dared the rough broad seas
For homes and freedom in the wood--
Strong arms that felled the giant trees,
And tilled the earth where once they stood.

"They came not here to carve a name
On Honor's tablet high and grand:
Their humble works, unknown to Fame,
Still live and bless their chosen land.

"To that young land their needful aid
Helped to achieve results sublime,
And each progressive step they made
Has left its mark for coming time.

"Their duties were their chief desires,
Their faith no narrow creed confined;
And we inherit from such sires
Full right to freedom of the mind.

"And where they sleep small flowers bloom,
That scarcely catch the passer's gaze:
It was their wish no flaunting tomb
Should be emblazoned with their praise."--JACOB PAINTER.

In the work herewith presented the author has not preceded the settlement of Pennsylvania, excepting by an occasional note that has fallen into his hands, or to discover the origin of some of the principal surnames connected with its progress. It may be proper to observe that the cause of this is owing to the lack of positive records and difficulty in obtaining correct information; and so, with the materials at hand, I proceed to their arrangement.

The word Palmer as a surname traces its origin from the time of the Crusades in the twelfth and thirteenth centuries. The emblem of supriority or triumph had for a long time become associated with the palm tree, it is said, from its peculiar nature of regaining its true position after being bent or pressed out of shape. See Webster Dictionary Definition 5. The evidence of its emblematic nature may be seen by reference to a few passages from the Bible.

In relation to the Feast of Tabernscles (Leviticus xxlii. 40): "And ye shall take you on the first day the boughs of goodly trees, branches of palm trees, and boughs of thick trees and willows of the brook; and ye shall rejoice before the Lord your God seven days."

The ninety-second Psalm, written near the close of the Babylonish Captivity by one, probably having a view of their return to the Land of Promise, in the twelfth verse says, "The righteous shall flourish like the palm tree: he shall grow like a cedar in Lebanon."

Solomon, describing the graces of Christ's Church (Song of Sol. vii. 7 8): "This thy stature is like to a palm tree, and thy breasts to clusters of grapes. I said, I will go up to the palm tree, I will take hold of the boughs thereof."

When Jesus made his triumphal entry into Jerusalem (John xii. 12, 13): . . . "when they heard that Jesus was coming to Jerusalem, took branches of palm trees and went forth to meet him, and cried, Hosanna! Blessed is the King of Israel that cometh in the name of the Lord!"

John, in his vision of the number sealed (Rev. vii. 9): "After I beheld, and lo, a great multitude, which no man could number, of all nations, and kindreds, and people, and tongues, stood before the throne, and before the Lamb, clothed with white robes, and palms in their hands."

From "Our English Surnames" by Charles W. Bardsley pages 162, 163 we extract: "The various religious wanderings of solitary recluses, though belonging to a system long faded from our English life, find a perpetual epitaph in the 'directories' of to-day. Thus we have still our 'Pilgrims' or 'Pelerins' as the Normans termed them. We may meet with 'Palmer's' anyday in the streets of our large towns—names distinctly relating the manner in which their owners have derived their title. The 'Pilgrim' may have but visited the Shrine of St. Thomas of Canterbury; the 'Palmer' as his Sobriquet proves, had forlorn and weary battled against all difficulties and trod the path that led to the Holy Sepulchre."

"The Faded palm branch in his hand,
"Showed pilgrim from the Holy land."—Scott.

We therefore find, though centuries had intervened after the Bible accounts were written that the same idea of its superior virtue prevailed and that those infatuated bands—the Crusaders—who sought the deliverance of the Holy Land under Peter the Hermit, Richard (cour de Lion) &c. often carried back to their homes branches of this tree, or its leaves interwoven in their hat bands, as emblems of their journey, and by their persistence as "bearers of the Palm" established a name—Palmer.

Gibbon in his "Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire," chap. 57, gives this record: "About thirty years before the Crusade (1064) the archbishop of Mentz with the bishops Utrecht, Bamberg and Retisbon undertook the laborious journey from the Rhine to the Jordan and the multitude of their followers amounted to seven thousand. * * * After visiting the Holy places they embarked for Italy, but only a remnant of two thousand arrived safely in their native land. Ingulphus a secretary of William the Conqueror was a companion of this pilgrimage; he observed that 'they sallied from Normandy thirty stout and well appointed horsemen, but that they repassed the Alps twenty miserably palmered with the staff in their hand and the wallet at their back.'"

With these records of derivation it is easily perceived that there could be no common patriarch to many of the various families of the name that now exist; therefore, though the name may often figure in the records of the Old World, it will require the most definite proof to connect their Transatlantic relationship.

Besse records the name a few times in his "Sufferings of the Quakers" from which I extract:

"In 1658, Thomas Palmer and Richard Mills, coming to a meeting in Banbury, Oxfordshire, had two mares taken from them valued at £5."

"In 1659, Thomas Palmer and two others were subpoenaed into the Exchange at the suit of John Dyke, a priest, for tithes, valued at 14s.: they appeared accordingly, but refusing to swear to their answer, were imprisoned for contempt in a low dungeon at Warwick, twenty steps deep, where the said Thomas Palmer lay ten months."

"In 1660, Rose Palmer and others committed close prisoners to the Bottom in Aldburgh, for frequenting meetings at Ipswich, Suffolk."

"In Buckinghamshire seventeen persons, including one Thomas Palmer, were taken out of a meeting by soldiers and carried to justices, who, upon their refusing to swear, sent them to prison."

"In 1664 Ezekiel Palmer of Cambridgeshire had seven cows taken, worth £22, for nonconformity to public worship."

"In London this year there died in Newgate, or by sickness contracted there, twenty-five persons—viz., John Clark, John Wilkinson, John Lewis, William Tomkins, John Hales, Robert Twynn, Henry Haster, Joseph Stonehouse, Mary Draper, John Palmer, John Cooke, Edward Baker, Andrew Andrews, John Wildbore, Richard Twynn, Mary Davis, George Hide, Hannah Cooke, Mary Mile, Henry Woodward, Richard Audley, Mary Travers, Roger Evans, Hannah Drury and Benjamin Greenwell. When the relations of some of the deceased desired their bodies in order to bury them, it was not granted; but they were privately interred in the ground belonging to the gaol, that their deaths might be concealed as much as possible from the observation of the people."

In the chancel at Snoland in Kent, where Thomas Palmer, who married the daughter of Fitz Slmon, lies buried, is the following epitaph:

"Palmers all our faders were
I a Palmer lived here
And travelled still, till wud age
I ended this world's pilgrimage
On the blest Ascensian day
In the cheerful month of May
A thousand with four hundred seven
I took my journey hence to heaven."

Balley in "Clark's Introduction to Heraldry," thus defines the difference between a palmer and pilgrim: "A Pilgrim had some dwelling-place, a Palmer none; a Pilgrim travelled to some certain place, the Palmer to all; the Pilgrim must go at his own charge, the Palmer must profess poverty, whether real or willful; the Pilgrim might give over his profession, but the Palmer might not."

Burke's "Encyclopedia of Heraldry" describes forty-five coats-of-arms under the name of Palmer, one of which is herewith presented. It will illustrate the range of thought in those times, even though it may have no connection with our family:

On a few of them were mottoes, for example:

"Par sit fortuna labori."

Trans.—By labor there is fortune.

"Palma Virtuti."

Trans.—A palm to valor, i. e., There is a reward to courage.

"In Deo est mihi omnes fides."

Trans.—All my trust is in God.

In later times Lord Nelson had for his motto:

"Palmam qui merint ferat."

Trans.—Let him who has won it bear the Palm.

The name early found recognition in literature. Chaucer uses it in The Prologue to the Canterbury Tales.

"When that Aprillis with his showers swoot,
"The drought of March has pierced to the root,

* * * * *

"When Zephyrus eke with his swoote breath
"Inspired hath in every grove and heath
"The tender croppes. * * * * *

"Then longe folks to go on pilgrimages
"And palmers for to seeke strange strands
"To ferne hallows couth in sundry lands;

* * * * *

From Spencer's "Fairie Queene we extract—Book 2, Canto 1—

"Hlm als acompany'd upon the way
"A comely Palmer clad in black attire;
Of ripest years and hairs all hoarle gray
"That with a staff his feeble limbs did stire
"Lest his long way his aged limbs should tire,
"And if by looks one may the mind aread,
"He seemed to be a sage and sober sire.

From Shakespeare we have—

"My sceptre for a Palmer's walking staff."

King Richard 2nd, Act 3; scene 3.

"Where do the palmers lodge, I do beseech you."

All's Well That Ends Well, Act 3; scene 5.

"And palm to palm is holy palmer's kiss."

Romeo and Juliet, Act 1st; scene 5.

Also in several other places.

From "Marmion" Canto 1. Stan. 23.—Sir Walter Scott—
 "Here is a Holy Palmer come,
 "From 'Salem first, and last from Rome;
 "One that hath kissed the blessed tomb
 "And visited each holy shrine
 "In Araby and Palestine;
 "On hills of Armenia hath been
 "Where Noah's ark may yet be seen;
 "By that Red Sea, too, hath he trode,
 "Which parted at the prophet's rod;
 "In Sinai's wilderness he saw
 "The mount where Israel heard the law
 "Mid thunder-dint and flashing levin
 "And shadows, mists and darkness given."

Extract from "The Palmer" by Felicia Hemans—

"Art thou come from the far-off land at last?
 "Thou that hast wandered long!
 "Thou art come to a home whence the smile has passed,
 "With the merry voice of song.

* * * * *

"Say what hast thou brought from the distant shore
 "For thy wasted youth to pay?
 "Hast thou treasures to win thee joys once more?
 "Hast thou vassals to smooth thy way?
 "I have brought but the palm branch in my hand
 "Yet I call not my bright youth lost!
 "I have won but high thought in the Holy Land,
 "Yet I count not too dear the cost!
 "I look on the leaves of the deathless tree
 "These records of my track;
 "And better than youth in its flush of glee
 "Are the memories they give me back!

* * * * *

"A rich light thence o'er my life's decline,
 "An inborn light is cast;
 "For the sake of the palm from the Holy Shrine
 "I bewail not my bright days past."

Savage in his "Genealogical Dictionary of New England" gives an account of a great number of Palmers who settled in that region, and who doubtless are the progenitors of many of the name scattered through this country. Of whom the following may be mentioned as important—

1. William Palmer who came from Nottinghamshire, England, in the ship Fortune, the second vessel after the Mayflower, in 1621, landed at Plymouth and settled at Duxbury, Mass., and has left numerous descendants.

2. Walter Palmer also from Nottinghamshire in 1629, landed at Charlestown Mass. He was one of the original settlers of that place. Afterwards he was one of the founders of Rehoboth, Mass., in 1643; and of Southerton now Stonington, Conn., in 1653. He finally settled at Wequetequock Cove where he had purchased a large tract of land, a short distance North East of Stonington and in Rhode Island, and in a nearby graveyard he and many of his family were buried. A view of his residence is herewith given. He was twice married and had twelve children whose descendants are very numerous. He was an influential man in his day both in State and church affairs and many of his descendants have been persons of talent and distinction. A re-union of the family was held at Stonington Conn. in 1881 and again in 1882 of which an interesting Book was published by Noyes F. Palmer of New York.

3. Thomas Palmer from Bradford, England, came in the ship Expectation in 1635 and founded the town of Roxley, Mass.

4. A Lieutenant William Palmer was made a freeman at Yarmouth, Mass., June 7, 1638. He afterwards settled on Long Island.

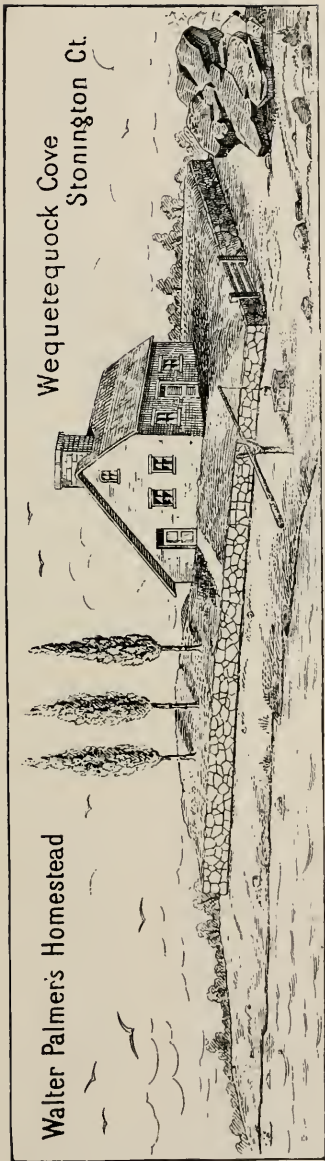

5. A William Palmer settled in Virginia at an early date and has many descendants through the Southern States.

6. A Thomas Palmer from Kelso, Scotland, in 1790 settled in Philadelphia, Pa., where there are yet his descendants.

7. In the purchase that gave the name Nine Partners to a locality in Dutchess County New York, there was one partner to that extensive undertaking named Mathew

Palmer who came from Nottinghamshire, England, to New York in 1720. From accounts he appears to have been a Friend (or Quaker). His descendants are numerous, among which were said to be John Palmer and his sister Catharine Palmer Foulke, of Stroudsburg, Pa., who were influential ministers in the Society of Friends.

8. An Anthony Paimer was president of the Provisional Council of Pennsylvania and ex-officio governor from May 6, 1747 to Nov. 23, 1748. He was a gentleman of wealth and had come to this colony from the West Indies in 1708. He was married and some of his descendants are said to still reside in Philadelphia. (See Armor Lives of the Governors of Pennsylvania.)

9. One name that would be nearly contemporary with the subject of this work has this to his record. "John Palmer born 1667, son of John of Situate, son of first John of Situate and Hingham, Mass., who came to this country in ship Elizabeth in September 1635. He was probably a brother to Thomas of Roxley, Mass. (See No. 3 of these notes.) Both of these have a large progeny scattered over this country.

10. There were also settlers of the name in New Jersey. Smith in his history of the state, mentions a John Palmer of Staten Island having with others made a settlement on the Raritan about the Falls, and that "John Palmer was appointed by Deputy Governor Rudyard as one of six persons whom he appointed as a council for East Jersey, in which he was continued till 1684, when a new council was appointed." The six names thus appointed were: Lewis Morris, John Berry, John Palmer, William Sanford, Lawrence Andros and Benjamin Price.

11. As another contemporary with John Palmer, the immigrant to Concord, there lived in London Samuel Palmer, an eminent printer, in whose office Benjamin Franklin was one time employed. He died in 1732. And later in the eighteenth century figured John Palmer, an actor of very considerable talents belonging to the Drury Lane Theatre, born about 1742. In his profession he excelled. He died suddenly on the stage immediately after uttering the words, "There is another and a better world."

12. There arrived in Pennsylvania about 1684, John and Christian Palmer in the ship Providence of Scarborough, Robert Hopper master, and settled in Bucks county, Pa. No known relationship existed between these and the Concord settler, and as there has never appeared any tradition concerning an affinity, it is highly probable they sprang from distinct families in the mother country.

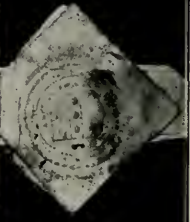

13. There were numerous settlements of Palmers in the lower part of the State of Delaware, a descendant of which was the late Maj. Gen. William Palmer of Colorado Springs, Colo., a noted Cavalry General of the Civil War.

With the hope that these "Incidentals" may prove of interest to the readers for want of further space they will have to suffice.

GENEALOGICAL HISTORY

Palmer Division

FIRST GENERATION

With an appreciation of the rich inheritance attached to the name—Palmer—somewhat shown in the foregoing "Incidentals," and to be found in many other valuable accounts; and with a desire that the name shall always be duly cherished and perpetuated, the genealogy is herewith presented of the descendants of JOHN PALMER, who settled in Concord township, Chester (now Delaware) county, Pa., previous to or about 1686.

I—1. JOHN PALMER, b. in England; d. 1742, Concord, Pa.; m. MARY SOUTHERY, dau. of Robert, of Bethel, b. —; d. 1745.

A general tradition exists that John Palmer was either enticed or beguiled to leave the home of his mother in England (his father being dead) by those interested, to pay his way for the profit to result from his labor (a custom somewhat in vogue at that time), and that he embarked from London and came to Pennsylvania, where he served a number of years at labor for his passage. No authentic records have been found to corroborate this tradition, but as it is very generally upheld by the elder members of the family, and as no other account is to be found as to his appearance in this country, it seems safe to give it a place in his history. This class of emigrants were called "Redemptioners." Although he had evidently been in the neighborhood (as will appear by records given further on, in the year 1686.) yet the first reliable account that appears of his permanent settlement is the purchase of one hundred acres of land of the patent for which a copy will be given.

This tract was first surveyed 7 mo. 4. 1683, to William Hawkes on rent.—it was afterwards occupied by Gideon Gambare (or Gambel) and in 1685 by James Browne. It is not known that John Palmer had any dealings with any of these to obtain possession of this tract, nor is it of material consequence as his patent fully perfected his title.

WM MARKHAM JOHN GOODSONN.

He had contracted his marriage previous to this time as the following records will show, although no definite record of it has been preserved. He married Mary Suddery (Southery) who was a daughter of Robert Southery, fuller by trade, late of Westbury in the county of Wiltshire, England. Robert was the purchaser of two hundred and fifty acres of land in Bethel and Thornbury by deeds bearing date the tenth and eleventh days of October, 1682, and probably resided on the Bethel tract. He died before 1686; who his wife was or even her Christian name does not appear, the only clue being that Robert Southery and John Gibbons were brothers-in-law. Mary Southery Palmer had a sister, Margery, who married John Hannum. They also settled in Concord about a half a mile north of John Palmer. They were the only children and after their father's death they, with the co-operation of their husbands, disposed of his late possessions. These facts in relation to them are established by the following extracts from the court records and deeds.

In the records of the court proceedings held at Chester, Pennsylvania, 4th mo. 1686, (on file in the Clerk of Court's office at West Chester, Pa.) it is noticed that a road is laid out from Bethel to Chichester 60 feet wide; beginning at the side of Concord toward the river on the street or highway of Concord: First, through land of John Gibbons, his house on the right side; then through land of Robert Southery, late deceased, his house on the left side; then through land of Robert Pile, his house on right hand, etc. From this it is reasonable to assume that Robert Southery had built a house and resided upon this land and had lately deceased.

This land appears to have been a part of 500 acres of the John Gibbons tract taken up by deeds of lease and release August 1-2, 1681, and conveyed to Robert Southery, his brother-in-law, by deed of same tenor, October 10-11, 1682. It was surveyed November 27, 1683, as 150 acres, and to make up the deficiency to 250 acres, John Gibbons on the same date conveyed to said Robert Southery 100 acres in Thornbury. By reference to the court records under date of 7 month 1686, this latter tract was disposed of as followeth: "John Palmer and John Hannum, by and with the consent of their wives, Mary Palmer and Margery Hannum, made over a deed for 100 acres of land lying and being in the township of Concord (Thornbury) to Edward Bennett, his heirs and assigns." This is conclusive evidence of their respective marriages previous to this date. As to the Bethel tract, the records show that a deed was given by the same persons, dated the 1st day of the 1st month (March), 1688, to Nicholas Pyle, for 150 acres of land in Bethel. To confirm the title of these lands a deed of release dated the 31st day of December, An. Dom. 1715, between John Palmer, yeoman, and Mary his wife, and John Hannum, yeoman, and Margery his wife, all of the township of Concord, county of Chester, Province of Pennsylvania, of the one part, and William Brinton, yeoman, of Birmingham, of the other part; in which it is fully set forth that "Robert Suddery in his lifetime became lawfully seized in his Demeasn as of fee of in the sd Two hundred and fifty acres of land with the appurtenances and Dyed seized thereof in his estate aforesaid after whose Decease the same Two hundred & fifty acres of land with the appurtenances Descended & came to the sd Mary and Margery parties to these presents as the Daughters and only heir of him the said Robert Suddery."

There is also a court record of 4 mo. 1686 in which is noted a difficulty between Nicholas Newlin, of Concord, and John Hannum and John Palmer, concerning a hog; and also that John Hannum was given an earmark and brand mark for his stock, which also shows their residence here at this time.

It is likely John and Mary were Friends, for a time at least, for their older children appeared to have a right of membership in the Society, which was not the case with the younger ones until taken into Meeting, as will be noticed under their names. But the facts and traditions relating to that period indicate that they left the Society through the defection of George Keith, a minister, who went off because of non-agreement in doctrine, and that they soon after joined the Baptists. By records of the Baptist Society, which were in the possession of the late Robert Frame, Esq., of Birmingham, it appears that on 6 mo. 10th, 1697, Thomas Powell, John Palmer, etc., five in number, were baptized; also on 7 mo. 27, 1697, John Hannum, Margery Hannum, Mary Palmer, etc., ten in number, were baptized—all in Ridley Creek.

On the return of Keith from England, whither he had gone soon after his schism, he records preaching at John Hanon's (Hannum's) in Concord, 2 mo. 9, 1702, on the text Matt. xvi. 18, and on the 11th he preached at Thomas Powell's, and states that both these men were formerly Quakers, together with several of their neighbors. In Smith's "History of Delaware County" it is noticed that there were quite a number in Concord who adhered to Keith. These facts seem to point quite definitely to their religious position, but their children seem not to have gone with them (or at least those of whom the records have come down to us), but to have continued members of the Society of Friends.

Of the birth of either John or Mary nothing is known, but from the date of their marriage, and being no doubt in the bloom of manhood and womanhood, we may reasonably conclude they came upon this earth between 1660 and 1670. They continued to reside upon the land he had purchased all their lives, but as to the nature of their dwelling-house, history seems to be silent. The present dwelling (see illustration) was enlarged by his grandson Moses, and is probably very nearly upon the original site.

An incident is preserved relating to Mary, that she drove a bear away from a chestnut tree with a fire-poker or poking-stick; and Stephen Hall, who died 7 mo. 26, 1815, at an advanced age, used to boast that he had seen six generations of the Palmers—that he remembered the first John Palmer, who was a little white-headed Englishman, but he remembered his wife better, for she once gave him a piece of bread and butter.

The time of their death is very nearly established by their wills. John's will is dated 2 mo. (April) 22, 1739-40, and was proven 7 mo. 1, 1742; hence he probably died in the 5th or 6th mo. (July or August) of that year.

Mary survived her husband a short time; she made a will bearing date 3 mo. (May) 28, 1744, which was proven 3 mo. 18, 1745, and hence her death happened nearly about the forepart of the latter year. In her will she gave a few things to each of her children as mementoes of remembrance, and left £10 to buy Bibles for her grandchildren.

John's will is as follows, in which the nature of his family is clearly indicated:

"In the name of God Amen: I John Palmer senior of Concord in the County of Chester Being weak of Body yet perfect in mind and memory (Thanks be to God therefor) and calling to mind the mortality of my body I do ordain this as my Last Will and Testament.

"And first I commit my Soul to God who gave it (in full assurance that at the last day I shall receive the same again) and my body to the Earth to be buried in an orderly Christian-like way and manner according to the discretion of my Executors, and as for what worldly goods it hath pleased God to endow me with I do dispose of them in manner following:

"Imprimus, I do leave to my dearly beloved wife Mary Palmer the whole use and benefits of my real estate during her lifetime.

"Item, I allow that at the death of my beloved wife Mary Palmer my Real Estate with Dwelling-house, Barn, Orchards and all appertanences, thereunto belonging to fall unto my beloved son Jno. Palmer, that which I do leave from that time (viz.) my wife's decease, to the aforesaid John Palmer my son to occupy, use, dispose of or sell at his will and pleasure and the said Jno. Palmer paying the several sums of money herein specified.

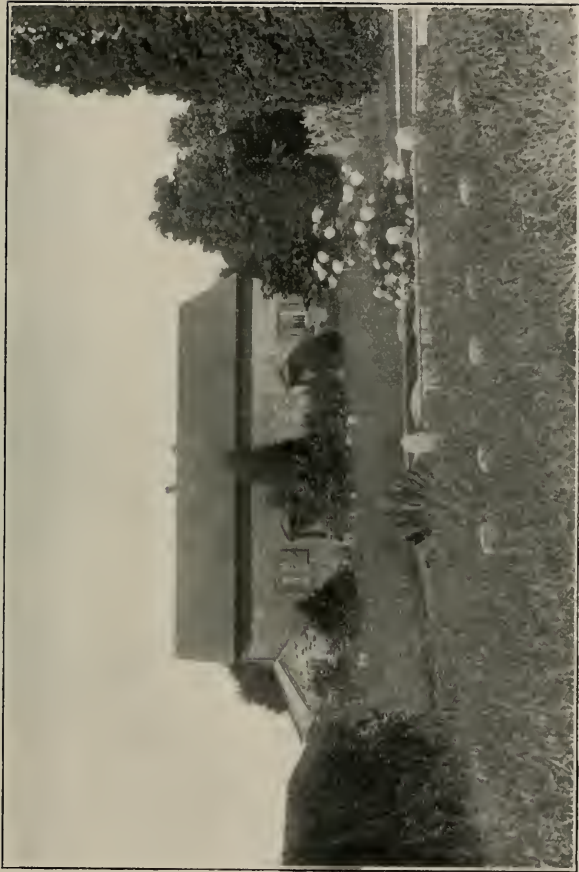

"Item, I allow that at the end or expiration of two full years after the death of my wife and my son John coming into the possession of my Real Estate that he shall pay to each of my daughters (or to their heirs in case of mortality) (viz.) Catherine Skears, Eals Buffington, Marjery Kerlin, Ann Trimble and Mary Trimble the sum ten pounds Pennsylvania money which I allow as their parts of my Real Estate. I allow my dearly beloved wife Mary Palmer and my well Beloved Son Jno. Palmer to be Executors of this my last Will and Testament. The remains of an old graveyard which still exists on their tract, and which the accompanying sketch illustrates, mark the spot of their interment. It bears strongly the marks of neglect, and, save a couple of headstones, which serve to call to mind its ancient dedication, has naught to guide the modern investigator. This state of things the compiler of this works hopes at no distant day to change, and to have a suitable enclosure and memorial-stone erected, to be an anchor of knowledge to the generations of children hence to occupy our places.

The position of John Palmer's land, as well as of nearly all of the original settlers in Concord and vicinity, can be plainly seen by reference to the accompanying map.

Their children were as follows, for detailed account of which see under next generation.

SECOND GENERATION

Ch. of John Palmer (No. 1) and Mary Southery.

II—2. JOHN PALMER 2 (John 1), b. about the year 1690, but the exact date does not appear. He was known by the appellation of John Palmer, Junior, and it is a traditional story that being an only son his parents were fearful that their name might become extinct, as was the fate of his mother's; but subsequent events no doubt relieved their minds on this score. He m. Martha Yearsley 4 mo. (June O. S.) 9, 1714, dau. of John and Elizabeth, who came from Middlewich, England, A. D. 1700, and settled in Thornbury, Chester Co., Pa. (See map.) Martha was b. 4 mo. (June) 14, 1696, and hence crossed the ocean quite young with her parents. They brought a family of five children, to wit: a son John (who m. Sarah Conway in 1710) and four daughters: Elizabeth, who m. Moses Key 12 mo. 18, 1701; Martha as above; Ann who m. Jacob Vernon 5 mo. — 1701, and Hannah who m. Peter Hatton 1 mo. 13, 1717. The land on which they settled was part of a tract of 1350 acres surveyed to John Simcock in 1684; John Yearsley purchased 500 acres of this by deed of 4 mo. 10, 1701, and John Yearsley, Jr., obtained 254 acres 1 mo., 27, 1710, probably in the settlement of his father's estate. Portions of this land have remained in the family name until the present time (1900).

The proceedings in relation to the marriage of John Palmer, Jr., and Martha Yearsley are set forth in the following extracts from the records of Concord Monthly Meeting of Friends:

"Therefore this meeting leaves them to proceed according to the good order of Truth. Edward Bennet & William Brainton are appointed to attend the marriage and make report to the next meeting."

At the next monthly meeting held at Chichester Mtg. H. the 8th of 9th Mo. 1714

"Those Persons that were appointed to attend the marriage of John Palmer & Martha Yearsley make report that it was accomplished orderly at the meeting-house at Concord the 4th of 9th mo. 1714."

Their marriage certificate as recorded by "Friends" is here appended :

They remained in good standing in the Society all their lives, and their names frequently occur in the business of the Meeting, especially as witnesses to numerous marriages.

John followed the occupation of farming, at first on the farm bequeathed by his father, and subsequently on land purchased by him in the western part of Concord. (See map.) This tract of land, containing one hundred and seventy-five acres, he purchased of Henry Peirce and Sarah his wife by deed bearing date the 9th day of the 9th month, A. D. 1712, it being part of a tract of 500 acres surveyed to John Hazelgrove 8 mo. 5, 1683, from him it passed to Jeremiah Collet, Jr., by deed of May 30-31, 1701; from him to Thomas and William Woodward, May 13, 1703; from them to Jasper Yeates May 5, 1709, and from him to Henry Pearce, Jan. 10, 1710.—See Smith's Map of Early Grants, etc.

They probably did not remove to this situation until after the marriage of their son Moses; as we find that in 1748 they gave the home-place to their son Moses by deed of gift, stating the act to be from "the natural love and Affection they bear to him, as well as for his better preferment in the world." A view of the old house and surrounding land is given.

John appears to have taken an interest in the affairs going on around him, and was one amongst others to be early concerned in schools.

By his will, which is here annexed, it is apparent that of ten children which were born to him, only four were living when he made it, and that he either had given his two daughters a share of his estate in his lifetime, as he had his son Moses, or thought that they did not need much.

Copy of John Palmer's Will, proved May 16th, 1771.

JOHN PALMER. (SEAL).

Signed Sealed Published and Declared by the said John Palmer to be his last will and Testament in the Presents of John Wilson William Walter Jo Hannum.

He died 5 mo., 1771, and was buried 5 mo. 3, 1771. B. Hawley in diary, near the graves of his parents. A stone at the head of his grave bears the inscription, "I. P. 1771." Martha survived him a few years. Her most familiar name was "Patty Palmer." Rachel Arment, who died in 1855 in her 95th year, remembered her quite well, and said she would often walk from one son's to the other's, a distance of two miles, when a very old woman. The time of her death is not recorded, but it probably happened before 1780.

Their children were as follows, for further account see next generation:

8. Mary, b. 6th mo. 21, 1715; d. young.
9. John, b. 8 mo. 20, 1717; d. young.
10. Isaac, b. 9 mo. 13, 1719; d. young.
11. Moses, b. 5 mo. 26, 1721; d. 6 mo. 20, 1733.
12. Elizabeth, b. 3 mo. 24, 1724; d.
13. Rebecca, b. 8 mo. 1, 1726; d. young.
14. Martha, b. 3 mo. 11, 1729; d.
15. Susannah, b. 10 mo. 24, 1731; d. in infancy.
16. Susanna (2nd), b. 12 mo. 14, 1732; d. young.
17. John (2nd), b. 8 mo. 1, 1736; d. 4 mo., 1793.

II—3. CATHERINE PALMER 2 (John 1), the oldest dau; the records concerning her are very meagre. She. m. —Skears, but of her descendants I have been able to get barely a trace. The names of Hebart Sker and Rebecca Sker appear as witnesses to the marriage of William Trimble and Ann Palmer, and the names of Albertos Scare and Margaret Scare as witnesses to the marriage of James Trimble and Mary Palmer. It is reasonable to infer that at least Hebart and Albertos were her sons, and that Rebecca and Margaret were either daughters or daughters-in-law. This ends my research concerning her.

II—4. EALS (Alice) PALMER 2 (John 1), b. probably previous to 1700, but no record of her birth or death has been discovered. She m. Richard Buffington about 1720 as his third wife, whom she survived.

In 1679 RICHARD BOVEINGTON and John Grubb purchased a large tract of land on the southwest side of Upland creek, of John Test, who had obtained it from Albert Hendrix, which is noted in the court records of November 25, 1679.

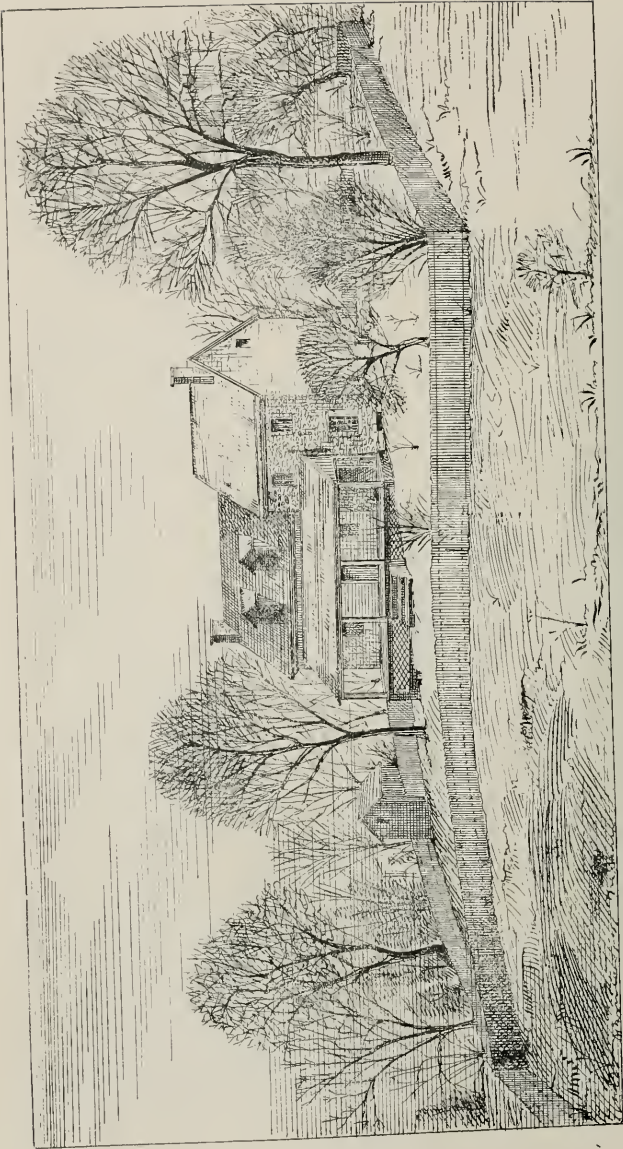

William Penn obtained a charter for the Province of Pennsylvania on the 4th of March 1680 (1681 N. S.) and on Sept. 13, 1681, the first court was held under the new dispensation. At that time RICHARD BUFFINGTON appeared as a witness in one case, as a plaintiff in another and as a defendant in a third. He was a member of the Grand Jury, June 27th, 1683. At a court held the 6th of 11th month, 1684, RICHARD BUFFINGTON is ordered to receive the levies raised for the court house and prison in the Township of Chester. He appears to have changed his residence as at a

* NOTE—From "Some Annals of the Buffington Family," by Gilbert Cope, the following extracts are taken: "There are few English families in Pennsylvania which can claim an earlier arrival than the Buffingtons, whose ancestors were settled here before the name of Pennsylvania was given to the province. In 1675 an English colony was established at Salem, New Jersey, and another at Burlington, in 1677, both being composed of Friends or Quakers. A few who came over under these auspices, removed to the western shore of the Delaware river where courts had been established by the Dutch and continued by the English. In order to raise money for the expenses of government, in 1677 a tax was levied on all the "Tzdables" or taxables, of whom the list numbered 136, including ten from the Jersey side of the river. Among these of English stock there were at Upland (now Chester), Robert Wade, "Richard Bobbington," James Sandelands, John Test, Richard Noble, Henry Hastings, William Woodmancy and John Hayles (or Bayles-Beals.)" court held 6th of 1st month 1687-8 he was appointed "Constable" for Chichester and it appears that a survey of 400 acres was made 7th month, 14th, 1682 for Henry Hastings and Richard Buffington in Chichester township. He appears to have resided here for several years. When by a deed of April 6, 1696, Richard Buffington and William Vestal purchased from the executors of John Loftus a tract of 218 acres on the Brandywine near its forks and by another deed of 6th month 2d, 1701, they purchased 218 acres more, the rest of the Loftus tract, and made division by Vestal taking the latter purchase, Richard Buffington had settled on his part prior to the last date and was probably the first settler in what is now East Bradford township, though it was considered a part of Westown township until 1705, when Bradford was first organized. He was appointed constable for Westown for 1701, 1702 and 1703, and was also supervisor of highways at the same time. In 1708 he purchased 210 acres from Thomas Martin, of Middletown, to the northward of his previous purchase, and after selling 100 acres to Nathaniel Ring, divided in 1721 a portion to each of his sons, Thomas and William, with a frontage to each on the stream. About this time he seated himself upon an unoccupied tract of over 200 acres immediately in the forks of Brandywine, upon which he erected buildings, probably under a lease or agreement with the owner. After his death his son Joseph purchased the land from Isaac Norris, Esq., of Fairhill, Philadelphia, son of Isaac Norris, who had in 1718 purchased it of Jacob Taylor, to whom it had been originally surveyed. It was here that he gathered around him his numerous posterity on an occasion thus referred to in the Pennsylvania Gazette of June 28 to July 5, 1739, and also noted in Watson's Annals of Philadelphia, to wit: "On the 30th of May past, the children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren of Ricahrd Buffington, Senior, to the number of one hundred and fifteen, met together at his house in Chester county, as also his nine sons and daughters-in-law and twelve great-grandchildren in law. The old man is from Great Marle upon the Thames, in Buckinghamshire in Old England; aged about 85 years and is still hearty, active and of perfect memory." In religion, if ever a Friend, he afterwards became a Baptist and was present at the first Baptist organization in these parts in 1715, and to this Sociey he bequeathed £20, as also £5 to its minister, Owen Thomas. However, some of his children and many of his posterity have been Friends or Quakers. He died in January 1747-8, when he must have been in his 94th year.

Whether he was married before his arrival in this country is not known. The name of his first wife, Ann or Anne, is mentioned from 1689 to 1697-8. In 1710 and 1712 a wife Frances joins him in conveyances and circumstances indicate that she was the widow of John Grubb, who died in Chichester in 1708. His last wife was Alice Palmer, No. 4, of this work. She must have been much younger than he, and their marriage occurred about 1720. By his first wife there were ten children, none known by the second wife and three by his third wife. Of the latter, see next generation page . Of the first the following account is of interest because of their very numerous descendants.

1.—Richard Buffington, b. about 1679; d. 1741; m. Phebe Grubb, dau. of John and Frances Grubb. They settled near Marshalton, Chester county, and were the parents of twelve children. They were members of Bradford

Friends' Meeting, in which she was a minister. She m. a 2nd husband, Simon Hadly, of Mill Creek, Delaware, whom she also survived. She d. 3 mo. 4, 1769. Richard and she were buried at Bradford Mtg.

2.—Ann Buffington, _____, d. before her husband; m. Benjamin Hickman, _____, 1701, son of Francis and Elizabeth (immigrants); he d. 10 mo. 7, 1742. They settled on his farm in Westtown and three of their seven children were born in a cave in which at first they lived. The children were Mary, Elizabeth, John, Francis, Benjamin, Ann and Hannah; whose descendants are very numerous of the name Hickman, Cheyney, Hunt and James and others.

3. Thomas Buffington, b. _____; d. 10 mo., 1739; m. Ruth Cope before 1710. She d. about 1728, dau. of Oliver and Rebecca Cope, the immigrants. He m. a 2d wife, Ann _____, who survived him. He left nine children, to wit: Richard, William, Rebecca (Atherton), Ruth (Ferree), Betty, Susanna, Rachel (James), Anne (Morgan) and Thomas, but it is not known as to their respective mothers.

4. Ruth Buffington, _____; m. Ezekiel Harlan, _____, 1705-6, of Kennett. They had six children, to wit: Ezekiel, Elizabeth, Mary, Joseph, Ruth and Benjamin, from whom are descended numerous Harlans, Whites and Leonards.

5. William Buffington, _____
He was a tailor by trade. There is no record of his being married except that there were persons of the name supposed to have been his descendants.

6. John Buffington, _____; d. _____, 1736; m. Sarah Eavenson. They settled in West Bradford, where he died, leaving four children.

7. Hannah Buffington _____
m. Jeremiah Dean, 1720, of West Bradford, who is thought to have been an immigrant from London. They had children, James, Nehemiah, John and Mary.

8. Mary Buffington _____ m. William Baldwin, of Chester township, who d. 1722; m. 2d Charles Turner, of Birmingham.

9. Elizabeth Buffington, _____ m. Peter Collins, of East Bradford. He d. about 1733; m. 2d John Freeman, 11 mo. 1734-5, an Englishman, and widower of West Bradford. There is no record of any issue.

10. Lydia Buffington _____ m. George Martin, _____ son of Thomas Martin and Margery (Mendenhall), who were immigrants. George and Lydia resided in West Bradford and had children Joseph, John, James, Rachel, Lydia, Mary, Elizabeth and Ann. He m. a 2nd wife, Mary Nichols, 1757.

The remaining three children of RICHARD BUFFINGTON being the issue by his wife, ALICE PALMER, will be given a more extended account in regular order in the next (third) generation.

Their names were:

18. Abigail, b. about 7 mo., 1721; d. bur. 5 mo. 1, 1813.

19. Joseph, b. about 1723; d. 11 mo. 1, 1785.

20. Alice, b. _____; d. 7 mo. 19, 1775.

II.—5. MARJERY PALMER 2 (John 1), b. as nearly as can be determined about 1702. Her parents having left Friends' Meeting, she consequently was not a member, but at a monthly meeting of women Friends, held at Chichester Meeting-house "ye 1st of ye 3 mo., 1724, John Gore & Marjery Palmer declared their intention of Marriage ye first time, she producing a paper from her father signifying his and his wife's being willing she should proceed in marrying amongst Friends, she also Desiring to come under Friends' care. Hannah Oburn and Elizabeth Walter are to inquire &c."

Women Friends reported favorably and the marriage proceeded, but men Friends appear to have been a little negligent, as "Those friends that were appointed to attend the marriage of John Gore and Marjery Palmer report through some occasion they were neither of them there, the which shortness is acknowledged, notwithstanding this meeting has received information that ye said marriage was accomplished orderly the 17th day of ye 4th mo. 1724."

John lived but a short time after their marriage, and no records are to be found of any children.

The next account of Marjery is, "At our Monthly Meeting of Women Friends held at Concord Meeting house 1st mo. 7, 1735.

"Marjery Gore being a member for sometime of this meeting, but of late hath Entertained a man in her house and saith she is married to him by a Priest but Refuseth to tell ye time, and friends being with her but not Receiving Satisfaction Edith Newlin & Grace Eavenson are appointed with a man friend to give her another visit and if they find occasion, to draw a Testimony against her and Produce it to ye next meeting."

This was done, but not immediately carried into effect, for "At our Monthly Meeting of Women Friends held at Concord Meeting House ye 1st of ye 10th mo. 1735,

"Marjery Gore or Carlin sent a paper which was no way satisfaction wherefore Mary West & Grace Eavenson are appointed with a man friend to draw up a Testimony against her and make report to ye next meeting."

After a lapse of six years it appears—

"At our Monthly Meeting of Women Friends held in Concord meeting house ye 4th of ye 11th mo. 1741, Marjery Carrel Produced a paper of acknowledgment for her outgoing, which this meeting accepts."

Her husband's first name was Daniel, as "Daniel Carroll & ux Margery relict and admr of John Gore," exhibit accounts of administration, 1736-7. He made his mark, and she signed Margery Carrell. The last of her whereabouts is thus determined:

"At our Monthly Meeting of Women Friends held in Concord meeting house ye 1st of ye 12mo. 1741-2 Marjery Carrel Desires a few lines by way of certificate in order to be joynd to a monthly meeting in the Jerseys, Mary Newlin and Rachel Pyle are appointed to enquire into her conversation & make report to the man friend appointed to draw the said certificate."

In the men's meeting of the same date Moses Key is appointed to assist the women friends with the certificate; but her name on their records is spelled "Carlin," and at the meeting held 1st of 1st month 1742, the certificate for Margery Carlin is approved. This is the last information concerning her that has been found.

The remaining two daughters of John and Mary Palmer—viz., Ann (No. 6) and Mary (No. 7)—having married brothers—to wit, William and James Trimble—it appears advisable to carry out the record of their descendants in a consolidated form; hence they will be found in the Trimble Division.

THIRD GENERATION

LINE OF JOHN, JOHN.

Ch. of John Palmer (No. 2) and Martha Ycarsley, all born in Concord, Chester (now Delaware) co., Pa.

III.—8. MARY PALMER, b. 6 mo. 21, 1715; d. young.

III.—9. JOHN PALMER, b. 8 mo. 20, 1717; d. young.

III.—10. ISAAC PALMER, b. 9 mo. 13, 1719; d. young.

III.—11. MOSES PALMER 3 (John 2, John 1), b. 5 mo. 26, 1721; d. 6 mo. 20, 1783; m. ABIGAIL NEWLIN *2 mo. (April) 17, 1745, in Friends' M.-H. at Concord. She lived but a few years after their marriage, leaving one child, but no record of her birth or death has been found. She was the 5th of seven children of John Newlin and Mary Woodward, of Middletown (who were m. in 1711.) John Newlin, b. 12 mo. 28, 1690; d. 1753; was also the 5th of seven children of Nathaniel Newlin and Mary Mendenhall (who were m. 2-17-1685).

His wife, Mary Woodward Newlin, was the dau. of Richard and Jane Woodward. She survived him and d. 11-24-1790, aged 101 years. It is a tradition in relation to her that she went out and reaped a sheaf of wheat the day she was one hundred years old.

Nathaniel Newlin, the father of John, b. 10-18-1665; d. 3 mo. 1729, emigrated with his parents, Nicholas and Elizabeth Newlin, in 1683, and also a brother and sister, John and Rachel. They came from Mt. Melick, County of Tyrone, Ireland. They settled in Concord township, now Delaware co., Pa., where the father took up 500 acres of land, which was surveyed 7-24-1683 and for which he obtained a patent 3-1-1685. It was resurveyed 2-2-1703 as 552 acres, to his son Nathaniel Newlin. The mill thereon erected has on a stone built in the wall the inscription

"Nathan'l and Mary Newlin, 1704."

Some years afterwards William Trimble purchased land adjoining this tract on the south. See Trimble Division, and see also Smith's Map of the Early Grants and Patents in Delaware Co., Pa. Nathaniel Newlin continued to reside on this plantation and was a prominent man both in the Society of Friends and in the community. He was for several years a member of Provincial Assembly, a commissioner of property, a Justice of the county courts and a Trustee of the Loan Office of the Province. In 1724 he purchased a tract of 7,000 acres on the Brandywine to which was given the name of Newlin township. He m. a 2d wife, Mary Fincher, 2-17-1729, but only lived about a month thereafter.

Of the immigrant Nicholas Newlin, we find that his certificate from Friends in Ireland dated 12 mo. 25, 1682, expresses dissatisfaction with his removal for which he had given no satisfactory reason, "but our Godly jealousy is that his chief ground is fearfulness of sufferings here for the testimony of Jesus, or coveting worldly liberty." He was described as a gentleman in easy circumstances. He was appointed in 1685 to a seat in the Provincial Council and was also a Justice of the courts of Chester county. His conduct here showed him to be firm in the performances of duty under all circumstances.

MOSES PALMER m. second wife, ABIGAIL SHARPLESS, 11 mo. 22, 1752, widow of William Sharpless, and mother by him of two children, of which one, Abraham, grew up and became an extensive landholder in Aston and Concord. He died in 1835. See Sharpless record.

In the proceedings relating to their marriage occurs the following: "At a monthly meeting 9 of 10 mo. 1752 Moses Palmer and Abigail Sharpless appeared and proposed their intentions of marriage. Caleb Peirce and William Peters are to inquire as to his clearness relating to marriage and likewise to see that the widow's affairs are settled to satisfaction." Everything being satisfactory, they were allowed to proceed.

At a monthly meeting 4 of 12 mo. 1752: "The friends appointed to attend the marriage of Moses Palmer and Abigail Sharpless report that for reason satisfactory to this meeting they could not attend but have made enquiry and find it was orderly accomplished in Concord meeting house and moderate at the house of entertainment."

Abigail's maiden name was Sharp, dau. of Joseph Sharp and Mary Pyle, of Chester co., b. 2 mo. 28, 1729; d. 2 mo. 14, 1805, surviving her husband over twenty years.

Joseph Sharp was an emigrant from Ireland. He settled in London-grove, Chester county, Pa., where he d. in 1746. He m. Mary Pyle, 9 mo. 4, 1713, at Concord Mtg., who was b. 6 mo. 23, 1689, dau. of Nicholas Pyle and Abigail Bushell, Nicholas being an emigrant with his brothers, Robert and Ralph Pyle from the County of Wilts, England.

In early life Moses Palmer appears to have been instructed in the mystery of cordwaining, but soon left it for the more congenial occupation of farming. He continued on the land obtained of his father in 1748 for many years; he also purchased the adjoining tract on the south, to which he removed a few years before his death. He had acquired quite a considerable estate, which may be observed from the following extract from his will. From this instrument, dated 6 mo. 10, 1783, and proven August 27, 1783, the following is taken:—

"Itam I give my beloved wife Abigail Palmer all my Parsonell Estate (except here after excepted) of what kind soever and wharesoever to be found She palng all my just debts, and Twenty-five Pounds to my Daughter Martha the wife of Joseph Chamberlin, which bequeath Sall be in Lew of Dowr. His children were, by first wife, Abigail Newlin:—

—by second wife Abigail (Sharp) Sharpless—

III—12. ELIZABETH PALMER 3 (John 2, John 1), b. 3 mo. (May) 24, 1724; d. ? ; m. NATHANIEL EAVENSON*, 3 mo. (May) 20, 1746, at Christ church, Philadelphia, b. 1 mo. (Mar.) 28, 1720; d. 1766, son of Richard Eavenson and Jemima Newlin (who were m. 10 mo. 4, 1712) Richard Eavenson, a son of Thomas Eavenson of Thornbury—the immigrant who purchased 120 acres of land Mar. 6, 1687, of John Simcock—by his first wife, HANNAH WOODWARD. He d. Nov. 1726.

The following account of their marriage is taken from the records of Concord Monthly meeting: At a monthly meeting held at Concord 5 of 11 mo., 1746. "Complaint is made against Nathaniel Eavenson for being married

* NOTE—Eavenson—from son of Eaven. From History of Names of Men, Nations and Places, by Rev. L. H. Mordacque, M. A., we find "In Languages of Teutonic origin when descent is implied merely the word son is placed after the father's name." Such being the origin of nearly all surnames ending with the suffix, son.

by a Priest. Caleb Peirce and Thomas Mercer are to pay him a visit and report how they find him." In women's meeting, same date. "Complaint is made against Elizabeth Palmer that was, now Eavenson, for accomplishing her marriage by a Priest. Lydia Mendenhall and Mary Pierce are to visit her and make report." At the next meeting, "2d of 12 mo., 1746, Nathaniel Eavenson appeared here with an acknowledgment which is accepted and ordered to be read at the breaking up of a first-day meeting at Concord." In the women's meeting "Elizabeth Eavenson's paper of acknowledgment joynt with her husband offered to this meeting, which is excepted (accepted) and left to men Friends for Publication."

The descendants of Nathaniel and Elizabeth Eavenson being all through their daughters, it was with considerable difficulty that those given herein were ascertained.

Nathaniel became the owner of a large tract of land in Thornbury and Westown townships, Chester co., Pa., his deed calling for four hundred and fifty acres, but which probably overran five hundred acres. He and Elizabeth resided thereon until his death. He made no will, and some time after his death his daughters proceeded to have the land divided among themselves, agreeably to the "advice of twelve of their friends." There were five of them at his death, but one appears to have died before the division, as only four of them are mentioned in the writings. The deeds are dated 3 mo. 14, 1783, and set forth their object of giving to each sister a clear title to her share of the property.

Before this time, Elizabeth, m. her second husband, William Hawley, both of whom agreed to the above settlement of the property. She was his second wife. (His first having been Hannah Taylor.) The m. took place 10 mo. 12, 1769, for which she was dealt with by Concord Meeting for being m. by a Justice. She, however, made an acknowledgment 5 mo. 7, 1774, which was accepted, and died in membership with Friends. They were probably buried at Birmingham. No issue by their marriage. William Hawley, a son of Benjamin and Dinah, the immigrants, b. 9 mo. (Nov.) 28, 1737; d. 6 mo. 2, 1826.

Her children by first husband, Nathaniel Eavenson, were:—

29. Martha, b. circa, 1747; d. before 3 mo. 14, 1783.
30. Hannah, b. circa, 1750; d.
31. Rebecca, b. 2 mo. 1, 1754; d. 9 mo. 23, 1829.
32. Jermina, b. circa, 1756; d. circa, 1805.
33. Elizabeth, b. 8 mo. 15, 1759; d. 8 mo. 10, 1838.
34. Richard, b. d. 1 mo. 11, 1771.

III—13. REBECCA PALMER, b. 8 mo. 1, 1726; d. young or unm.

III—14. MARTHA PALMER 3, (John 2, John 1), b. 3 mo. 11, 1729; d. (no record); m. WILLIAM CHAMBERLIN 9 mo. 16, 1748, in Concord M.-H., son of John Chamberlin and Lettice Key, b. 11 mo. 24, 1724; d. (no record), probably 1808 to 1810.

John was the son of Robert and Mary, b. 10 mo. 1, 1692. The latter emigrated from England, and no doubt were "Friends." They purchased land in the northern part of Aston, near where is now Stony Bank Methodist meeting-house, and also in Concord adjoining it, and appear to have erected their dwelling-house in the latter twp.*

The Concord tract of 100 acres was purchased 9 mo. 27, 1686, being part of Thomas King's land patented 5 mo. 22, 1684. Robert obtained a subsequent patent for 251 acres in Concord and Aston, April 10, 1706. The Aston tract appears to have been occupied previous to him by Charles Brooke and Andrew Job, it being part of a tract of 1,000 acres surveyed to Thomas Brassey in 1684. John Chamberlin and Lettice Key were m. 10 m. (Dec. O. S.) 21, 1721, in Concord Mtg.

Lettice Key was the dau. of Moses Key and Elizabeth Yearsley (see No. 2), b. 11 mo. 26, 1703. Martha's mother being a sister to William's grandmother, it will be seen that they were what is known as first cousins once removed.

This was noticed by Concord Monthly Meeting, held the 3 of 8 mo., 1748, as follows, when they proposed their intentions of taking each other in marriage: "William Peters and Joseph Gilpin are to enquire into his clearness Relating to marriage as well as how he stands related in Consanguinity to her ye s'd Martha & report to next meeting." At the next meeting, the 7 of 9 mo., 1748, it may be supposed that some discussion took place in respect to their relationship, for "their s'd intention was allowed of by Permission they having consent of Parents and Relatives concerned."

It seems probable that William and Martha continued to reside within the limits of Concord Meeting, but the place of their residence has not come to my knowledge, though he no doubt had a share of his father's property. They were buried at Concord.

Their children were:—

mo. 10, 1732). The time of Hannah's birth is not known, but it was near that of John's. She d. 12 mo. 20, 1802. Both were buried at Concord Mtg.

Joseph Pyle, b. 11 mo. 5, 1692; d. 1754, was a son of Robert Pyle and Ann Stovey, emigrants from Bishop's Canning, Wiltshire, England, m. there 9 mo. 16, 1681. Ann was the dau. of William Stovey of Hilperton. Sarah Gibbons appears to have been the widow of John Gibbons, Jr.; her maiden name was Pennell. Robert Pyle was one of "three brothers," the others being Nicholas and Ralph, all immigrants. They all became prominent citizens in their new country. Robert obtained a tract of 150 acres of land in Bethel May 1-2, 1683, upon which he resided until his death about 1730. Religious meetings were frequently held at his house and no other member was more active in church affairs..

John and Hannah Palmer resided on his father's farm in the western part of Concord, working in conjunction with his father while he lived, and after the latter's death he inherited it by his father's will. By tradition he is represented as fond of outdoor recreations and an enthusiastic disciple of Isack Walton. In 1869, when I was making inquiries which led on to this work, I visited Thomas Dutton, a venerable centenarian of his neighborhood and in answer to the question whether he knew John Palmer (referring to this man), his immediate and animated reply was, "Yes, indeed; I went fishing with him many a time." John is said to have attained to the great weight of four hundred pounds, and is historically known as "fat John Palmer." It is probable that his disposition to obesity tended to shorten his life. Aaron Beale, a life long resident, of Concord, who was b. 3-1-1786, and d. 12-3-1878, at the advanced age of 92 years, has related to the author that he remembered this John Palmer, that when a boy he had been to see him in company with his father and that he was the fattest man he ever saw. He made no will and letters of administration were taken out on his estate 5 mo. 4, 1793. His farm eventually becoming the property of his sons Asher and Joseph.

Their children were (but the order here given is not certain):—

43. Asher, b. 1759; d. 5 mo. 20, 1817.
44. Hannah, b. d. 2 mo. 25, 1803.
45. John, d. 1 mo. —, 1803.
46. Joseph, b. 11 mo. 13, 1761; d. 7 mo. 13, 1840.
47. Benjamin, b. 1764; d. 5 mo. 17, 1839.
48. George, b. 1770; d. 9 mo. 21, 1839.
49. Elizabeth, b. d. 9 mo. 24, 1823.
50. Martha, b. 1775, d.
51. Amy, b. 1 mo. 14, 1778; d. 4 mo. 9, 1845.
52. Abigail, b. 1780; d. 6 mo. 20, 1826.
53. Isaac, b. 1782; d. 12 mo. 12, 1802.

There were some traditions of more children in this family but the above are the only names of record.

He purchased by deed of March 23, 1748, of Isaac Norris, the homestead of over 200 acres for £100, which evidently did not include the value of the improvements made by his father. Here he lived at the time of the Battle of Brandywine, which was near the ford on the east branch of that stream long known as Buffington's ford. He is described as being of a benevolent nature and often concurred to administer to the wants of the needy in his neighborhood. By his will he devised his estate to his sister, Abigail Fling, and to her children and to the children of his deceased sister, Alice Hance.

FOURTH GENERATION

LINE OF JOHN, JOHN, MOSES.

Ch. of Moses Palmer (No. 11) and Abigail Newlin, born in Concord twp., Pa.

IV—21. JOHN PALMER (Moses 3, John 2, John 1), b. 11 mo. 4, 1745; d. 9 mo. 18, 1801; m. HANNAH MARTIN 4 mo. 26, 1769, in Concord Meeting-house, dau of Abraham Martin and Lydia (Weldon) Hewes, b. 2 mo. 18, 1753; d. 4 mo. 11, 1842, and sister to Benjamin (see No. 44.) They were considered a "sprightly young couple." And the evidence indicated that their wedding was of a lively character as the Friends—William Peters and John Brinton—who were appointed to attend the marriage reported "that it was orderly accomplished and a good degree of moderation at the house of entertainment and where the youth appeared otherwise advice was administered." However, they soon settled down to the active duties of life, and were much esteemed in their neighborhood.

John erected buildings on the eastern part of the original Palmer tract, which his father afterward gave him by will, and in connection with farming carried on the business of saddlery. His death appears to have been rather sudden, as he made his will 9 mo. 17, 1801, the day previous to his death. His widow survived him over forty years, continuing at the same place with her son John, who obtained the farm by his father's will. Both were buried at Concord Friends' Grounds. By this will it appears:—

I do give and bequeath unto my beloved wife Hannah Palmer my sorrel mare, her choice of a cow, with their keep, various articles of furniture, what pewter we have, the use of the west end of the house to be fixed up and kept in repair to make it a comfortable dwelling by my son John, who shall pay her 12 pounds per year and furnish her with firewood, privilege of garden, water out of well, use of oven &c. which are to be taken and held in lieu of dower. His eight children other than John to have £25 each at the death of his wife. His son John to have all the rest of his estate, both real and personal, after paying the above legacies.

Their children were:—

72. Benjamin, b. 2 mo. 26, 1770; J. 10 mo. 2, 1824.

Ch. of Moses Palmer (No. 11) and 2d wife, Abigail Sharpless, nee Sharp, all born in Concord Twp., Pa.

IV—22. MARTHA PALMER (Moses, John, John), b. 9 mo. 7, 1753;

Joseph was by trade a blacksmith and after residing near the place of his nativity several years, removed with his family to Newark, Del. He and Martha took a certificate from Concord Monthly Mtg. 5 mo. 4, 1785, to Wilmington, Del., for themselves and three children, Margaret, Abraham and Robert. After which the meeting records seem to have no further notice of them. His death, it is said, occurred in the following manner: He was working in the garden, and being taken suddenly ill went into the house to procure some medicine; in a mistake he partook of something poisonous, which caused his death in a short time.

Their children were:—

- 82. Moses, b. 6-20-1773; d. young.

Robert Chamberlain, 3d, a son of Robert Chamberlain, Jr., and his second wife, Cecily Hall, and Robert, Jr., a son of Robert Chamberlain and his wife, Mary, whose maiden name has not been ascertained. This Robert came from Wiltshire, England, about 1685, with his mother, then married to her second husband, Francis Hickman. He became an extensive land owner. He died in 1732. His children were: Susanna, b. 7-13-1691; John, b. 10-1-1692; d. 1731; Robert, Jr., b. 8-17-1694; d. 1731-32; Mary, b. 10-21-1698; d. 9-10-1726; Joseph, b. 2-30-1702; d. 5-30-1772.

Ann Painter, a dau. of Samuel Painter, Jr., and Elizabeth Buxey, who were m. 4 mo. 17, 1716, in Concord Mtg., both of the latter probably being emigrants with their fathers from England. The elder Samuel Painter was an early settler in Birmingham Twp. and his descendants are numerous. He and his son, Samuel, Jr., had been in Philadelphia for a few years previous to settling in the country about 1711.

IV—23. MOSES PALMER (Moses, John, John), b. 4 mo. 12, 1757; d. 8 mo. 20, 1840; m. SARAH PHILLIPS 5 mo. 1, 1782, at Hockessin, Del., dau. of William and Mary, of Mill Creek Hundred, Del. She d. 5 mo. 27, 1789, in her twenty-ninth year.

* "lain." This spelling was adopted early by many of the family and was probably the original form, though some branches continue the form lin as may be noted in this work.

† Pennell—This name appears to have been derived from Pennal, a parish in Merionethshire, Wales.

M. third wife, HANNAH GILPIN, * 10 mo. 10, 1804, in Concord Meeting-house, dau. of Gideon Gilpin and Sarah Gregg, of Birmingham, b. 3 mo. 20, 1770; d. 11 mo. 25, 1858.

Moses and Sarah settled at the old Palmer homestead, where he continued all his life. He carried on the hatting business, and was also extensively engaged in farming, becoming, as he advanced in years, possessed of extensive land possessions. He was a man of sterling integrity, and occupied a prominent position in the Society of Friends. He represented the county in the State Legislature for four years, from 1798 to 1802, and at home was much engaged in the enterprises of the neighborhood or settling difficulties. After his death Hannah removed to Cincinnati, O., and lived with her dau. Hannah P. Smith, the rest of her life. All except her were buried in Concord Friends' grounds.

By the will of Moses, dated the 10th day of 6th month, 1836, he gave his wife $2,000; also the use of one-half his house, a horse and cow with their keep, firewood, etc. Gave his sons, Gideon G. and Moses D., his real estate in equal shares; also his books in the same way states that his son, William P., has had his share of his estate; leaves his son, Pennell, $3,500; his daughter, Hannah P. Smith, $2,000; states she has had $1,000, and his daughter, Lydia, $3,000. His sons Gideon G. and Moses D. to be his executors. Will proven 9 mo. 7, 1840.

Ancestry of Hannah Pennell Palmer—Joseph Pennell, (b. 10th mo. 1, 1749; d. 6th mo. 27, 1829;) son of Robert Pennell and Hannah Chamberlin, (Joseph 2, Robert 1).

Robert Pennell, son of William Pennell and Mary Mercer (dau. of Thomas and Mary), William Pennell, son of Robert and Hannah, the immigrants, who settled in Middletown, Pa.. Sarah Meredith Pennell (b. 1747; d. 2-4-1830); was a dau. of Moses and Mary; Moses Meredith, a son of Meredith David, of Plymouth, Pa. (b. 3-6-1675) evidently of Welsh nationality.

The children of Moses Palmer by first wife, Sarah Phillips, all d. young.

They were:—

90. Deborah; 91, Mary, and 92, William.

By second wife, Hannah Pennell, he had

93. William P., b. 11 mo. 19, 1792; d. 12 mo. 27, 1869.

* Ancestry of Hannah Gilpin Palmer—Gideon Gilpin, (b. 8th mo. 4, 1738; d. 8th mo. 20, 1825) son of Joseph Gilpin, Jr., and Mary Caldwell (who were m. 10 mo. 17, 1729). The elder Joseph Gilpin; (son of Thomas and Joan of Warborough) was m. to Hannah Glover at Baghurst in Southamptonshire, England, 2 mo. 23, 1691; they emigrated to Birmingham, Chester (now Delaware) co., Pa., and lived for some time in a cave. "It is said that thirteen of fifteen children, with whom they were blessed, were born in this cave, and that their parents lived to see them all grown up, and all but two married, and married to their mind." (Smith's "Hist. Del. Co.")

Of Thomas Gilpin it is related that he was an officer of the English army, but joined the Society of Friends after the battle of Worcester, September 3, 1651. He was detained in Oxford seven weeks for refusing to take an oath. He was fined £20 for having a meeting held at his house May 29, 1670, and for having another June 26, the same year, his house was broken open by order of a Justice and all his household goods removed. In 1672 he was one of 15 persons liberated from Oxford jail by order of the King.

He was a descendant through a long line of ancestry from Richard De Guipyn, to whom in 1206, during the reign of King John, the baron of Kendal gave the Manor of Kentmere, for his achievement in slaying a wild boar, which infested the forests of Westmoreland and Cumberland. Though there is no document earlier than this account, the name is no doubt of Norman origin and came with or followed William the Conqueror in 1066. The prefix De denotes this, and Gilpin the name of a family estate in Normandy, from which surnames were largely taken. The Saxon influence in time causing the prefix—De—to be dropped.

Rees, a son of William Peters and Catherine, dau. of Robert Wilson.

Joseph by trade was a shoemaker; he sold the farm willed him by his father to his brother Moses, and purchased another on the southern edge of Concord, where, with his family, he continued to reside through life. Both were buried at Concord Friends' grounds. His will dated the 14th of 9th month, 1835, proven 9 mo. 6, 1838, states that his son Wilson has had his share of his estate; then leaves some household goods to his two daughters Peninah P. and Catharine S. To the Monthly Meeting of Friends at Concord:

Esteemed Friends,

Whereas I the subscriber having had my birth and education amongst friends, but through unwatchfulness gave way to my own natural inclination so as to accomplish my marriage by the assistance of a baptist teacher, to a man not in membership with Friends; for which misconduct I was justly testified against some years ago; but being now favoured with a sense of my transgression, can truly say, I am sincerely sorry therefor, and much desire to be reconciled to my friends; by the acceptance of this my acknowledgment as my future conduct may deserve. 9 mo. 5, 1804.

Dr. E. M. Pyle located at Richmond in 1832, where he continuously (with the exception of one year at Mt. Pleasant, Iowa) and successfully practiced his profession until the date of his death. He was a warm and intimate friend of the late lamented Edwin M. Stanton, and at the age of 60 years, through Mr. Stanton (who was then Secretary of War), he tendered his service as volunteer surgeon for the Union army. Mr. Stanton acknowledged this patriotic tender of his service in a letter in which he stated that his age would probably preclude his active services in the field, but that as soon as an opportune opening was presented in a local hospital he would be pleased to recognize his offer. He was a warm friend of the Union cause, and did everything in his power to strengthen the Union arms. He gave two sons to the Union army, Thomas H., of the 8th O. V. I., and Samuel M., of the 52nd O. V. I. (Dan McCook's regiment), whilst his eldest son, W. H. Pyle, M. D., of Kaufman, Texas, whose family and interests were identified with the South, joined the Confederate forces as Brigade Surgeon of Gen. Carter's Texas Cavalry Brigade. He finished his education at Westtown Friends' School, and after his m. kept a general store at Concordville until 1843. Then removed to his father's farm, of which he afterwards became possessed. He was the sixth Palmer in direct descent to own this tract. Upon the m. of his son, William T., he erected a new house on a portion of his land, in which they lived for several years. He, however, died whilst on a visit to his son, Dr. E. L. Palmer, at Doe Run, Chester Co., Pa. He was prominent in the affairs of the Society of Friends, of which he was for many years clerk of Concord Monthly Mtg., and afterwards an elder until his death. He had a remarkable knowledge of both religious and political matters and was very entertaining in his conversation. He had a very narrow escape from death from fever in 1824, which left his physical stature somewhat impaired, and again in his advanced age, as the following will show:

NARROW ESCAPE FROM DEATH—On Tuesday of last week, while William W. Palmer, of Concord, was in his woods, in company with his son, a shower arose, accompanied with thunder and lightning. To get out of the storm they both took shelter under different large white-oak trees, and while there the lightning struck the tree under which was the father, shattering the top limbs, passing down the trunk and tearing off the bark, until it reached Mr. P., when it glanced off, striking him near the hips, passing downward, burning the skin on parts of his legs and feet, and prostrating him on the ground. His son hastened to his relief, took off his own shoes, and carried water in them to pour on and revive his father. Assistance was soon obtained, and he was conveyed to his home and carried to bed, his nervous system being entirely prostrated. Mr. Palmer is sixty-nine years old, and by no means a strong man. Hopes are, however, entertained of his recovery.—Delaware County Republican of Aug. 22, 1873.

They resided at 1908-10 Market street, Wilmington, Del., where several of his family continue. The following notices are taken from the Wilmington, Del., newspapers at the time of his death:

"For many years John Palmer was one of the representative citizens of the Ninth Ward, and his death caused general regret. He made an exemplary record as a business man, and had a high regard for the welfare of the city, state and nation. He had served the people well as a member of the Board of Public Education, had identified himself prominently with the interests of the church of his choice and raised a large family, which brought him much comfort in his declining years. The city is much poorer by losing such a good citizen.

* * * * *

"Mr. Palmer was one of the oldest residents of the Ninth Ward and had the respect of all who knew him. He was born when the 9th Ward was known as Brandywine Village, then a separate town from Wilmington. In early life he began to learn the trade of a tinsmith, but he developed such ability as a bookkeeper that he was given that position by his employer. He was afterwards bookkeeper at Preece's and also at Lee's noted Brandywine flour mills. After this he entered the grocery business with his half-brother Adam Grubb. In 1868 the firm of Grubb & Palmer was dissolved and Mr. Palmer bought the store at 1908 Market St., where he continued in business the rest of his life, a period of thirty-three years. He was a member of the Mechanics Lodge, I. O. O. F. He had been a Sunday school teacher and vestryman in St. John's Episcopal Church and later a member of St. Andrew's Church, which he maintained until his death."

Note.—The following is from the West Chester Local News, of Feb. 4, 1907.

"JOHN HALL.

"This morning a quarter before five John Hall, who has been regarded as the oldest citizen of West Chester, passed away peacefully at his home on North Walnut street. He was the last remaining brother, and now there is but one remaining member of the generation, a sister, Mrs. Dickinson.

"When the news was passed about among the friends and relatives, much interest was shown, for the aged citizen had seemed to belong to the people at large, so wide was his reputation on account of his advanced years and the manner in which he retained his faculties long after the period when the average man gives up his hold on earthly affairs.

"The deceased was born August 17th, 1797, and consequently had he lived until the 17th of August next he would have been 100 years of age. This longevity is characteristic of the family. His brother, Thomas W. Hall, reached the remarkable age of 101 years, 1 month and 4 days. He died less than a year ago at the residence of his daughter, Martha B. Seltzer, in Caln township, this county. His surviving sister, Sarah, is the widow of Edward Heston Dickinson, and is now in her 95th year, and still in the enjoyment of good health. There was originally nine brothers and sisters—Edward, Malin, Thomas W., Isaac, John, Jane, William, Sarah and Ann. Edward, Jane and William all passed the age of four score.

Matthew Hall, who came to this country in 1701, was the founder of the Hall family in America. He was the great-grandfather of John Hall and his brothers and sisters. The parents of John Hall were Malin and Mary Heston Hall, of Philadelphia, and in that city their children were born and reared.

for it when he became free. His father owned two farms in what was then Blockley township, Philadelphia county. John took one of them and went into the milk business, which he followed for a number of years, selling milk in Philadelphia. The farm property located within what is now the solidly built up part of the city grew rapidly valuable, and Mr. Hall prospered in business. When he retired from farming he was able to do so with a competency. It is probably forty-five years since he quit farming and retired. About thirty years of that time he has spent in West Chester. He, as well as all the members of his family, belonged to the Society of Friends. He was a thoroughly conscientious man, upright in word and deed, and commanded the respect and esteem of all who knew him. He was firm in his convictions of right, and could vigorously maintain an argument in behalf of the cause he espoused. He was naturally of a benevolent character and took an interest in the young men. He was thoroughly posted concerning the affairs of the outside world, and took pleasure in marking the indications of its advancement, even though no longer himself active in its business schemes.

"He gave away many thousands of dollars in charities. He was largely instrumental in the building of the Friends' Boarding Home in West Chester, furnishing much of the money for its erection. He assisted greatly, too, in the education of the freedmen of the South. His brother was connected with the underground railroad, and in his younger days John Hall many times drove a wagon that conveyed fugitives from slavery on their way to freedom. It was largely his experiences in that connection that led him to contribute so liberally toward the education of the blacks in later years.

"John Hall was in politics a Whig and afterwards a Republican and voted for every nominee for President of those parties from 1818 to his death. When James Monroe was elected the second time, in 1820, John Hall voted for him and William McKinley received his vote in 1896. That is a long record of participation in public affairs, and very few others have equalled it. He lived during the administration of every President but Washington, having been born during the first year of John Adams' administration."

Through Rio, San Paulo, Parana, Bahia, Sergipe and part of Minas, he is the best known of American missionaries, and the undeniable evidences of his work are found over this vast area. He may be justly called the bulwark of churches and the founder of schools.

"Of great courage, matchless enthusiasm, and tireless energy, he traversed the dangerous regions of the interior on muleback, before the days of railways, and though repeatedly stoned, driven from the towns and threatened with death, he returned and delivered the message, won hearts, and churches grew up in his wake. A wise and sympathetic counselor to those in trouble, he was a high type of a true missionary. He carried into darkened lives the undying hope and the sure promise of the gospel of Christ. His body was buried in the English cemetery at Bahia, Brazil, according to his desire to be laid to rest in the land and among the people whom he loved."

Daniel, son of Thomas Nields and Hannah Graham.

Rees came to West Chester in 1849, and learned his trade of a plumber with John Lent, after which he engaged in business at Newport, Perry Co., Pa. But he returned to West Chester, in 1857, and in conjunction with his brother bought out John Lent. Then under the firm name of R. & E. Palmer conducted a stove, tinware, heating, plumbing and furnishing business which grew from a moderate start to an extensive establishment, occupying two large stores on Market St., opposite the court house. After thirty-one years of a successful career, in 1888 they dissolved their partnership, each taking one of the stores, doing this to avoid complications in the settlement of their respective estates. Rees had only the advantage of such education as afforded by the common country schools of his youth, but developed remarkable business qualities and in addition to this became a prominent citizen in matters of importance in local affairs of his town. He also built several houses and had his last residence at 32 S. High St. He and his family were members of the Methodist Church. Issue:—

R. Baker, son of John Smedley and Mary Baker. Susan, dau. of Samuel Woodward and Ann Swayne.

Eli learned the same trade as his brother, Rees, and with the same man, John Lent; he went into the grocery business for a short time, but in 1857 went into partnership with his brother in their chosen occupation, which continued for thirty-one years. He continued in business by himself for twelve years longer, when he sold out to his nephew in 1900.

The following account is taken from the "Local News" at the time of his death:—

"With the death of Eli Palmer, which we regret to announce, West Chester has lost one of her most respected and valued citizens. Mr. Palmer was in business here for nearly half a century, and was known the country over for his staunch integrity and his kindly, pleasant disposition.

"The deceased was educated in the public schools of his native place, and having at an early age to shift for himself, he formed a good acquaintance of men and of business methods which served him well in after life.

"During his long business career he was identified with nearly every enterprise for the betterment of West Chester. When he first came here to learn his trade, the town was little more than a village. He lived to see it have a population of 10,000. The methods of plumbing were crude, and the accommodations deemed necessary in a house fifty years ago were few compared with what they are to-day. He did not grow rich, notwithstanding he transacted a large business for many years. Competition was sharp and he sought to do his work honestly and well, which may account for his not accumulating a large fortune.

"He strove to do something to aid every good enterprise, even though it should not result in large monetary returns.

"Mr. Palmer was in his 67th year at the time of his decease, the last fifty years of which he spent in West Chester. He was a member of the M. E. Church, and was actively identified with all its interests. He was for many years the Superintendent of the Sunday School and was a member of the Official Board. He was a sincere Christian man and sought to live a life that was blameless. Those who knew him best respected him most. He seldom lost a friend when once an intimacy began, and he was constantly widening the circle of his acquaintance. He ever sought to influence the young for their good, and many a man can testify that Eli Palmer advised him wisely and well. He was careful in the instruction of his children and was spared to see them grow up to follow in the pathway of righteousness and good citizenship.

"He was a member of the Good Will Fire Company. He did not seek office, and did but little to force himself into public notice, but was very willing to help others. He was charitable and kind to every one. Altogether, his was a life well spent and he has passed to his reward with the benedictions of his fellow men freely bestowed upon his memory."

He was born and his first eight years were spent on the original Eavenson tract, in Thornbury, Chester Co., Pa. He was principally engaged in early life in farming, then in hotel keeping. In 1837, in company with his brother-in-law, Joseph D. Valentine, took a trip to Ohio looking for an advantageous opening, but returned and took the Farmers' Hotel, Market St., above Decatur St., Philadelphia, where he remained two years. He then returned to Chester county and engaged in hotel and store keeping and farming, finally buying a farm in West Caln Twp. He sold this and engaged in dealing as a drover in cattle, sheep and horses. In 1857 he came again to Philadelphia and in connection with his oldest son, Alben T. Eavenson, started in the manufacture of soap. They called their establishment on North Twentieth St. the "Quaker City Soap Works," which with the firm name of J. Eavenson and Sons, has become, with enlargements from time to time, widely known, its dealings extending to all parts of this nation and to many other lands. It has, of late, become an incorporated company, and in consequence of the works being in the line of the new Fairmount Boulevard they have been removed to Camden, N. J.

Resided in Upper Chichester, Delaware Co., Pa. He lost his life by a stroke of lightning. The following remarkable account thereof is taken from the "Delaware County Republican" of Aug. 9, 1850:

"On Saturday last, about four o'clock, a storm of wind and rain, accompanied by lightning, passed over this county, during which a dwelling-house near Village Green—where a number of persons were in attendance at a vendue—was struck by lightning. The electric fluid entered the peak of the roof, passing down between the weatherboarding and plastering, scattering them in every direction until it reached the first story, where it divided, one portion passing in at a hook driven in the wall and from which a looking-glass was suspended, and striking Nathan P. Dutton, who was standing immediately under the glass, upon the top of the head, leaving but a slight mark. The fluid passed to his left arm above the elbow, thence down his body, burning the skin in its passage. He lived about five minutes, and was sensible of his approaching dissolution. The fluid also passed from him to John McCay, who was standing near, struck him in the back and ran down both legs, burning the skin and clothes from his body, tearing his shoes to fragments, and leaving a small hole in the toe of one as if perforated by a bullet. The other branch of the fluid struck Richard P. Slawter, who was standing outside of the house, and felled him to the ground. He was taken up, but expired in about fifteen minutes. Rachel Dutton, the mother of Nathan, was in an adjoining room, and on being told of the fate of her son, she came out and immediately commenced to render every assistance in her power to restore him to animation. After laboring with great anxiety for nearly half an hour, she gradually fainted away, and continuing to lose respiration she expired in about three-quarters of an hour after the death of her son.

"The remains of the deceased were all committed to the tomb on Monday. The whole neighborhood and many persons from a distance turned out to pay the last tribute to their memories."

The following is taken from an obituary in the West Chester "Local News" of Jan. 1, 1908;

Thomas Elwood Bennett, when a young man, opened a store at Radnor, Delaware Co., Pa. After a time he went to Upper Darby, same Co., and here formed a partnership with Charles B. Lear under the firm name of Bennett & Lear, which lasted through life. Leaving here Mr. Lear went to West Chester, Pa., and continued business as the same firm, which store is supposed to be the oldest in Chester county continued under one partnership management. It was opened in 1866. Mr. Lear died in 1905, his son, William P. Lear, then taking his interest, and it is expected there will be no change now in the business.

Mr. Bennett went to Philadelphia, where he was in business at 22nd and Market Sts., and later at 112-114 North 9th St., at one time under the firm name of Bennett & Colville and as T. E. Bennett & Co. He finally retired from business and last residence was at 3903 Powelton Ave.

He was a great traveler and being possessed of a competency, he enjoyed seeing the world. He made nine tours abroad, seeing nearly all the European countries and also visiting Palestine and Egypt. His first tour was made in 1878 and his last in 1906. He went three times to California, twice to the Bermudas and on special trips to Mexico and the Grand Canon. He spoke delightfully of what he had seen and heard while away from home; so that old and young were both pleased and instructed with his stories. Being of a friendly disposition he made acquaintances everywhere and many will hear with regret that he has passed away.

The following is from a local notice printed at the time of her death:

Her early life was spent in the locality of Willowdale, where she attended the district school, and later went to Westtown Boarding School. Her tastes were literary and she taught in the schools of West Marlborough after the close of her student life. In the early sixties she married William Harry, a native of the State of Ohio and at the time a resident of Kennett Square. They lived in that borough and for several years on the Ellicott place at Avondale. Later Mr. Harry purchased a tract of land in Virginia, where he remained for a year or so, and about 1870 or 1871, bought a property on South Union street, Kennett Square, where, for ten years or more the couple resided, until his sudden death in 1880. Since that time Mrs. Harry made her home in her sister's family. Her retiring nature and long invalidism made her much of a recluse, but she possessed the charm shared in common by the daughters of James and Margaret Pyle, of winning refinement, scholarly tastes, gentility and kindness. She was a member of the Society of Friends and her life bore the fruits of the discipline of that peaceful sect. Elizabeth, wife of John D. Worth, of West Chester; Margaretta, wife of the late Sharpless Mercer, of Kennett Square, and Mary Ann, wife of B. F. Wickersham, Sr., of the same borough, were sisters of the deceased. Throughout the closing years of her life, while an inmate of the household of the latter, she was tenderly loved and received the gentlest ministrations of her sister's daughters.

“Matthew Wood, one of the best-known and highly respected citizens of Delaware county, died yesterday at the residence of his son, in his 83rd year. Mr. Wood was of direct English lineage, his father having left the old country in 1795, and settled in this county. This son was born in Chester in 1819, and grew to manhood here, receiving a good common school education. While still a young man and in love with the occupation of his father, he went to farming, first in Concord and afterwards in Aston Twp., and became engaged extensively in agriculture. He also owned and conducted a feed and saw mill.

His labors met with success and after a career of nearly 40 years, he sold his farm in 1888, and retired from active business. He was an attender of Friends' Meeting, of which his wife was a member."

VI—732. ROBERT FREEMAN PALMER (Isaac, Benjamin, John, John, John), b. June 9, 1840, in Chicago, Ill.; d. Jan. 4, 1862; unm.

He was a soldier in the Civil War; he enlisted Aug 12th, 1861, and was mustered into the service as a member of Company E, Third Regiment, New Hampshire Volunteer Infantry. His death was due to working in the hot sun on the fortifications at Hilton Head, S. C., which brought on congestion of the brain, and he lived only sixteen hours after being relieved from duty. He is buried in the National Cemetery at Hilton Head, South Carolina.

VI—733. JOHN CLEMENT PALMER (Isaac, Benjamin, John, John, John), b. Sept. 8, 1842, in Concord, New Hampshire.

He enlisted in Company C, 13th Regiment, New Hampshire Volunteer Infantry, August 11th, 1862, and was discharged at Patterson Park U. S. General Hospital, Baltimore, Maryland, June 8th, 1865, having served two years and ten months. He was taken a prisoner November 18th, 1864, in an attack on the picket line on the Bermuda Hundred line of works, a few miles from Richmond, Virginia. He was held as a prisoner of war four months; being confined one month in Libby and Pemberton prisons in Richmond, Va., and three months in Salisbury, North Carolina. He suffered terribly from exposure, starvation, and other hardships while in these prisons, and was almost a physical wreck when he was released, March 14th, 1865.

Soon after leaving the service he went to Winona, Minnesota, where he lived about eight years; the most of this time he was in the employ of the Winona & St. Peter Railroad Co., and the Chicago & Northwestern Railway Co., as shop clerk. In 1881 he moved to Cleveland, O., and was for many years in the employ of the N. Y. P. & O. Ry Co., and the Erie Railroad as bookkeeper. He is at present engaged in the insurance business in Cleveland, Ohio, with address, 387 The Arcade.

He has never married.

The following account of his capture is from the pen of Captain Dr. R. B. Prescott:

"During the winter of 1864-5 it was the fortune of the writer to be in command of 'Fort McConihe,' a small fort situated on the Bermuda Hundred front in Virginia about midway between the James and Appomattox rivers, which was built for the protection of the Union picket line. One exceedingly dark night it was absolutely necessary to know which side held the picket line. So volunteers were called for to go down and ascertain if possible how matters stood. All realized the danger of such an expedition and a second call had to be made when a voice responded 'I'll go,' quickly followed by another. The first speaker proved to be one of the youngest men in the garrison, John C. Palmer, a mere lad of eighteen. With strict injunctions to observe care and caution the two, the younger in advance, stole out into the darkness; then followed a few moments of silence and expectation, when suddenly a single musket shot was heard and a moment after the second of the two returned with haste and excitement, exclaiming, 'They've got him! They've got him, and the rebs are down there in force.' It seems that they had advanced but a short distance beyond the abatis when a stern voice said 'Halt,' and at the same instant a heavy hand was laid upon the foremost man. The second instantly comprehended the situation, turned and fled, followed by the shot we heard, but which in the darkness missed him. The youthful hero who voluntarily sacrificed himself to save his comrades never returned to his company. We heard indirectly that he was taken to a Southern prison pen and after a time exchanged. The writer never looks over the final muster-roll of Company C, without reading opposite the name John C. Palmer: 'Captured by the enemy at Fort McConihe, November 18, 1864,' and recalling the thrilling experience of that eventful night."

Nov. 18, 1823, at Fairfield, Lycoming Co.; d. June 21, 1901, at Wellsboro, Tioga Co., Pa.; both buried in Wellsboro Cemetery.

He was raised on a farm and inured to all the tribulations of pioneer life, for in the days of his youth there were very few of the comforts of today obtainable. He attended the district school two or three months during the winter, when he could be spared from work. Upon reaching manhood he married Miss Lydia Ann Wheeland and took her to his Tioga county home. She was an unpretending country girl, handsome but not vain. Her steadiness and firmness of character was the stay of the family all through life. She was always watchful over her children, but never austere and not opposed to their participation in innocent amusements.

Mr. Cox started life as a farmer, which he followed for eight years, during which time he cleared, fenced, and cultivated about seventy acres of land mostly with his own hands. In 1854 he sold his farm and engaged in the mercantile and lumbering business. This he discontinued during the Civil War, but resumed again and continued from June 1865 until 1869, when he was elected to public office.

He commenced an army record with a commission dated July 18, 1854, as Brigadier Inspector, with rank of Major, and was again commissioned June 6, 1859, to June 1864. He was instrumental in raising several companies of infantry at the commencement of the Civil War. He was commissioned Major of the 171st Reg. Pa. Vol. Inf. Nov. 16, 1862, and saw severe service in the field in various campaigns, mostly in Virginia. He was commissioned Colonel of the 207th Reg. Pa. Vols. Sept. 28, 1864, and was breveted Brigadier General April 9, 1865, and mustered out of service May 31, 1865. He published an interesting pamphlet of his "recollections of the War."

In the civil line of service he was appointed Postmaster at Liberty, Tioga Co., Pa., April 13, 1869, having previously been elected a Justice of the Peace in February, 1862, which office he held for five years.

In 1869 he was elected County Treasurer of Tioga county for three years, and removed to Wellsboro in 1870. In 1872 he was elected to the office of Prothonotary of that county, and re-elected six times thereafter, thus holding this office seven terms, for twenty-one years.

M. second, ISADORA A. CRAWFORD June 5, 1871, at Ottawa, Kan., where she continues at 208 Walnut street.

The following account of his life is taken from the Ottawa, Kansas, Republic, Feb. 15, 1902:

"ANOTHER MAN OF MARK GONE.

"Harlen P. Welsh died at 8.15 last night under startling circumstances.

"For a considerable time Mr. Welsh has been in enfeebled condition; it was apparent that he was growing weaker, and for the last few weeks his condition has been a matter of extreme concern to his friends. He has, however, with the firm determination that has been a dominant force in his character, regularly resorted to his office, the family carriage and its resolute inmate, driven by the most faithful wife, being one of the most familiar sights on our streets. For several days past Mr. Welsh has been troubled with an accumulation, as or phelgm, that congested in his throat; yesterday afternoon, in his office, he was seized with a recurrence of this difficulty that was unusually severe, and he narrowly escaped strangulation. By advice of Judge Robbins, who was in the office at the time of the attack, he went to his home earlier than usual.

"Shortly after the supper hour, Mr. Welsh had occasion to repair to the back part of the residence property. Rarely of late has Mrs. Welsh permitted him to go about alone, fearing that in his feeble and crippled condition he might receive a fall, but on this occasion she was temporarily busy, and he had been gone several minutes before she noted the fact. She immediately followed, and found the unfortunate gentleman prone upon the ground, unconscious. She immediately dispatched a servant for aid and telephoned for Dr. A. H. Wright; neighbors promptly responded, and the sufferer was conveyed to the house. Dr. Wright arrived almost immediately, and found his patient in a dying condition; he expired at 8.15. The cause was apoplexy, undoubtedly superinduced by an attack of choking, as above described.

"Harlan P. Welsh had but little advantages of education, limited entirely to common schools in parts of each winter until he was fifteen, when he had the misfortune to lose his right leg by erysipelas of the bone. He then applied himself the best he could to acquiring an education, studying nights while working at his trade as tailor. At the end of the year he obtained a position in a store, and in this way obtained means to enter a Friends' seminary at Salem, Iowa. In the fall of '52, he entered a public school, and the next summer engaged as a teacher. In 1853 he commenced the study of law with Harvey Tannehill, of Centerville, Iowa, walking two and a half miles and back each day on a crutch. That winter he taught the Centerville school, and for three years continued, studying law at night.

"In 1854 he was elected county attorney of Appanoose county, and conducted that office most successfully for two years.

"He came to Franklin county in 1858, making the trip with wagon and three yoke of oxen, with wife and one child, being four weeks on the road. He had no money, but had laid in provisions for a year. He sold a yoke of oxen to buy a cooking stove and other household necessities. With a hired man he cut and hauled logs to a mill at Centropolis, and by the next fall had a good frame house.

"He was appointed the first district clerk of Franklin, but resigned in a short time because the duties of the office conflicted with his practice of law.

"The great drouth of 1860, which paralyzed business, caused misfortune to come to Mr. Welsh; he sold his property and retired to a farm. He conducted it three years and cleared $3,000.

"In 1863 he was unanimously elected journal clerk of the House of Representatives, and re-elected in 1864.

"He has held county offices many times. In 1865 he was elected county attorney, holding the office for two years. In 1867 he was a candidate for the state senate, and was defeated by Dr. A. Wiley after a vigorous contest. In 1868 he was elected to the house of representatives by a handsome vote. During his term he was a member of the judiciary committee and committee on ways and means.

"Mr. Welsh served as county attorney and also as attorney for the city of Ottawa. When Ottawa was incorporated as a town, June 18th, 1866, Mr. Welsh was appointed one of the trustees, and was elected secretary of the board when the city was organized as a city of the second class. In 1867 Mr. Welsh was elected city attorney. He was elected mayor in 1869 and re-elected in 1870.

"In 1871 he was nominated by the republicans for representative and elected, and was chairman of the committee on elections, chairman of the committee on appropriations and a member of the judiciary committee.

"Thereafter for a number of years Mr. Welsh devoted himself exclusively to the practice of law, but was again county attorney 3 years from 1895 to 1898.

"He was an Odd Fellow for many years, passing all the chairs and was twice a representative to the grand lodge.

"Though originally a Methodist, for many of the later years of his life he was very prominently connected with the Baptist church."

The following proceedings are taken from the Ottawa Herald of May 2, 1902:—

"Resolutions of respect to the memory of the late H. P. Welsh were presented at a meeting of the Franklin county bar in district court room yesterday evening. Before the acceptance of the resolutions, members of the bar spoke of their relations and acquaintance with Mr. Welsh. The proceeding was given added interest from the fact that the bar was engaged in doing honor to the memory of its oldest member—to a man who was here at the beginning of things and who as a lawyer and a citizen, fought his way up through difficulties few men would have cared to face. It is not often—if indeed it has occurred at all—that the death of a citizen of this county has called out such expressions of sincere esteem as were spoken by the attorneys yesterday in reference to the life of H. P. Welsh.

"The resolutions, which were drawn by C. B. Mason and ordered by the court to be made a part of the court records, are as follows:

"To the Honorable the District Court of Franklin County, Kansas:

"The undersigned, heretofore appointed to prepare some fitting expression relative to the death of our late brother Hon. Harlan P. Welsh, respectfully submit the following: That Whereas, the unexpected sudden death of Hon. Harlan P.

Welsh, a member of the bar of this county for a longer period than any living, at his home in this city on the evening of February 14th last, came as a shock to the whole community, and especially to those associating with him in the practice of the law, and

"Whereas, His prominence in the history of Franklin county has been conspicuous in the affairs connected with the development and progress of our city and county, since in the year 1858 he first began his residence in this county and state, the undersigned as such committee, on behalf of the bar, present the following resolutions as a token to the memory of the deceased brother.

"Resolved, first, That in the death of Honorable Harlan P. Welsh, our profession has been deprived of an able and successful attorney, and individually we shall miss him from our ranks as a respected friend, whose career for more than forty-three years made his life a term longer than the existence of city or state, and we are stricken with profound sorrow, that he is no longer with us in this life.

"Resolved, second, That as an intelligent citizen he served his city, county and state in many important official positions with great credit to himself, and benefit to the public welfare during his life, and considering his crippled physical condition, but indomitable mental energy in all matters enlisting his service, he was a remarkable and valuable member of this community.

"Resolved, third, That we sympathize with his bereaved family in the loss of husband and father, and with all our people, we sincerely regret, by his death, we have lost a christian citizen and gentleman from our midst.

"Resolved, fourth, That a copy of these sentiments be placed upon the record of this court, and that the clerk of this court be directed to transmit to the widow of the deceased a copy of the same.

"C. B. MASON,
"A. W. BENSON,
"JOHN W. DEFORD."

VI—829. WILLIAM HAMILTON PYLE (Eli M., Amy, John, John, John), b. June 9, 1833; d. Feb. 9, 1891; m. MARY LOUISA NASH, Jan. 26, 1860; b. July 23, 1843.

He graduated at Richmond College in 1850, and one year later from Washington College, at Washington, Pa. He removed in early life to Kaufman, Texas, where he became a practicing physician. During the Civil War he served as Brigade Surgeon of Gen. Carter's Texas Cavalry Brigade (C. S. A.)

The following obituary or eulogy on the death of Dr. William Hamilton Pyle was published in Kaufman, Texas, Star, his death having occurred on the night of Feb. 9, 1891, as the clock struck 12 midnight.

"DR W. H. PYLE IS DEAD."

"This announcement carried sadness and sorrow into the homes of all Kaufman Tuesday morning. Over a year ago death set his seal upon this distinguished man and slowly but surely bore him down to the grave. Monday night the 9th inst. as the clock struck twelve, his spirit passed away as he lisped a prayer to the God of all. He was conscious until the last, and as the death damp gathered upon his brow, he knew his suffering would soon be over and he would soon be 'gathered to his fathers.' In the death of this man and that of Capt. Z. T. Adams, Kaufman has lost her truest and most steadfast friends. The hour was never too hot nor too cold, or the sacrifice too great for them to serve their friends and their beloved town. Strong alike in brain force and power; strong alike in likes; strong alike in passion and temperaments; strong alike in love and hatred; strong alike in suffering and endurance, they yielded alike to the same dread disease, and were followed to the grave by the whole town, honored and mourned as only true friends are honored and mourned. Dr. Pyle, like all the race of man, had his faults, but he had more virtues. Possessing a mind of rare culture and power, when he arrived at a decision he adhered to it with knightly courage and stolid firmness.

"Coming to Kaufman in his early manhood from Ohio, his native state, he began the practice of medicine. His culture, refinement and ability as a physician soon won the confidence, respect and esteem of all. After the war he was sent to the Texas Senate, where his ability was recognized among the ablest men of the State. He was a fine speaker, a brilliant writer and a gifted conversationalist. As a Senator he had no superior and but few peers. In all Kaufman's contests he was the recognized brain power behind the throne. Had he chosen and so comported himself he could have filled the highest positions in the gift of our people. Whatever he undertook, he did it with all his power, and that meant success. There was no neutrality or hypocrisy in his nature, he was for you or against you. If he was for you his ponderous influence was felt and dreaded. He was untiring in his zeal, cautious in his counsel and unerring in his judgment. As friend he was true, loyal and zealous; as a father, generous, kind and gentle; as a husband, devoted, tender and true; as a sinner the devil's best friend, and as a Christian consecrated, God-fearing and faithful. For long years he was an agnostic, but respectful to ministers and Christians. Over a year ago under the preaching of Dr. W. O. Bailey he was convinced of his errors and deeply convicted of his sins. To dispel the deep impressions made upon his conscious nature he quit attending the revival services held by Dr. Bailey, but when he was stricken down with the disease that finally carried him to the grave, he yielded to the promptings of his nobler nature and with the death-like pallor stamped on his features he was baptized into the Baptist church, and we trust into Jesus. From that hour he was as jealous as a Peter, as loving as a John, and as faithful unto death as a Paul. Peace be unto his ashes, rest unto his soul and love that passeth all understanding unto his bereaved wife, who stands like a broken reed on the border of time. May God in his mercy comfort and bless her and her household."

During the Civil War he was for three years Capt. of Com. G, 52nd Ohio Vol. Inf., under Col. J. T. Holmes, after which he settled at Richmond, O., where he was in active practice as a physician until the close of his life.

The following are extracts from the eulogy spoken at his funeral by his former Commander, Col. J. T. Holmes:—

"It is nearly fifty years since I first touched the hands and brushed hearts with Captain Rothacker, and when the message came that his earthly career was ended it seemed to me that I must attend the last scene of all and lay upon his casket and twine about his memory a brief tribute. God gave him length of days, beyond the allotted span of three score years and ten, and they were years and days of a busy and a distinguished life. Here let me note the climax in his military career. It was at Kenesaw. Some of you have seen the ridge down from which he charged and the upward slope from the little creek to the Confederate works, six hundred yards in all. Of the five thousand men who started down the slope on the charge fifteen hundred went down in fifteen minutes. It was a harvest of death. It is natural that our three years in that fierce and bloody struggle should be impressed upon the minds of participants as no such term of years could be impressed by the ordinary phrases and experiences of civil life. Many of us care free in bounding youth with few responsibilities and no dependents could confront the duties and dangers of those times with light hearts. The young wife with little ones clinging to her knees, who gave up husband, closed her doors to weep in silence as he marched away and then alone faced the future and the dread of coming days for three long years, displayed a heroism equaling that of the soldier whether in camp or action. When thinking and talking of the sacrifices, the suffering and the trials of war we should never overlook the matchless class to which Mrs. Rothacker belonged.

"The capabilities of Dr. Rothacker in and out of his profession were equal to every task and demand that came to him in war and peace for more than sixty years. Of high intelligence and talents and principles, a commanding presence, an equable spirit, gentle manner, a just man, in all relations of life, professional, social, domestic, political and religious he deserved and was accorded the unalloyed esteem of his fellow men. What shall I say more? The world is better for his having lived in it and his death illumines his life."

LOST IN A WOODS.

A Doe Run Boy Wandered About All Day and One Night.

A fifteen-year-old son of Dr. R. E. Palmer, of Doe Run, had a terrible experience in a woods near Laurel a few days ago and all one night and the next day a searching party scoured the country in search of him.

The lad went into the woods, which is near his home, in the afternoon, for the purpose of cutting some canes and while there become so bewildered that he did not know which direction to turn in order to reach his home. While he was wandering about the forest rain commenced to fall and darkness overtook him, but he walked about all night through the trees. A searching party was formed by the men of the neighborhood and they searched the woods all night in vain. The next day the search was resumed, but it was not until noon that the lad was found. He was then almost overcome with fatigue and hunger. He was endeared to a large circle of friends and relatives by the urbanity of his deportment, the perfect sincerity of his actions and by his unwavering integrity."

The following notices are taken from the press notices after the time of his death:—

CHARLES P. DARLINGTON.

His father dying when he was about fifteen years of age, deceased assumed charge of a large farm and dairy near Darling, Delaware county, on which his father had lived and died of the same disease as his son, typhoid fever. At a later age the deceased studied at Swarthmore; subsequently law, but abandoned it to look after pressing interests on the farm near Darling, on which his mother and children yet resided. At a later period he had a creamery built at Chadd's Ford, since which time he has lived there. He manufactured butter at this place of such an excellent quality as to bring him patronage from New York, Washington, Baltimore and other distant points. He was a prominent member of the Creamery Association, and was very earnest in advocacy of its cause. His wife and four sons survive him. He was very ambitious and industrious, and it is thought by his many friends that the fever from which he died was superinduced by over-work and anxiety connected with his business ramifications.

IN MEMORIAM.

Mary D. Palmer, Jan. 22, 1892.

How fleet the years of measured being run,—
 The gracious years of beauty, fair and sweet;
 But who shall say thy life was incomplete,
 Though end and purpose seem to us unwon?
 How can we know when any task is done?
 We walk in twilight, full of doubts and fears,
 And oft our eyes are blinded with our tears,
 And we heed not the glory of the sun:
 Sweet peace to thee, O friend, immortal grown,
 The morning brings, whose glory has begun
 In soundless dawn above our shadow-land!
 Why life should fail with budded hopes unblown,
 Or fairest lilies perish one by one,
 Perchance hereafter we shall understand.

—Dr. Benj. F. Leggett, in Zion's Herald.

Mr. Sharpless had been fatally injured in falling from a forty-foot windmill tower at the home of Ritner Menough, near Gradyville, on Friday afternoon. A broken ankle and internal wounds resulted. It was thought on Saturday morning that the left foot would be amputated, but the surgeons upon assembling about his cot, decided that he was not strong enough to undergo the ordeal, and the operation was postponed. He grew weaker, suffering greatly until the end.

Mr. Sharpless was born in West Goshen, remained on the farm until he was well grown, and then went to Minneapolis, where he made his home with an uncle and attended school during a period of about four years. Returning east he remained here farming and following other occupations, until his accident. For several years he was in the employ of Edward Brinton, and later was in business on North Walnut street. For about five years he had been with George J. Palmer, West Chester, Pa.

ANNA M. WORRALL.

9-19-1899

At 11 o'clock last night Anna Mary Worrall, wife of J. Elwood Worrall, of Kennett Square, was released from a bed of suffering upon which she has lain for four years. The deceased had been during this long period afflicted with a cancer, which rendered her an invalid and great sufferer. Many times during the past two or three years she had apparently passed to the border of the other world, but rallied with an endurance which gave hope to her family and friends that she would be spared for some years, even though recovery seemed remote. Her father was engaged in mercantile business in Chester Valley for many years, and his daughter grew to womanhood at Sugartown, where she was reared and educated. She married and returned with her husband to Sugartown, where he carried on store keeping for several years.

They afterwards moved to Compassville, Lancaster county, and were for several years engaged in business in West Chester, from which place they came to Kennett Square in 1882. Mr. Worrall has been since that time one of the leading merchants of that borough, and his attractive wife won many friends in the place, as she did elsewhere. She was a domestic, motherly woman, a devoted wife and possessed a cheerful winning disposition.

The following is from an obituary, at the time of his death:—

On the 9th of March, 1840, in Eldridge Hill, New Jersey, was born Clarkson Jennings, the only son of Levi and Hannah Jennings. At the age of eleven he suffered the loss of his mother, and grew up the idolized companion of his father, at whose side he learned the trade of a mason. Later he became the support of his aged father and two younger sisters.

He early prepared himself for the work of a teacher, and was engaged in that profession when the Civil War called him to offer his service to his country. That call he answered and therewith came the loss of his health and the change in the course of his life to farming.

Returning from the war, he married Margaret Silver, the sister of his college friend, and a few years after moved to Preble county, Ohio, where his subsequent life has been spent. The family circle consisting of parents and four children was unbroken to the time of his death.

By birthright he was a member of the Friends' church, and he always adhered to her teachings, believing in the guidance of the spirit and forum of the conscience.

His life portrayed the Quaker traits that his ancestry bequeathed him. Reticent and unassuming, but kindly and thoughtful. He cared nothing for outward show, but everything for inner worth.

His was a peaceable disposition and many times has he suffered personal wrong rather than provoke contention by opposing it, nor did he like others wronged. A maxim which he always held before himself and family was, "There is good in all but none are all good."

He had a well informed mind and was a great reader, when not working he was always found with book or paper.

Not great as the world knows greatness, but good. His life was lived solely for those about him, and thus it was that every task he undertook, however humble, received the same careful attention that might have been expected in affairs of state.

Not widely known but loved by the few who knew him well. And if there be anything of value in the example of a simple life well lived, the example of high ideals in a humble spirit, of thinking much and saying little, of giving much and asking little, then Clarkson Jennings has not lived in vain, for there be those whose lives are far better for it. His life was gentle and the elements so mixed in him that nature might stand up and say to all the world, "this was a man."

His widow and daughter continue at the home on Wadsworth St., Eaton, O. Children:—

The following is an account of his career to the time of publishing this genealogy:

HON. GEORGE E. CHAMBERLAIN.

Believers in the influence of heredity will find much to support their claims in the ancestral record of the Governor of Oregon, Hon. George Earl Chamberlain. The qualities that have given him an eminent position in the public life of the Northwest are his by inheritance from a long line of capable, scholarly and influential ancestors. The family of which he is a member, came from England at an early period in American history and settled among the pioneers of Pennsylvania. His grandfather, Dr. Joseph Chamberlain, a native of Delaware was one of the distinguished physicians at Newark, that state. The lady whom he married also came of a prominent pioneer family. Her uncle, Charles Thompson, who served as secretary of the Continental Congress from 1774 to 1789, was born in Ireland, of Scotch lineage, November 29th, 1729. Accompanied by three sisters he settled at New Castle, Del., in 1741, and there became a teacher in the Friends' Academy. In 1758 he was one of the agents appointed to treat with the Indians at Oswego, and while there was adopted by the Delawares, who conferred upon him an Indian name meaning "One who speaks with truth." The possessor of literary ability, he left his imprint upon the literature of his age through his "Harmony of the Five Gospels," a translation of the Old and New Testaments, and an inquiry into the cause of the alienation of the Delaware and Shawnee Indians. His private file of letters containing communications written to him while secretary of the Continental Congress and before that time, is among the most valued possessions of Governor Chamberlain, and contains letters from all the leading men of that day.

In the family of Dr. Joseph Chamberlain was a son, Charles Thomson Chamberlain, a native of Newark, Del., and a graduate of Jefferson Medical College at Philadelphia. After receiving the degree of M. D., he settled in Natchez, Miss., in 1837, as offering a favorable opening for a professional man. During the years that followed, he built up a large practice and established an enviable reputation for skill in the diagnosis and treatment of disease. An evidence of his kindly spirit of devotion to duty and self-sacrificing labors for others is shown by his record during the yellow fever epidemic of 1871. At that time, when many physicians felt justified in considering their own health, he attended patients night and day, without thought of self, until at last he was stricken with the disease and soon died.

The wife of Dr. Charles T. Chamberlain was Pamela H. Archer, a native of Harford county, Md., and now a resident of Natchez, Miss. Her father, Hon. Stevenson Archer, was born in Harford county, and graduated from Princeton College, 1805, after which he became an attorney. He served in Congress from 1811 to 1817 from Maryland, and in the latter year accepted an appointment from Mississippi Territory with gubernatorial powers, and resigned later. From 1819 to 1821 he again represented his district in Congress where he was a member of the committee on foreign affairs. In 1825 he was elected one of the justices of the Court of Appeals of Maryland, which office he held until his death in 1848, at which time he was chief justice. His father, John Archer, M. D., was a native of Harford county, Md., born in 1741. After graduating at Princeton in 1760, he studied for the ministry, but throat trouble rendering pulpit work inadvisable, he turned his attention to medicine. The first medical diploma ever issued in the new world was given to him by the Philadelphia Medical College. In 1776 he was elected a member of the convention which framed the Constitution and Bill of Rights of Maryland. At the commencement of the Revolutionary War, he had command of a military company, the first enrolled in Harford county, and was a member of the State Legislature. After the war he practiced his profession and several important discoveries in therapeutics are credited to him. In 1797 he was a presidential elector and from 1801 to 1807 was a member of Congress from Maryland. His death occurred in 1810. The Archer family is of Scotch-Irish descent and was represented among the earliest settlers of Harford county, where for generations they wielded wide influence. It is worthy of record that the portrait of Hon. Stevenson Archer appears among those of distinguished men of Maryland placed in the new courthouse in Baltimore, that state, and also adorns the courthouse in his native county.

In a family of five children, Hon. George Earle Chamberlain was third in order of birth. His name comes to him from an uncle, George Earle, who was one of the noted men of Maryland, and assistant postmaster general of the United States during General Grant's term as President. In his native city of Natchez, Miss., he received such advantages as the public schools afforded. On leaving school in 1870, he clerked in a mercantile store. Two years later, entering college at Lexington, Va., he took the regular course of study in the Washington and Lee University, from which he was graduated in July of 1876, with the degrees of A. B. and B. L. Shortly after his graduation he returned to Natchez, where he remained until after the presidential election. However, prospects for success in the south were not encouraging at that time, and he determined to seek a more favorable opening. With this purpose in view he came to Oregon, which has been his home since his arrival December 6th, 1876. Early in 1877 he taught a country school and in the latter part of the year was appointed deputy clerk of Linn County, which position he held until the summer of 1879. During 1880 he was elected to the lower house of the legislature and in 1884 became district attorney for the third judicial district of Oregon. In the discharge of the duties of these various offices he gave satisfaction to all concerned, evincing wide professional knowledge and resourcefulness. His talents being recognized by the governor, he was given the appointment of attorney-general of Oregon on the creation of that office by act of legislature in 1891, his appointment bearing date of May 21, 1891. For a short time before this he had been interested in the banking business at Albany, being connected first with the First National Bank, and later with the Linn County National Bank.

At the general election following his appointment, he was elected attorney-general on the Democratic ticket, receiving a majority of about five hundred, notwithstanding the fact that the Republican majority in Oregon at that time was about ten thousand. In 1900, he was elected district attorney of Multnomah county by a majority of eleven hundred and sixty-two, the county being then about four thousand Republican. The highest honor of his life came to him, unsolicited in 1902, when the Democrats nomiinated him for governor by acclamation. In the election that followed he received a majority of two hundred and fifty-six over the Republican candidate, although on the congressional vote the state at the time was nearly fifteen thousand Republican. In 1906 he was again nominated by his party for Governor, and was re-elected by a majority of twenty-five hundred over his opponent, being the only Democrat elected.

These figures are indicative of his popularity, not only with his own party, but with the general public. Among his large circle of friends and admirers are many who, though of different political faith, have yet such a warm regard for the man himself and such a firm faith in his ability to guide aright the ship of state, that many thousand votes were given him by people accustomed to vote another ticket than his own. It is doubtful if any public man possesses greater strength among the people of the state. Through the long period of his residence here, he has won and maintained the confidence of the people, and his upright life, combined with unusual mental gifts, has given him his present prominence and prestige.

In Natchez, Miss., Mr. Chamberlain married Miss Sally N. Welch, who was born near that city, a descendant of an old Revolutionary family from New England. Her father, A. T. Welch, a native of New Hampshire, was a large planter near Natchez, the possessor of abundant means that rendered possible the giving of valuable educational advantages to his children. Mrs. Chamberlain was graduated from the Natchez Institute and is a lady of culture and refinement, an active member of the Calvary Presbyterian Church and also a member of the Eastern Star.

The Commercial Club, of Portland, Multnomah Amateur Athletic Club, University Club and Oregon State Historical Society, number Governor Chamberlain among their members. A life member of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks in Portland, he is past exalted ruler of the local lodge. While at Albany he joined the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, in which he is past noble grand and a demitted member of lodge and encampment. Interested in the Knights of Pythias, he is past chancellor of Laurel Lodge, No. 7 at Albany. His record in Masonry is interesting and proves him to have been devoted to the lofty principles of that order. His initial experience with Masonry began in St. John's Lodge, No. 62, A. F. & A. M., at Albany, of which he is past master. At this writing his membership is in Williamette Lodge, No. 1 at Portland, and he is past grand orator of the Grand Lodge of Oregon. The Royal Arch degree was conferred upon him in Bailey Chapter No. 8 at Albany, in which he is past high priest, and he is also past grand high priest of the Grand Chapter of Oregon. He was raised to the Knight Templar degree in Temple Commandery No. 3, K. T., at Albany, in which he is past eminent commander. The thirty-second degree was conferred upon him in Oregon consistory No. 1, at Portland, and he is also identified with Al Kader Temple, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine.

On January 19, 1909, the State legislature, which was Republican, elected him to succeed the Hon. C. W. Fulton in the United States Senate. Governor Chamberlain's election to the Senate was one of the great anomalies of American politics, the people having chosen him by direct vote and the Republican legislature being compelled to elect him instead of a man of their own faith. It marked the triumph of the direct vote by the people for the office of United States Senator.

It was also a great tribute to his personal popularity in the State, he having received thousands of votes from those not affiliated with the Democratic party.

In the Senate, Senator Chamberlain has been named on the following committees: The Committees on Agriculture and Forestry, Expenditures in the Interior Department, Irrigation and Reclamation of Arid Lands, Pacific railroads, Philippines, Printing and Public Lands.

Dr. Meeteer began her work as teacher in 1887. She taught in well-known preparatory schools in Philadelphia. In the fall of 1904, she was appointed Dean of Women in the University of Colorado, from which position she comes to Swarthmore. In Colorado, Miss Meeteer originated and has put into operation a system of unification among the girls of the university. So successful and practical has this system become, that she is now able to turn over to her successor the direction of the work without im-

Note.—He was a vice president of the Universal Peace Union, and from its organ, The Peacemaker, of Nov., 1910, the following testimony is taken:—"His beneficent expression is an index to his character—the purest treasure mortal times afford is spotless reputation. For many years as one of our vice presidents, he was with his wife always ready and willing to promote the interest of our cause—his devotion to public and private philanthropic work was conspicuous. He had secured an enviable position in business as a manufacturer and was honored with several positions of trust. He served the "Grandon Trust," which dispenses coal to the poor, was a director of the Friends' Charity Fuel Association, treasurer of the Quaker City Div., Sons of Temperance, and for a time president of the Fifteenth Ward Organized Charities, but his presidency of the Friends' Home for Children in West Philadelphia was where he seemed to be in his truest element. As a member of the Religious Society of Friends and an elder of Race Street Monthly Meeting, he was attentive to all its requirements, and secured the affection and confidence of his friends. When we can find such a consistent example of true living, such a model of real home life, with all its sacred obligations and responsibilities, it is at once a legacy to our age and a tribute to the conditions that make for true peace."

IN MEMORIAM

At a special meeting of the Board of Managers of the Friends' Home for Children held at the residence of George D. Miller on Sixth-day evening, Seventh month first, 1910, the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

The veil of death has been drawn between us and our friend and beloved associate, Alben T. Eavenson, and it is eminently fitting that we should in some manner record our appreciation of his faithful and efficient service rendered to the management of the "Friends' Home for Children," a work in which he ever manifested a fatherly interest in all that pertains not only to the material interests of the children at the Home, but to their moral and religious training as well. Through his efforts many a lonely and neglected child has been afforded comforts, conveniences and instruction.

Wise in counsel, generous in contribution, charitable in judgment, quickly responsive to every call of duty, he has left to us an example of fidelity and loving devotion which we may well emulate; and while we consider it a duty and a pleasure to record our estimate of our departed friend, nevertheless the parting is a source of profound sorrow. Long and lovingly will his associates cherish his memory and the beneficiaries of his bounty will call him blessed. He wrought well and having gone to his reward, now rests from his labors. Of such the Master says, "Inasmuch as ye did it unto the least of these, my brethren, ye did it unto me. Well, done, good and faithful servant, enter thou into the joy of thy Lord." Blessed service, blessed reward.

May his exemplary life influence us to greater devotion to the cause which he so generously supported.

To the bereaved and sorrowing family of our departed friend and co-worker we extend our sincere and heartfelt sympathy.

EDWIN B. NEWCOMER,
Secretary.

"The Friends' Home for Destitute Children in West Philadelphia is one of the good works in which she was deeply interested. Her voice was often heard in religious assemblies, briefly and earnestly bearing testimony to the love of our Heavenly Father; and especially will the hundreds of school children miss her pleasant smile and cheerful voice. Her chosen calling of physician was not neglected because of the numerous public interests claiming her attention. The breadth and scope of her activities seemed to embrace all human needs and the touch of her hand helped to bring healing and comfort; so that her presence was a well spring of joy."

The man undertook to throw it out, but failed. Henry O. came in the back way, and the door being opened front, rushed into and through the fire, kicking it out of the house. In doing this some of the oil got on him, burning his legs and arms badly, but the fatality ensued from inhaling the fume. He survived for forty-two hours in great suffering.

J. Erskine Baldwin, aged 27 years, son of Hon. Richard J. Baldwin, of Chadd's Ford, was instantly killed early last evening, at the plant of the Burmont Chemical Company, in Upper Darby Township, when a large number of blasting torpedoes, which had just been manufactured, exploded. The young man's body hurled through the air by the force of the explosion for a distance of 70 feet, was badly mangled. Deputy Coroner Drewes, of Darby, was notified and took charge of the remains, conveying them to the morgue pending an investigation by Coroner Carr.

The cause of the explosion is a mystery. Fortunately at the time, none of the other employes of the company were in or near the buildings, else the casualties would have been greater. It was young Baldwin's duty, after the workmen had made up the torpedoes, to mark the employes' time on the various boxes containing the high explosives, and it was while engaged in this duty that he met his death.

The unfortunate young man was well known in Delaware County, particularly in Media where, during his father's term of office as Recorder of Deeds, he was employed as clerk in the office.—Chester Republican, Oct. 3, 1910.

Note.—The Cope family trace their ancestry to the Pennsylvania emigrant as follows: "The earliest known ancestor was John Cope, Esquire, of Denshanger, in the County of Northampton, England, who was twice high Sheriff of the county and five times knight of the Shire in Parliament. He espoused the cause of Henry IV. and died in 1417; Joan, his widow, died in 1435. Next in line comes William Cope, Esq., who m. a dau. of William Gossage of Spratton, and she was living in 1487. Their son, Alexander Cope, was father to Sir Willam Cope, of Hanwell in Oxfordshire, Knight Cofferer to Henry VII., buried at Banbury in 1513. By his first wife, Agnes, dau. of Sir Robert Harcourt, he had a son, Stephen Cope, of Bedhampton, County of Hants, Sergeant of the Poultry to Henry VIII. and Edward VI., living in 1552. His wife was Anna, dau. of William Saunders, of Banbury, by whom he had a son, Sir Anthony Cope, of Bedhampton, knight living in 1573; his widow, Anne, dau. of Sir Humphrey Stafford, died in 1613. Next came Edward Cope, whose wife, Maud, was living in 1634. Their son, John Cope, died in Marden in Wiltshire, in 1656, and Margaret, his widow, in 1670. This John Cope survived his son, John Cope, Jr., who died in Chisledon in Wiltshire, 1649, while Elizabeth, his widow, was living in 1681 at Avebury. Oliver Cope, son of the last named John Cope, purchased 250 acres of land from William Penn in 1681 and with his wife, Rebecca, came to Pennsylvania perhaps the next year. She resided with her parents at Swarthmore, Pa. She had driven to Chester to attend to some business, and on her return about 9 a. m. it is supposed that the single-tree bolt broke, letting the piece strike the horse's legs, which caused him to run away. He became unmanageable and ran to one side of the street, allowing the vehicle to strike a telegraph pole. The shock threw her out, striking her head against the curb stone. No one saw the accident, but some workmen saw the horse running and going toward the place found her lying in an unconscious state. She was carried into a nearby house and later taken to her home, where she died about 5 p. m. Her death was a great shock to her family and friends.

The following account was published at the time of his death:—

"Alfonzo Morris, a prominent resident of Gradyville, Delaware county, met a remarkable death in a New York hotel on Saturday.

"Mr. Morris was a carriage builder at Gradyville, and one of the most prominent residents of that place. Last week he went over to New York to attend a large sale of carriages and other supplies in this line which was to continue all week. He took along a large amount of cash with which to make purchases and took up his quarters in a room in a hotel near the place where the sale was to be held. He attended the sale for a couple of days and made a number of purchases.

"On Friday evening the visitor retired to his room in his hotel. In the room was a gas burner beside a window and he pulled the end of the burner over until it was in front of the window, after which he turned the light down and retired, it being his custom to always have a light in his room. A small portion of glass was broken from the window at a point exactly opposite the gas jet and during the night a wind storm arose. The wind blowing through the aperture extinguished the flame and the gas flowed into the room. Nothing was known of this by the other lodgers or the people of the house and it was noon when a chambermaid went to the room and detected the odor of gas. The door was opened and Mr. Morris found on the bed unconscious. He was given the best of treatment, but all efforts to resuscitate him failed, and his death occurred in a short time.

"He was a prominent member of Westmont Lodge, Knights of Pythias, and Tamamod Tribe Red Men. The body was taken to his late home, where his funeral took place, the organizations of which he was a member attending in a body.

He was buried along side of his first wife in Cumberland Cemetery.

The following is taken from a published account of his life:

"He was born in West Whiteland Township, Chester Co., Pa., and was educated in the public schools and at Abbington, Berwick and Wyoming Seminary. At the age of 18 he entered the Vulcan Iron Works and remained 3 years, becoming a practical mechanical engineer. After one year with the New York and Erie R. R. he went in 1859 to Alabama and was successfully engaged in the iron industry until early in 1860, when the signs of impending war impelled him to hasten home.

"When the war broke out he was the eldest of four brothers, who, led by their father joined a battalion of 200 men, raised by the senior McCauley in Susquehanna county in the latter part of April, 1861. On account of age, Governor Curtin refused to commission the elder McCauley, upon which his son Levi left that battalion and joined a company of men at Wilkesbarre, which had been recruited by Colonel E. B. Harvey. This company afterward became Company F, of the Seventh Regiment, Reserve Volunteer Corps.

"Colonel E. B. Harvey, under whom Major McCauley had served, in a letter to the 'American Republican,' said:

" 'Levi McCauley was one of the best and most trustworthy and reliable men in my regiment. His devotion and fidelity to the cause and to duty secured him early promotion from a private to a captain. At Drainville he was specially noted for his firmness and determination and success as a commanding officer, performing duties many others shrank from. At Mechanicsville, battle of the seven days' fighting around Richmond, Captain McCauley and Captain King were specially directed to guard a fordway across Chickahominy, and at the extreme left of the battle line. Twice they repelled a rebel effort to cross the stream. So successfully and well done were the acts that General McCall personally desired to thank McCauley and King for saving the battle that day to our forces at that point.

"At Gaines Hill battle on the next day, while Captain McCauley's company was decimated, he kept his men in order and steadily at work.

"At Charles City cross roads, on June 30, 1862, after the conflict became confused, and disorder and disorganization seemed to prevail, I ordered Captain McCauley to support a battery while other companies gave attention to a flanking party. The rebels charged on the battery. McCauley repelled them. The attack was renewed and the guns taken. McCauley rallied his men, and with others ordered to his aid, he retook the guns after a hand to hand fight over them, and he had lost his right arm, the elbow having been shattered by a rifle ball.

"The victory was his. The guns and ammunition were removed from the field. McCauley had his right arm amputated, and was taken prisoner that night.

"After his capture by the rebels, McCauley was taken to Libby Prison, where he was compelled to sit around on the edge of a cot and wait until another Union prisoner died to make room for him. He was subsequently paroled and sent to David's Island Hospital in New York harbor, where he remained until November, and was then ordered to report for duty at Harrisburg on recruiting service. He rejoined his regiment, notwithstanding his maimed condition, in January, 1863. He was promoted to captain of his company in the February following, and did duty with his regiment and company until December, 1863, when he was transferred to the Veteran Reserve Corps, being finally honorably discharged January 30th, 1866, the reason—service no longer required."

"After the war he was brevetted Major of United States Volunteers for 'gallant and meritorious services during the war.' In 1867-68 he was assistant Sergeant-at-Arms of the Pennsylvania Senate. In 1869 he was elected Register of Wills of Chester Co., Pa., and served three years. In 1873 he became general manager of the West Chester Gas Company. He is also a trustee of the State Normal School of this place and president of the board for many years, which position he still holds. He is actively identified with the Good Will Fire Company and Farmers' National Bank of West Chester, Pa. In 1897 he was elected Auditor General of Pennsylvania, which office he filled with conspicuous ability. He was one of the early members of McCall Post, No. 31, G. A. R., of which he is a past commander, and in 1902 was elected commander of the department of Pennsylvania, being continued therein until the present time, and is warmly devoted to the highest interest of the order. He has exerted himself most zealously in behalf of the Soldier's Orphans Commission, of which body he is vice president. In 1910 he was appointed U. S. Pension Agent with offices in Philadelphia, Pa.

"One of the city's old business houses, conducted by the same family for nearly seventy-five years, that of William B. Currey, at 208 Chestnut St., has passed into history. The contents of this old place were sold Friday.

"This business of selling notions and men's furnishings was established in 1831 by the late William Currey, who died on the 29th of Nov., 1890, in his eighty-fifth year. He was born of English parentage and came to the state of New Jersey when he was about twelve years old. His father was a Life Guard of King George IV. of England. He was six feet four inches in height and fought in the battle of Waterloo. Mrs. Ellen R. Currey, his great granddaughter, of 3344 Walnut St., has two pistols found on that battlefield.

"After his death his son William B. Currey, who is now retiring, took his place. He has been in the store for almost fifty-four years and doing business under his own name for sixteen years. When asked if he was sorry to leave the old store, he said: 'I am glad and I am sorry, but I want the rest.'"

The following obituary is taken from "The Evangelist":

"The Rev. Lewis Pyle Mercer died at his home in Cincinnati suddenly on July 6, 1906, of angina pectoris. He was born at Kennett Square, Chester, Co., Pa., June 27, 1847. His father and mother were highly respected Quakers. He was educated in the common schools, the Chester Co. Normal School, Taylor's Scientific and Classical Academy and the Theological School of the New Jerusalem Church, now at Cambridge, Mass. He commenced his ministry in the New Church in Cleveland, O., in 1870. He was ordained in 1872, and accepted the pastorate of the Detroit Society of the New Jerusalem, continuing there until April 1877, when he entered upon the pastorate of the newly-formed Union Swedenborgian Church of Chicago. In this pastorate he was very successful. On Nov. 6th, 1881, this church became united with the parent society—the Chicago Society of the New Jerusalem—on which date was held the first service in the Van Buren Street Temple, located where now stands Stelway Hall. From that time Mr. Mercer was pastor of the united and happy church. Very soon following, he was elected Presiding Minister of the Illinois Association, which office he filled until he left the state in 1901.

"In 1894, on the division of the Chicago Society of the New Jerusalem into four parishes, he became pastor of Kenwood church, Berkeley Ave. and Forty-second Place.

"In 1901 he accepted a call to the Cincinnati Society of the New Jerusalem and soon became General Pastor of the New Church over the Ohio Association. He was elected President of the Urbana, O., University of the New Church in 1905.

"To the wide circle of those who knew and loved him through personal contact, his death will be the apparent sundering of a tie of sweet friendship and companionship and the still wider circle of those who have profited from his admirable contributions to our church literature, the sudden hushing of his voice and the resting of his pen will come with a sense of personal and individual loss.

"Among the younger in years of our General Pastors, he possessed the wisdom of wide experience, a tested devotion and trained ability in meeting the needs of men such as few officials attain; and especially in the wide field of the Western States, where for years he succeeded the late Dr. Hibbard as General Pastor of the West, there will be a sudden feeling of temporary orphanage in his being taken away.

"The zeal and devotion with which Mr. Mercer assumed the duty of president of Urbana University, and the intelligence and skillful enterprise shown in the conduct of its affairs during the past two years are known to all interested in this important New Church educational institution.

"Joyous in his own nature, he would impart joy to all in every sphere of useful work. It will be hard to recall a word of bitterness or unkindness spoken by him of others and even harder to remember or think of any one's cherishing a hard or unkind feeling toward him.

"Outside of his own denomination he will probably be best recognized and remembered by the active and prominent part he took as one of the general committee for promoting and carrying on the Parliament of Religion during the Columbian Exposition at Chicago in 1893, and for the scholarly exposition of the faith of the church of his choice."

Her fidelity to the cause of equal suffrage was unswerving, and her interest in the society continued as long as she was able to hear the reports of our meetings. Modest and unassuming in deportment, she was brave in the defence of what she believed to be just and right, and was ever desirous that we should preserve the dignity and honesty of true womanhood. She was born and died at Baker City, Ore. She had visited her relatives in Pennsylvania a few years before her death, in company with her father.

The following is taken from an obituary at the time of her death:

"At 3.30 Sunday afternoon, when all nature seemed to smile on the universe, Miss Ethel Palmer answered the call of her maker and passed beyond the mysterious vale. Had we never seen more than the lily bulb could we imagine the beauty of the lily that it produces? Or if we had never seen more than the seed of the rose could we think it possible for the earth to develop a thing of such beauty? And so it must be in the growth in the life to come from the germ God has placed in the human body for development into the glorious beauties of a new life.

"Ethel Palmer has simply passed from whatever beauty she had in this life to a much more beautiful existence as is the lily more beautiful than the bulb. But death is a separation, and hard to bear. She knew the great messenger was near at hand and ere he had said the last word of command she called her father, whose helpmeet she had been, to her side, and putting her arms about his neck she passed from here to yonder in his great, kindly arms.

"About a year ago she underwent an operation at Portland, since which time she has never fully recovered and at the time of her death she was undergoing treatment at Radium Springs. When five years of age her mother died, but possessed with a domestic disposition that made her a home girl she has been the comfort of her father all these years. She was 26 years and one month old at the time of her demise. The funeral will take place from the family residence, being under the charge of Rev. J. N. Barry. The Daughters of Rebekah, No. 8, will attend in a body."

The account of the unfortunate accident which terminated fatally is from "The Chester Times," of Aug. 27, 1897:

"Amor N. Hall, who was injured while riding a tandem bicycle on the Chester pike on Wednesday evening, died at his home at Glenolden last night.

"At the time of the accident which resulted fatally to Amor, he was riding a tandem bicycle in company with Charles Fellows, on Wednesday night, when they collided with a milk wagon. The shaft of the wagon struck Mr. Hall with terrific force in the stomach. He was promptly carried into Mr. James' house, and Dr. Webb was called. There was thought to be a chance of recovery for Mr. Hall, but he gradually grew worse.

"Mr. Fellows, the other rider, was not much hurt. The young men said they did not see the approaching milk wagon, but they did not blame the driver as they were on the wrong side of the road."

"The young man's injuries were chiefly of an internal nature and he suffered much. Twenty-six hours elapsed between the accident and his death and during part of the time Mr. Hall was delirious. He realized, almost from the first, that his days were numbered, and his cheerful resignation was affecting indeed.

"He was in his 21st year and was respected by all. At one time he was employed at the Glenolden P., W. & B. R. R. station as assistant ticket agent, and was a valued employe. He was exceedingly bright, and was until his death employed as an operaor at the abbattoir, Philadelphia."

"The frightful railroad accident which took place last evening at Chadd's Ford brought sorrow and distress to our town, the only death from the catastrophe being J. William Palmer, the son of Monroe and Alice Palmer, a fine lad of 18 years of age, of exemplary character, and well known by everybody in the borough.

"William was a quiet, studious boy, and was attending Goldey's College, in Wilmington, Del. Yesterday morning the trolley line being crippled from the recent storm, the youth took the steam cars, and was returning from school with several companions when he met his death. His body was brought to his home here at nine o'clock last evening. The family are completely stunned by the dreadful affair and have the sympathy of the entire community in their great loss."

The following account is from the "Daily Local News," of West Chester, Pa., at the time of his death:

"Word was received to-day of the death of Captain Granville R. Palmer, at San Francisco, yesterday. Captain Palmer was a native of this vicinity and a son of Joseph Palmer, of Willow Glen. He left here fifteen years ago and located at Cheyenne, Wyo., where he organized a military company, and at the start of the war with Spain offered his company's services to the Government, which were at once accepted.

"His company was characterized by Secretary of War Alger as the finest equipped and best drilled military company west of the Mississippi river. The company remained in camp at San Francisco for several weeks, where Captain Palmer was taken sick with nervous prostration, and was sent to his home at Cheyenne to recuperate.

"Last week his company was ordered to the Philippines, and while his physical condition was such as to render it unsafe for him to go, he left his bed at Cheyenne and started to join his command on the Pacific Coast, but scarcely had he arrived at San Francisco when he was again prostrated and the fact that his company was compelled to go without him was too great a strain in his already broken nervous system, and he rapidly grew worse until he died.

"Captain Palmer was a man about 40 years of age, of fine military bearing, and his death is a great shock to his host of friends in the East. His body will be buried with military honors at Cheyenne, Wyo."

Children, born at Cheyenne, Wyo.:—

"JOE" PALMER GOES TO WEST POINT.

Passes Entrance Examination and Secures the Cadetship After Principal and Alternate Failed.

A Washington special says: The examining board at West Point Military Academy has found that Principal Diliman and Alternate Nollie Smith have failed to pass the required entrance examination and that Alternate Joseph Palmer, of Cheyenne, has passed.

Palmer will therefore secure the cadetship. He is a grandson of the late Joseph G. Palmer, of Doe Run, Chester county.

A Cheyenne paper says of him: Joe G. Palmer, the successful candidate for Senator Clark's appointment to West Point, is the eldest son of Mrs. Lilla P. Palmer, of 1616 Seymour street, the widow of Granville R. Palmer, late captain of Battery A, Wyoming National Guard. Young Palmer is now 20 years of age. He has been educated in the Cheyenne public schools, having finished the freshman year in the High School in 1904 and completing part of the Sophomore year, when he left school to take up special work. Two years ago he was appointed alternate to the Annapolis Navy Academy and took the examination for his appointment last year, being close to the principal cadet who was admitted. He took the competitive examination in this city with Messrs. Dillman and Smith, and on January 11 took the entrance examination to West Point at Ft. Logan, where he made the highest averages, which entitled him to the appointment as a cadet. Mr. Palmer's many Cheyenne friends will be delighted to hear of his success, and his mother when advised of the appointment to-day by a Tribune representative was overjoyed at the news.

Swayne, Kennett Square, Pa., 1-16-1890, Sarah P. Swayne, in her 88th year. In a review of the pilgrimage of this dear aged Friend the word faithful seems to acquire an added significance. In sore trials, the quiet demeanor, the fortitude, that evince an establishment on 'The Rock that is higher than I,' marked her deportment and glorified her life. Faithful, in her social duties as counsellor or friend, in her religious duties as clerk, overseer or elder, in her domestic duties as wife, mother, grandmother or great grandmother, surely she hath known a fulfillment of the promise, 'Be thou faithful unto death and I will give thee a crown of life.' GENEALOGICAL HISTORY

Trimble Division

The name TRIMBLE, according to Richard Stephen Charnock in his "Ludus Patronymicus, or Etymology of Curious Names," is from trebel, signifying "the fair or fine place," and is probably of Cornish origin. According to the best interpretation, it seems to come from the words tre, "a place" or "town," and bel, "fair" or "pretty"; and as surnames were taken, very considerably, from the surrounding circumstances, it is highly probable that the dweller in some cozy spot still continues to remind his progeny of it by a name, though they may have changed its orthography. It is likely, however, that the name, in some instances, has been derived from the roots trum, "firm," "strong," and compounded with bald, a "fortress," making trumbald, which has been changed in time to Trumbull and names of that character, which in turn have given place to Tremble, Trimble, etc.—Teutonic Name-System.

The appearance of the name in Ireland was due to the emigration which took place across the Channel, and, with others, it became established in the north of that island.

Concerning the ancestry of those of whom it is now proposed to speak but little can be said. They resided in Antrim, Armagh and adjacent counties in the north of Ireland, where the name is still to be found. The evidence of this is apparent from the following anecdote: There were residing in this (Delaware) county a few years ago emigrants from Enniskillen, in the north of Ireland, who became acquainted with some of the Trimble family of Concord, and they would notice the striking resemblance of certain of these to one Jack Trimble of their native town. A connection of the family, knowing this circumstance, and meeting with another emigrant from Enniskillen, inquired if he knew Jack Trimble, and immediately received the answer, "Yes; were you ever in Ireland?"

It is pretty well established that there arrived in this country in the 6th mo. (August), 1729, several brothers Trimble, but the exact number is in doubt. The names of William, James and Hugh are certain, as being brothers, and that of John is tolerably so, his name being to both William's and James's marriage certificates. Some accounts and traditions also exist of a Joseph and Henry.

As this record proposes to deal only with the descendants of William and James, the others will be passed with a brief notice.

HUGH m., but his wife's name does not appear; he settled in Middletown, Chester (now Delaware) Co., Pa., and raised a family of children; some of his descendants still reside in this county. He appears to have been a man of some note, as he represented the county in the Provincial Assembly for four years—from 1756 to 1760.

JOHN. We have no certain account of him, but he went to Virginia as a brother removed that way, and was probably the progenitor of the late Governor Allen Trimble, of Ohio, Hon. John Trimble, of Tennessee, Judge Robert Trimble of the U. S. Supreme Court, and of many of the name in the various Western States.

There were a Joseph and Mary Trimble living in the vicinity of Philadelphia, Pa., whose ancestry I have been unable to find.

They had a son, Joseph Trimble, who died 9 mo. 14, 1839. He married Rebecca Fussell 3 mo. 21, 1837, who was b. 4 mo. 21, 1796 and d. 7 mo. 8, 1882. She was buried at Merion Mtg.

She was the 8th child of Bartholomew Fussell and Rebecca Bond, he being a noted minister in the Society of Friends. James and Rebecca (Fussell) Trimble had a dau., Esther Jane Trimble, b. 3 mo. 2, 1838; d. 6 mo. 2, 1888; m. Isaac H. Lippincott 2 mo. —, 1882. She was a distinguished elocutionist and teacher, and author of a Chart of Literature Authors. No issue. (See Fussell Genealogy.)

JOSEPH TRIMBLE* emigrated from Ireland when a lad, about 1839, and served a time with a William Brown; he bought property in Nottingham, Chester Co.; on 9 mo. 30, 1741, m. Sarah Churchman, sister to John, a minister in the Society of Friends, and a second wife, Ann Chandler, having children by each. His descendants are still to be found in that vicinity.

JOSEPH TRIMBLE, b. July 10, 1720, in County of Antrim, Ireland; m. SARAH CHURCHMAN Nov. 30, 1741, only dau. of John Churchman, of Sothron Waldon, England, and Hannah Cone, dau. of Thos. Cone, of Oxford, Oxfordshire.

FIRST GENERATION

I—1. WILLIAM TRIMBLE, b. —, 1705, in the county of Antrim, Ireland; d. 8 mo. 5, 1795; buried at Concord Friends' grounds.

II—6. ANN PALMER (John 1), b. 1706, in Concord; d. 10 mo. 11, 1755.

The proceedings in relation to their position in Friends' Meeting and marriage are shown by the following extracts:

"At our Monthly Meeting of Women Friends, held ye 5th of ye 4th mo., 1732, Ann Pamer and Mary Pamer, daughters of John and Mary Pamer desirea to come under ye care of friends and their request is accepted."

"At a monthly meeting held at Concord Meeting-house ye 5th of ye 6th month 1734, Concord Preparative meeting Signifies that William Trimble Desires to come under the care of friends which this meeting accepts of."

"At a monthly meeting held at Concord Meeting-house the Second day of ye Eighth month by appointment 1734 Willam Trimble & Ann Palmer appeared here & proposed their intentions of Marriage with each other this being the first time Nicholas & John Newlin are to enquire into his clearness relating to marriage and also to enquire of ye young woman's parents whether they are free that their daughter shall marry with the said young man and report to our next meeting."

"At the next Monthly Meeting 4th of 9 mo. 1734.

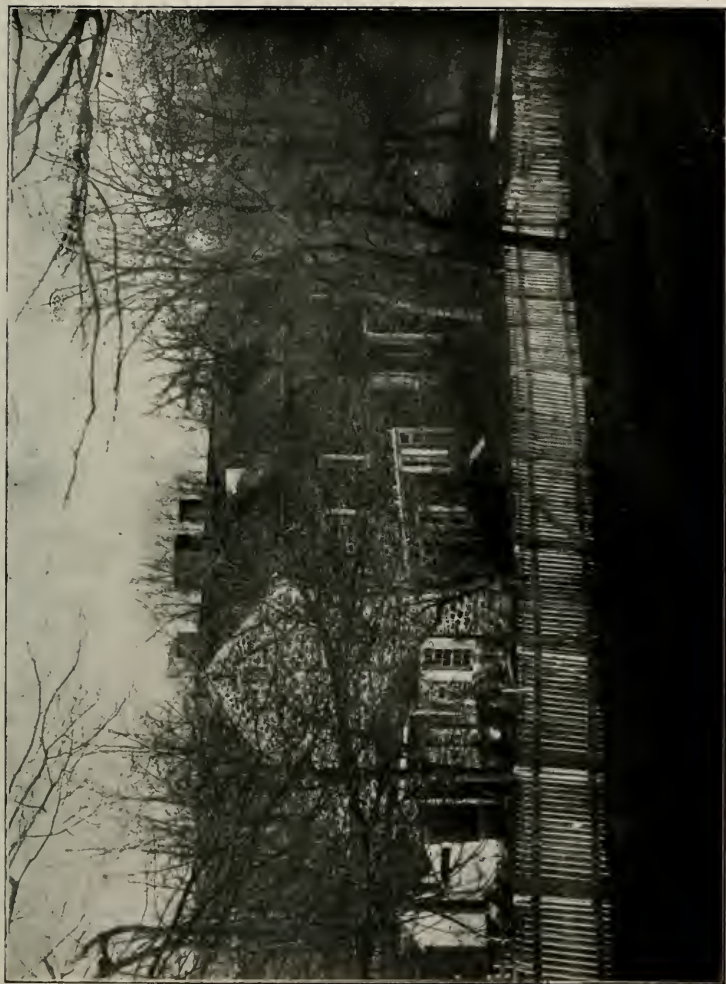

"William Trimble & Ann Palmer appeared here and continued their intentions of marriage this being the second time nothing appears to obstruct, they having consent of parents and relation as apercia by those friends which were to go to ye young womans parents to inquire of their consent which they gave very freely therefore this meeting leaves them to their liberty to consumate their marriage according to the good order used amongst us. Nicholas Newlin & John Newlin are to attend the marriage & report to ye next meeting & return the Marriage Certificate to be recorded."

"At a monthly meeting & ye 2nd day of ye 10 mo., 1734. Those which were to attend the marriage of William Trimble and Ann Palmer report that It was accomplished orderly ye 13 day of ye 9 month 1734 at Concord meeting-house and moderats at ye house of entertainment."

William purchased land in close proximity to Concord Mill (see illustration), and erected thereon a dwelling (his land will be seen by reference to the map); it appears to have been purchased in two tracts—the first, about seventy acres, of Thomas West, July 12, 1737, being part of a tract of two hundred acres taken up by Thomas King by patent dated July 2, 1681, and a little later from Joseph Nichlin, about thirty acres, which were a part of a tract purchased by Moses Key in 1702 of Thomas Moore, and subsequently sold to Nichlin. The annexed is a view of his residence. Their photographs are presented in a deed given to his brother James in 1748.

Here William and Ann took up their permanent abode, and appeared to have thriven both in the good things of the earth and of the spiritual kingdom. Friends seem to have appreciated his services, from the following extract: "At a monthly meeting held the 4th day of 6 mo. 1746, Concord preparative meeting returns William Trimble for an Elder to sit in the monthly meeting of ministers and Elders in the room of Thos. Gilpin, which is accepted till farther orders." He was continued in this position many years, and most like-

As time progressed he became the owner of more land in the neighborhood, and also of a large tract in Whiteland Twp., 15 miles northward in the Great Valley. The extent of his possessions is quite fully shown in his will. Ann, as may be noticed, died long before him. She was buried at Concord.

VIEW OF CONCORD MILLS AND SETTLEMENT OF WILLIAM TRIMBLE.

He m. second, PHEBE THOMAS,* 9. mo. 15, 1757, at Uwchlan M.-H., widow of Richard Thomas, of Whiteland, and mother of three of his daughters-in-law. She was b. 8 mo. 26, 1717; d. 6 mo. 14, 1784. *For further notice see John Trimble No. II-3. No ch. by the last marriage.

From various certificates granted by Concord and Uwchlan Monthly Meetings, it would seem that William and Phebe removed to his possessions in Whiteland for a time, but returned to Concord after the death of his son John, and continued to reside there until the close of their lives.

COPY OF THE WILL OF WILLIAM TRIMBLE, PROVEN 1795.

I William Trimble of the Township of Concord being advanced in years and weak of Body but through divine favour of sound disposing mind and memory do make this my last will and Testament.—Imprimis I give to my son William Trimble all that part of my premises situate in West Whiteland that adjoins his saw mill and north of the great Road called Lancaster Road to him his Heirs and assigns forever, likewise I give and bequeath to my said son William my black Walnut Desk and walnut oval Table in full of all Legacies whatsoever. * Note.—Phebe Trimble became an acknowledged minister in the Society of Friends. By the records of Chester Quarterly Mtg., it appears that she obtained a minute of approval to travel to the westward (southward) of this continent 11 mo. 6, 1760. "On returning the minute 8 mo. 8, 1761, she produced two certificates of appreciation—one from the quarterly mtg. in the County of Orange and Roan held at Cane Creek in North Carolina dater 9th of 5 mo., 1761; the other from the monthly mtg. held in Fredericksburg, South Carolina date 1st of 2nd mo., 1761—both setting forth their satisfaction of her visit in their parts, which were read to our general satisfaction."

A memorial of her life given by Concord Monthly Mtg. states: "About the 42d year of her age, in 1759, she settled with her husband, William Trimble, in Concord, being recommended by certificate from Goshen Mtg. as an approved minister; which character she justly attained. Her public appearances tho generally in few words were truly acceptable and edifying, being clear, pertinent, comprehensive and savory. Her deportment was instructive and it may justly be said her 'Adorning was that of a meek and quiet spirit.' Her heart and house were open to the reception and entertainment of her friends and the poor of all denominations, in her neighborhood, partook of her kindness and by her removal lost a sympathizing friend."

Item, I give, Devise to my son Daniel Trimble all my Messuage Plautation and tract of land situate in the township of Thornbury, containing one hundred acres with allowance to him, his Heirs and assigns forever on condition that he pays his brother Joseph Sixty Pounds within one year after my Decease.

WILLIAM TRIMBLE.

The children of William and Ann were :

3. John, b. 6 mo. (Aug O. S.) 24, 1735; d. 6 mo. 25, 1772.
4. William, b. 9 mo. 9, 1737; d. 2 mo. 6, 1821.
5. Joseph, b. 7 mo. 17, 1739; d. 10 mo. 16, 1821.
6. Samuel, b. 7 mo. 17, 1741; d. 7 mo. 13, 1818.
7. Hannah, b. 8 mo. 22, 1743; d. 5 mo. 8, 1834.
8. Daniel, b. 12 mo. 1, 1745; d. 2 mo. 2, 1807.
9. Rachel, b. 4 mo. 11, 1748; d. 9 mo. 27, 1832.
10. Ann, b. 1 mo. 19, 1752; d. 9 mo. 30, 1837.

These children were born under the O. S. calendar except the last, who was born in the first month of the first year of the new style. A further account of them will be found under their numbers in the next generation.

LINE OF JAMES.

II—2. JAMES TRIMBLE, b. on Midsummer Eve, 4 mo. (June O. S.) 24, 1707, in the county of Antrim, Ireland; d. 11 mo. 21, 1792, in Bradford Chester Co., Pa.; buried by the side of his wife in Friends' grounds at Marshallton. He arrived in this country in company with his brothers in 1729, and probably remained with or near them for some time, though nothing is known of his doings until we find:

"At a Monthly meeting held at Concord meeting-house ye 5 day of ye 3 month 1735,

"James Trimble Desires to joyn himself to friends and come under their care which is approved of."

It has been suggested that both William and James "were inticed into the fold by their sweethearts," but, whatever the cause, we may safely assume that the subsequent life of each shows a sincerity of attachment to principle not common where connections are blindly formed.

II—7. MARY PALMER (John 1), being younger than Ann, was probably b. about 1708, but the entire record concerning her age seems to have been lost.

The proceedings relating to their marriage being exactly similar to those of William's and Ann's, I have somewhat abridged them:

"At a Monthly Meeting held at Concord ye 6 day of 8 month 1735 James Trimble & Mary Palmer appeared here & proposed their intentions of Marriage with each other & c. At the next meeting 3 of 9 mo. 1735 James Trimble & Mary Palmer appeared here and continued their intentions of Marriage &c., &c.

"Thomas West & Benjamin Mendenhall, Jr. are to attend ye marriage & report. At the meeting held ye 5 of ye 11 month 1735 Those Friends that were to attend the marriage of James Trimble and Mary Palmer report that it was accomplished ye 3 day of ye 10 month 1735 at Concord Meeting-house and moderate at the house of entertainment."

Soon after their marriage they removed to within the limits of Chester Meeting, as:—

"At a Monthly Meeting held at Concord 1st of 1 mo. (March) 1735-6 James Trimble made application for a certificate for him and his wife to Chester Monthly Meeting, they being settled within the verge of ye said meeting."

This settlement did not prove permanent, as:—

"At a Monthly Meeting at Concord ye 5th of ye 4 month 1738, James Trimble produced a certificate for him and his wife from Chester Monthly meeting which is accepted."

The future home is not yet found, but a few months adds the additional information:—

"At a Monthly meeting held at Concord the first day of 11 month 1738, application being made to this meeting for a certificate for James Trimble and his wife they being settled within the verge of Br'dford Monthly Meeting John Newlin and Ralph Eavenson are to inquire into their affairs and Clearness of the conversation if nothing appears to obstruct to prepare a Certificate and bring it to next meeting."

At the next meeting the certificate for James Trimble and wife was produced and signed.

It is probable that their settlement was on the tract of land he afterward purchased, and which has continued to belong to his descendants to the present time. It is situated on the west branch of the Brandywine, in Bradford Twp., Chester Co., Pa., and a small village erected thereon bears the name of Trimbleville. The annexed view gives a good idea of the locality and situation of the buildings.

By reference to the deeds given in relation to this property, it appears to have been part of three several tracts of land as originally taken up by Richard Peirce, Benjamin Chambers and Samuel Marshall. The first deed states that "By a warrant from the late Proprietary's Commissioners dated the 17th of May 1705 there was surveyed and laid out on the 17th of Sept. then ensuing unto Richard Peirce in right of himself and wife Ann, who came servants into the province at the first settlement thereof, a certain tract of land situate in Bensalem township (now called Bradford) containing 100 acres &c."

The second deed informs that by a patent under the hands of Edward Shippen, Griffith Owen, Thomas Story and James Logan, Commissioners of William Penn, late Proprietary of the province of Pennsylvania, etc., they did grant and convey to Benjamin Chambers a tract of land in Bensalem township containing 2470 acres, etc.

By the third deed we have that "John Penn Thomas Penn, and Richard Penn, Esqs., true and absolute proprietaries of the province of Pennsylvania &c, by a certain patent bearing date the 3 and 20th day of August 1735 for the consideration therein mentioned did grant and convey to Samuel Marshall a certain tract of land in Bradford township, county of Chester &c containing 199½ acres." The consideration mentioned in all the deeds is one English silver shilling, or value thereof in coin, yearly on the first of each March for each 100 Acres.

After various changes, portions of each of the above tracts came into the possession of William Marshall and Elizabeth his wife. And on 4th day of May, 1744, they sold to Robert Mendenhall, William Trimble and James Trimble a "certain message plantation and water-course and Grist-mill and saw mill and 70 acres of land," giving to each a separate deed for one full and equal and undivided third part thereof. This copartnership continued seven years, when on the 18th day of June, 1751, William Trimble and Ann his wife, and Robert Mendenhall and Phebe his wife, conveyed to James Trimble their shares in the above property. In 1758 James also purchased adjoining lands to the amount of twenty-eight acres.

It is rarely that so intricate and numerous proceedings are met with in the purchase of land as may be found in the deeds by which James and Mary became possessors of this property.

They lived here during the rest of their lives, quietly pursuing the noble avocations of farming and milling. The location has been rendered classic by its memorable associations with the American Revolution. It was at this place, Trimble's Ford, that part of the British troops crossed the stream on that eventful day, the 11th of September, 1777, to the surprise of Gen. Washington and temporary check to the cause of liberty.

James survived Mary many years, but remained unmarried. His will is as follows:

"Be It Remembered that I James Trimble of the township of West Bradford in the County of Chester and State of Pennsylvania being well stricken in years but through the goodness of God favoured with a sound disposing mind and Memory and calling to Mind the Mortality of my body I therefore for the settling of my outward estate do make and ordain this my last will and Testament in manner and form following viz First my will is that my Body be interred in a decent and orderly manner at the discretion of my hereinafter Ex'rs and that all my just debts and funeral charges be carefully and finally discharged by my Ex'r.

T.-4 and T.-5).

John and Lydia remained in Concord, pursuing the occupation of farming. He purchased land of Joseph Nichlin, adjoining his father's, Oct. 8, 1771, being part of a tract originally taken up by Nathaniel Parke, but they did not long enjoy its possession, as he died within a year after the purchase. He was buried at Concord.

born, but they appear to have resided for some time in the vicinity of Concord. They brought a certificate from Uwchlan to Concord Meeting 6 mo. 9, 1779. Grace and their youngest child died while here. After his second marriage they removed to East Caln, taking a certificate from Concord Meeting 8 mo. 3, 1785. By deed and his father's will he became possessed of a farm and mill in Whiteland, on which he made considerable improvement, to which they had removed in 1793.

By reference to a deed given 10 mo. 28, 1776, it appears that after his father's second marriage he and Phebe deeded to William, Jr., and Grace a tract of eleven acres and thirty-four perches, including the saw-mill and right of race, stating the act to be "as well for the consideration of five shillings as for the love and affection which they have and do bear their said son and daughter." William and Ann were probably buried at Uwchlan.

The children of William and Grace were:—

22. Richard, b. 8 mo. 15, 1767; d. 2 mo. 7, 1847.
23. Susanna, b. 9 mo. 18, 1769; d. young.

26. Ann, b. 2 mo. 16, 1778; d. young.

By second wife, Ann Edge:—

27. Phebe, b. 7 mo. 21, 1786; d. 12 mo. —, 1816.
28. John, b. 1 mo. 31, 1788; d. 10 mo. 28, 1855.
29. Grace, b. 12 mo. 24, 1789; d. 8 mo. 17, 1867.
30. William, b. 3 mo. 12, 1793; d. 12 mo. 18, 1863.

✓ II—5. JOSEPH TRIMBLE (William 1), b. Second day, 7 mo. 17, 1739; d. 10 mo. 16, 1824; m. HANNAH THOMAS* 5 mo. 14, 1783, in Concord M.-H., a sister to Lydia and Grace (see T.-3 and T.-4), b. 5 mo. 5, 1749; d. 5 mo. 2, 1829.

They lived in Concord, on the western part of his father's land, on which he engaged in farming, and became its owner before his father's death. Hannah became a minister and Joseph an Elder in the Society of Friends, in which they were both beloved members. They had no children. They were buried at Concord Mtg.

The first settlement of that township was by a "Richard Thomas, in right of original purchase made in Wales by Richard Ap Thomas† of Whit-

*Note.—Richard Thomas, 3d., belonged to the family of that name that settled in Whiteland Twp., Chester Co., Pa. He was b. 2 mo. 22, 1713; d. 9 mo. 22, 1754. He was a son of Richard Thomas, Jr., and Grace Atherton, who were m. 11 mo. 15, 1712-13.

†Note.—The family of Ap Thomas appears, according to an account by Col. Richard Thomas, to have been for many generations landholders in Whitford Garden, Wales. Whether the surname was uniformly Thomas or changed occasionally according to Welsh practice cannot be ascertained; but it is certain that the name was ancient in that country. Richard Ap Thomas being in years, and grown tired with the dissipation of his compeers embraced the tenets of the Quakers and joined Penn's first migration to Pennsylvania, bringing his only son Richard, a boy of ten years of age, and a number of dependents. He was a purchaser of 5000 acres of land of William Penn by deeds of lease and release dated July 24 and 25, 1681, for the sum of £100. He arrived in Philadelphia in 1683, and died soon after, his will being dated 9th mo. 13, 1683. He left his land here to his son and his estate in Wales to his wife and daughter who remained there. The son endured many trials and hardships before getting into possession of his ford Garden, in Flintshire, North Wales. The house which this settler built upon his purchase was placed in the immediate vicinity of an Indian village, and the reason assigned for such a situation was that the dogs of the village would assist in keeping wild beasts (then numerous) at a distance."—Lewis.

Phebe Ashbridge the dau. of George Ashbridge and Mary Malin, of Chester, and Goshen (who were m. 8 mo. 23, 1701), he being an emigrant in 1698. (For Phebe's second m., see William Trimble, No. 1.)

√ II—6. SAMUEL TRIMBLE (William 1). b. Fifth day, 7 mo. 17, 1741; d. 7 mo. 13, 1818; m. ESTHER BRINTON 4 mo. 15, 1767, in Concord M.-H., dau of John Brinton† and Margaret Williamson, b. 1742; d. 2 mo. 30, 1821.

Samuel went to Nottingham in 1756 as an apprentice to James Brown, hatter, and thence to Philadelphia. In 1764 he returned to Concord and established himself in business. In 1774 he had 8 acres of land; in 1777, 30 acres and in 1787, 78 acres. He was appointed 7 mo. 8, 1772, to record certificates of removal in the room of his brother John, deceased; he was appointed overseer of Concord Meeting 7 mo. 6, 1774, which position he held until 8 mo. 8, 1781. He was appointed an elder 2 mo. 8, 1775, but was released from this service 9 mo. 5, 1787, and was recommended as a minister 8 mo. 6, 1788, which position he held the rest of his life, being nearly 30 years. His residence was in what was then called "Concord Hill," now Concordville, Pa. After his death his widow removed to Thornbury. Both were buried at Concord Mtg.

property when of age, and also in care of his mother and sister, the former marrying again and losing her property and she dying the son brought his sister to Pennsylvania about 1699. He finally settled in the Great Valley, where he m. and became prosperous. His son, Richard 4th, a brother of the three sisters who m. Trimbles, became a noted person in revolutionary times. "The Colonial Records of Pennsylvania" from 1774 until the close of the war are replete with notices of the active services both civil and military of the 4th Richard Thomas, of Chester county. He was a member of the first association in the county formed to effect the purpose of the Continental Congress. In September, 1775, he was Lieutenant Colonel of a regiment of volunteers, being the first raised in this county. On April 19, 1776, he was appointed Colonel of the 5th Battalion of Associators in the county of Chester, the commission being signed "By order of the Assembly, John Morton, Speaker. He was a member of the Provincial Conference which met June 18, 1776, and appointed the Pennsylvania delegates who signed the Declaration of Independence. His various duties during the war are described as of the most arduous and responsible character. In 1785 to 1789, inclusive, he was elected a member of Assembly and in 1790 of the State Senate. In the years 1794, 1796 and 1798 he was elected to the fourth, fifth and sixth Congresses, being the first representative from his native county under the Constitution. With his brother George they inherited the landed estate of their father. Col. Richard died in Philadelphia in 1832.

† Note.—John Brinton, (b. 6 mo. 17, 1721; d. 10 mo. 2, 1813), was the 5th of 13 children of Joseph Brinton and Mary Peirce, who were m. 10 mo. 6, 1711, the latter being a dau. of George and Ann (Gainer) Peirce, of Thornbury, who came from Winscom, Somersetshire, England. Joseph Brinton, (b. 11 mo. 30, 1692; buried 10 mo. 18, 1751), was the eldest son of William Brinton, Jr., and Jane Thatcher (who were m. 1690). William and Jane were emigrants with their parents, and it is said of them, "Both saw the country an unbroken wilderness, and both lived to see it well settled, cultivated and improved."

They settled in, and gave the name to Birmingham Twp., where he took up an extensive tract of land. Jane Thatcher was the dau. of Richard and Jane, who settled in Thornbury, and who, it is believed, migrated from Uffington, in Berkshire, England, where he had suffered persecution on account of his religion.

William Brinton, Jr., built a house on his homestead in 1704, which, after 200 years of service, remains in good repair. Esther Brinton Trimble had a brother, Joseph Brinton, who m. Isaac Jacobs had brought a certificate from Gwynedd Mtg. to Uwchlan Mtg., 8 mo. 9, 1764, and was consequently residing in that neighborhood at the time of his m. They continued there until 1789, during which time he was appointed clerk of Uwchlan Mtg., 10 mo. 8, 1778, in place of Thomas Lightfoot, which position he held till 12 mo. 6, 1781, being succeeded by Wm. Wilhons. He was recommended as a minister 2 mo. 8, 1781. They removed to the vicinity of Gwynedd, taking a certificate 4 mo. 9, 1789 to that Mtg. for themselves and nine children then living, he being described as a "minister well approved amongst us," and their dau. Mary's "sober and orderly deportment hath merited our esteem for her."

They remained here about ten years and then returned to Uwchlan Mtg., bringing a certificate, 5 mo. 9, 1799, for themselves and six ch., to wit, Mary, Phebe, Elizabeth, Sarah, Isaac and Joseph. The residence was now in Whiteland Twp. upon property which Hannah inherited by her father's will, of which Isaac was one of the executors. His death occurred here and he was buried at Uwchlan, having been an esteemed minister over thirty-four years. A brother, Israel Jacobs, was a man of talents and moral worth and for a time was a representative in Congress. By the records it appears that Isaac Jacobs made some religious visits to other parts. On 10 mo. 8, 1807, he obtained a certificate to attend some meetings in the Jerseys, the Yearly Mtg. at Flushing, L. I., &c., and 9 mo. 8, 1808, Uwchlan Mtg. gave him a certificate to visit some mtgs. in New York. Hannah removed to Cayuga Co., N. Y., in 1 mo., 1824, and resided with her dau. Hannah and son-in-law, David Thomas, until her death. She was buried at North Street Cemetery. She retained her mental faculties unimpaired to the close of her life which was in her ninety-first year.

The following interesting letter and account is furnished by a great-granddaughter, Matilda Jacobs, of Aurora, N. Y.:

COPY OF EXTRACTS FROM LETTER.

1st mo. 2d, 1825

"My dear Son:

"I have for some time past felt very desirous to say something to thee and thy dear Susan and concluded I must try to write a little. * * * * You have been informed of my getting along in safety and with much more ease than I had looked for. Our road was so good and smooth and I was so bolstered up that I sometimes seemed to think I sat as easy as in my arm-chair at home; our lodging was the worst, and it was mostly a relief to get out of the tavern into the carriage, but I have not been without a share of affliction since my arrival; losing of Kate, the horse, has been the greatest. Thou cannot conceive what a trial it was to me. It almost made me wish I had not come, and what made it more trying, there was very little means used to recover her. D. T. was from home when she broke out of his pasture, and his sons were very much engaged, tho' Edward did ride a little about and went as far as Ludlow, but was not prepared to go further. I wanted her advertised but it was not done, and I expect I must now give her up after bringing me here so finely.

"I want to inform you something about this place, which perhaps you don't know or have not fully considered. I don't wish to discourage your coming here as it would be a great disappointment to me if I got fixed here to have you left behind, but I think it right to tell you some things that you may know what you have to depend upon.

This little village is a pleasant spot and the inhabitants of which there are about eight or ten families, are people of regular conduct and kind, very decent and neat in their houses, but their language and manners are such that I should not wish our children to imitate, it is very much out from among friends; there is a large school very near, but not a suitable one for friends' children; the store seems to be a place of great business, but they take in all kinds of produce more than they do with you. The house is pretty clever, but not a complete one, the rooms are large and cold, more windows than necessary and no shutters I think there must be some repairs and alterations to make it quite comfortable.

"As to this place feeling like home I hardly know what to say. I feel myself a stranger in a strange land, tho' I have met with some kind friends and I believe there are many such in these parts. I wish thee to write to me as often as thee can and let me know how my friends and connections are, and about the dear little children, tell them their grandmother often thinks of them, wants to see them, loves them and wishes them to be good children. * * * * I intended before I left you to have said something to thee about my things, particularly the clock and bookcase, I should not like either of them to be sold, if they can't be brought here I wish them left in somebody's care. * * * * With much love affectionately to you both,

"Your affectionate mother,
"HANNAH JACOBS."

The journey to New York had been in her own carriage, driving her favorite horse, Kate. On her arrival at the home of her daughter, Hannah Thomas, Kate had been turned into a pasture and in the night had jumped the fence and attempted to return to her home in Pennsylvania. No doubt she would have found her way with sure instinct, had not some one on the way captured her for his own use. Nothing was ever heard of her by her owner.

Gov. S. W. Pennypacker says that Lieut. Col. Caleb Parry married Elizabeth, sister to Isaac Jacobs 1st. He was the first Pennsylvanian of prominence killed in the Revolution. Another sister, Hannah, married David Rittenhouse, the celebrated astronomer, in Dec. 1772.

Thomas Jefferson wrote of David and Hannah Rittenhouse in a private letter to his daughter Martha, "nothing could give me more pleasure than your being much with that worthy family wherein you will see the best examples of rational life, and learn to imitate them."

Gov. Pennypacker says, speaking of the Jacobs family:— This old and distinguished family, none of whom are now left in the neighborhood, descended from two brothers, who came to America about the year 1700, and settled along the Perkiomen Creek, in Philadelphia Co.

Israel Jacobs, who was a brother of Isaac 1st, Mrs. Parry and Mrs. Rittenhouse, was the first to reside on the property at Mont Clare. He was on terms of social intimacy with George Washington, and was a member of the second U. S. Congress, in 1791. He was then the only Quaker in that body, and the broad brim of his hat attracted universal attention. Through the Revolutionary War, he was one of the committee in Philadelphia Co. appointed by the Council of Safety to distribute food, clothing and money among the families of poor soldiers.

At the time of the commencement of that struggle, he was a member of the Pennsylvania Assembly, in which body he had been continued from 1770 to 1774. Another brother, John Jacobs, was the last Speaker of the Pennsylvania Assembly before the Revolution.

terested in 1798 to establish an institution at Tunesassa Western New York for the civilization of the Indians, then under the noted chief Cornplanter, of which his account thereof has been printed.

He also wrote some account of the ravages of the yellow fever in 1798, both of which interesting accounts were given in "The Friend", of Philadelphia. Joseph and Mary settled to the eastward of Downingtown; he became an extensive landholder and improver in the neighborhood, leaving the impress of his character on the well-improved farms that remain in possession of his descendants and others. He took an active part in the American cause during the Revolution, becoming thereby separated from the Society of Friends.

Dec. 14, 1691, in Bradninch in Devonshire, Eng., and d. in Downingtown, Pa., 1 mo. 15, 1772; his first wife was named Ellen and second Thomazine, but neither of their maiden names are known; the latter was perhaps the mother of all his children. He appears to have first settled in Concord where he was a taxable 1718 to 1732, and where 6 mo. 3, 1730, he and his wife were received into membership with the Society of Friends. In 1733 they removed to Sadsbury, and in 1735 they settled in East Cain, where he purchased from John Taylor 511 acres of land by deed of 3d and 4th of July, 1739; here he built a mill and dwelling-house on the east branch of the Brandywine. The place was for a long time called Milltown, but subsequently changed to Downingtown. Thomas and Thomazine had eleven children, and their descendants are very numerous.

Abiah and Ann lived near the east branch of the Brandywine, where he had an extensive farm and mill. It was in East Bradford Twp. He inherited 98 acres of land with the mill, and to this added 99 acres by purchase April

* Note.—Samuel, was a son of Samuel Sellers, Jr., and Sarah Smith (who were m. 1712), b. 1715. Jane was a dau. of George Wood and Hannah Hood, b. 1716. Samuel, Jr., was a son of Samuel Sellers and Ann Gibbons (who were m. 1684). He obtained a "high reputation as the inventor of a complex machine for twisting worsted and as a camlet and coverlet weaver." His wife was the dau. of John and Eleanor Smith, and his mother the dau. of Henry Gibbons. The elder Samuel emigrated from Belper, County of Darby in England about 1682, and settled in Darby, Chester (now Delaware) Co., Pa. He was a man of considerable ability and note in the early settlement of Pennsylvania. By trade he was a weaver and carried on that business in connection with farming. He obtained a patent for 100 acres of land in Darby (now Upper Darby), Dec. 10, 1690, and for 71 1-2 acres 7 mo. 1, 1691. The location is now called "Millbourne" and is noted for its extensive flour mills. "As a man he was upright and just in his dealings; as a Friend he was attentive to his religious duties; he lived to an advanced age and died about 1732." His descendants are numerous, several of whom became distinguished in public life.

† Note.—Samuel Taylor and Mary Smedley, were m. 11 mo. 12, 1737, at Goshen M. H.; he d. 1759; he was a son of Abiah Taylor, Jr., and Deborah Gearing (dau. of John Gearing of Stanford in the Vale) who were m. at Farringdon, Berkshire, England, 2 mo. (April O. S.) 13, 1694; he was a son of Abiah Taylor of Didcot, in Berkshire, and arrived in Pennsylvania in 1702. He obtained a warrant dated 1 mo. 19, 1702-3 to take up 500 acres in Chester County, and another 2 mo. 6, 1703 for 475 acres. In pursuance of these warrants a tract of 430 acres was laid out for him in East Bradford Twp., through which the East branch of the Brandywine flows. Near the upper end of this he erected in 1724 a brick house which is still standing with its quaint narrow windows, formerly with lead sash and small panes of glass. He had also as early as 1722 erected a mill upon a stream then known as Taylor's run, of which the ruins only remain. Mary Smedley, the wife of Samuel Taylor (b. 10 mo. 22, 1719; d. 6 or 7 mo., 1739), was a dau. of Thomas Smedley and Sarah Baker (who were m. 8 mo. 26, 1710 in Middletown Mtg.), and Thomas Smedley was a son of George Smedley, the immigrant, who came from Derbyshire, England, in 1682. Of George Smedley it can be said that he appears to have resided within the limits of Philadelphia for a few years and was m. there in 1687 to Sarah Goodwin, widow of John Goodwin and dau. of Thomas Kitchen. They resided for some time on land he had purchased in Middletown Twp. and thence in Willistown Twp., where he had purchased land in 1705, where they both closed their lives, Sarah 3 mo. 16, 1709, and George 3 mo. —, 1723. Their descendants at the beginning of the present century number over twelve thousand as noted in the Smedley Genealogy by Gilbert Cope.

9, 1761. On this tract he erected a substantial stone house, which is still standing, bearing the initials of himself and wife and dated 1768. In the years 1795 to 1801 he was elected to the Pennsylvania Legislature, which then met at Lancaster; and died while in the performance of his official duties.

The dairy of his nephew, Samuel Taylor, contains the following notes:—

"12 mo. 3, 1801. This afternoon tidings was brought us that Abiah Taylor was dead at Lancaster.

"12 mo. 4: This morning I went in Company with several others to meet the Corpse of Abiah Taylor on the Road from Lancaster & mett it on the turnpike Road at West Brandywine Bridge; then changed it into another Carriage & brought it to his house.

"12 mo. 5: This day I was at the burying of the Corpse which was attended by a great number of People and this Evening his two sons, Abiah & George Came home from Maryland & missed seeing their Father before he was buried; & this to be remembered that he was the first buried at Bradford in that manner, with a cover of strong plank placed above the Coffin.

Their children were:—

- 74. Mary, b. 6 mo. 16, 1763; d. 4 mo. 7, 1836.
- 75. Samuel, b. 12 mo. 27, 1764; d. 7 mo. 14, 1842.
- 76. Sarah, b. 2 mo. 21, 1767; d. 5 mo. 11, 1846.
- 77. Ann, b. 8 mo. 4, 1769; d. 12 mo. 5, 1828.
- 78. Abiah, b. 5 mo. 9, 1772; d. 11 mo. 8, 1852.
- 79. Deborah, b. 4 mo. 13, 1774; d. 6 mo. 5, 1852.
- 80. George, b. 2 mo. 25, 1775; d. 6 mo. 24, 1817.
- 81. James, b. 12 mo. 4, 1782; d. 5 mo. 4, 1863.

II—15. SARAH TRIMBLE (James 1), b. 8 mo. 28, 1744; d. 4 mo. 2, 1833; m. ABRAHAM TAYLOR 1 mo. 1, 1789 (being his second wife), son of Samuel Taylor* and second wife, Deborah Darlington (who were m. 10 mo. 16, 1740), b. 8 mo. 5, 1744; d. 1819.

Abraham was possessed of a fine farm on the Brandywine, where he and Sarah resided. His descendants by his first wife are numerous, both in the neighborhood of his late residence and in the great West, but by Sarah there appears to have been but:—

- 82. —One child, a dau. Sarah, who died unm.

All were probably buried at Bradford Mtg.; for account of Samuel Taylor see last No. Deborah Darlington, being his second wife, would make Abiah and Abraham half brothers.

II—16. ISAAC TRIMBLE (James 1), b. 4 mo. 6, 1747; d. 3 mo. 28, 1824; m. ELIZABETH WALTER 5 mo. 8, 1771, dau. of Joseph Walter† and Jane Brinton, b. 2 mo. 24, 1754; d. 12 mo. 1, 1787.

Isaac appears to have been a miller. They probably resided in Chester Co., Pa., a number of years and with their family removed about 1785 to Deer Creek, Md., where he owned and carried on a flour-mill. He is represented by a descendant as a "stern, staunch Friend, much esteemed by his religious neighbors of other persuasions, but feared by the reckless, of whom there were a large number around him." Elizabeth is described as possessing "great loveliness of character, with earnest Christian fearfulness." After her death Isaac removed to Baltimore, where he held the position of flour inspector for the city for many years. He died at the residence of his son John.

* Note.—Samuel Taylor and Deborah Darlington were m. 10 mo. 16, 1741, at Birmingham Mtg. She being a dau. of Abraham Darlington and Elizabeth Hilborn, of Birmingham. Both of Samuel Taylor's wives were buried at Goshen. Deborah was b. 7 mo. 13, 1719; bur. 2 mo. 10, 1803.

Their children were:—

- 83. Joseph, b. 6 mo. 19, 1772; d. 3 mo. 17, 1870.
- 84. John, b. 7 mo. 17, 1774; d. 2 mo. 28, 1856.
- 85. Isaac, b. 10 mo. 16, 1776; d. 8 mo. 2, 1777.

- 88. James, b. 9 mo. 9, 1783; d. 1 mo. 11, 1819.
- 89. Isaac (2d), b. 2 mo. 5, 1786; d. 12 mo. 13, 1812.

The following account is taken from the meeting records:—

"At a monthly meeting held at Concord M.-H. ye 6th of ye 9 mo. 1738 Joseph Walter appeared here and proposed a paper of his acknowledgment for his outgoing in marrying his wife by and with a Priest contrary to the knowledge of his and her parents and also for his going to a man to inquire concerning a horse that is supposed to be stolen from the said Joseph, the meeting appoints Benj. Mendenhall & Ralph Eavenson to go with the said Joseph to see that he makes satisfaction to his parent & report to next meeting." The report was not submitted for three months, as appears by the following: "To the Monthly Meeting to be held at Concord ye 5th of ye 12 mo. 1738, Whereas I have been educated amongst the Religious Society of the people called Quakers but for want of having a due regard to the grace or good spirit of God in my heart did so much slight Friends' rules concerning marriage as to take liberty marry by a Priest and contrary to Parents' consent for which I find myself at a distance & not so near friends as since desired the sence of which hath brought some trouble upon me and am willing to take the blame to myself desiring friends would pass it by and continue me under their care hoping for the future to be more watchful through Divine assistance over my ways, and for going to a man to be informed concerning my horse I can truly say I had no desire that he should make use of any bad art in that affair and if he could not tell me anything by his learning in an honest way to go no further, likewise was ignorant concerning friends' rules in that affair but being since better informed hope for the future not to fall into the like again.

"(Signed)

JOSEPH WALTER."

At the same meeting, "the Friends appointed to go with Joseph Walter to see how far he had made satisfaction to his and her parents report that he has done it and the said testimony is entered on the minutes."

Joseph was a "very powerful and passionate man, but it was said that a slight touch from the hand of his small and gentle wife, though unnoticed by others, would in a moment quell the storm in his bosom."

II—17. HANNAH TRIMBLE (James 1), b. 8 mo. 9, 1752; d. between 1820 and 1825; m. JOHN FADDIS Dec. 1, 1771, at Old Swedes' Church, Wilmington, Del., by Rev. Israel Acrelius (church record). He emigrated from Ireland, b. about 1750; d. about 1815. They were probably buried at Bradford Mtg.

Hannah was dealt with for outgoing in marriage by Bradford Monthly Meeting 3 mo. 13, 1772. They continued near the home of her childhood, and after his death she lived with her nephew at the old homestead.

III—19. WILLIAM TRIMBLE (John, William), b. 12 mo. 10, 1766; d. 6 mo. 10, 1842; m. MARY MATHER* 9 mo. 10, 1795, of Whitemarsh, Montgomery Co., Pa., dau. of Isaac Mather and Mary Morris (who were m. 5 mo. 17, 1770), b. 6 mo. 12, 1773; d. 1 mo. 13, 1849. Both were buried at Concord Friends' grounds.

William and Mary settled in Concord, at the homestead of his grandfather, where they continued all their lives; he also inherited the Nicklin farm that his father had purchased. In the place of the saw-mill which his grandfather erected he built a cotton-factory, and he was for a time owner of the old Newlin mill.

He was a progressive agriculturist of his day, and successful in his various business undertakings. He took a lively interest in local matters and was also cognizant of the affairs of state, and represented the county in the Legis-

Note.—The name Mather is taken from a local appellation in the parish of St. Cyrua or Eccles-Craig in Kincardineshire, Scotland. Isaac Mather, b. 7 mo. 9, 1741, was a son of Richard Mather and Sarah Penrose. Richard was a son of Joseph Mather, who emigrated from Wales, and Elizabeth Russell, of Cheltenham, Montgomery Co., Pa. (who were m. 5 mo. 8, 1697). Sarah was a dau. of Thomas Penrose. Mary Morris was a dau. of Joshua Morris and Mary Fletcher. Joshua was a son of Morris Morris and Susanna Heath, b. 1 mo. 26, 1745. Morris, son of Evan Morris, b. 8 mo. 5, 1677, at Grnketh, Carmarthenshire, Wales. Susanna Heath, dau. of Robert and Susanna, who emigrated from England to Pennsylvania in 1701. She d. 4 mo. 28, 1755, in her 73d year. She was a minister in the Society of Friends in which she faithfully labored over forty years. A memorial of her says "Her life and conversation was innocent and agreeable, seasoned with Christian gravity. She was a bright example of plainness, temperance and self-denial, devoted to the service of truth and the propagation of religion. She was one of those virtuous women whose value is far above rubies; for she filled up every station with propriety and being at rest from her labors is now crowned with immortal joys." She had traveled extensively in America, Great Britain, Ireland and Holland, having made three voyages across the ocean. A very interesting account is given in Friends' Miscellany, Vol. 1, page 154, of the circumstances connected with her shipwreck near the coast of Ireland, showing her remarkable foresight, to wit: "that after herself, the captain and a few others had been clinging to the upper side of the vessel for a considerable time, she had a sense given her that if they would be saved they must get to the other side of the ship, and although very hazardous she prevailed on the rest and they all moved as she directed, soon after which a great swell of the sea threw the ship quite flat on the other side, so that if they had not moved all would have been drowned."

lature for five years, 1804-1809. The accompanying portrait is from a painting taken when about fifty years of age.

Both he and Mary were active members of the Society of Friends, in which they held responsible positions. Immediately after their m. Mary brought a certificate from Gwynedd Mtg. to Concord, dated 10 mo. 27, 1795, received 11 mo. 4, 1795. Besides many minor offices William Trimble was appointed an Overseer of Concord Mtg. 2 mo. 1, 1816, which he held for two years. He was named on the school committee 5 mo. 2, 1822, and 10 mo. 30, 1834, and was much interested in promoting the cause of education. On 1 mo. 1, 1829, both he and Mary were appointed Elders for Concord Mtg., which positions they held by successive appointment during their remaining years, to the general satisfaction of the meeting.

Their children were:—

95. Lydia, b. 8 mo. 2, 1796; d. 8 mo. 18, 1879.
96. Phebe M., b. 12 mo. 9, 1797; d. 5 mo. 11, 1801.

100. Phebe M. (2d), b. 1 mo. 2, 1805; d. 5 mo. 23, 1863.

104. John, b. 1 mo. 22, 1814; d. 3 mo. 19, 1864.

III—20. THOMAS TRIMBLE, b. 3 mo. 23, 1769; d. 6 mo. 27, 1773.

Ch. of William Trimble (T.-4) and Grace Thomas.

III—22. RICHARD TRIMBLE (William, William), b. 8 mo. 15, 1767; d. 2 mo. 7, 1847; m. ANN ROBERTS 10 mo. 18, 1792, at Uwchlan M.-H., dau. of John Roberts and Jane Downing* b. 6 mo. 20, 1768; d. 11 mo. 19, 1850.

Richard and Ann removed to Newburg, on the Hudson River, N. Y., in 1800, where he was engaged in milling, and remained there until 1835, when they returned to West Chester, Chester Co., Pa., where they died. They were buried in Friends' grounds at this place.

Note.—Jane Downing was a dau. of Thomas and Thomazine Downing, the emigrants, b. 10 mo. 6, 1723; d. 19 mo. 29, 1795, and a sister to Joseph Downing, No. T.-29. John Roberts was a miller. He probably resided in the Great Valley, Chester Co., and also in Merion, Montgomery Co., Pa. He lost his life by reason of his adherence to the British cause during the Revolutionary War. He was taken prisoner whilst the British army occupied Philadelphia, 1777-78, and charged with acts inimical to the American cause, in which times of heated passions the calm and wise judgment was lost sight of in the struggle for success. Great efforts were made to save his life by his neighbors and friends, near and far; all petitioning in his behalf as a good citizen and conscientious man, but mistaken in his course. But it all did not avail and he suffered the extreme penalty of martial law.

William was a saddler and resided in East Caln, Chester, Co., where he died. His wife, Mary Edge (b. 11 mo. 18, 1742-3, in Upper Providence; d. 3 mo. 15, 1815, in Downingtown), was m. to him 10 mo. 18, 1764, at Uwchlan Mtg. She was a dau. of George Edge and Ann Pennell and sister to Ann who became the 2d wife of William Trimble (See No. T-4). Besides their son John, William and Mary Baldwin left ch. William's father, John Baldwin, (b. in England 8 mo. 28, 1712; d. 10 mo. 1, 1746, of small-pox at Hockessin, Del.), was a son of William Baldwin, who was b. at Gisbourn in Yorkshire, England; he came on a religious visit to America in 1709. III—27. PHEBE TRIMBLE (William, William), b. 7 mo. 4, 1786; d. 12 mo. —, 1816, at Columbia, Pa.; m. VINCENT KING,* M. D., in 1807, son of Vincent King and Mary Brown, of Little Britain, Lancaster Co., b. 11 mo. 12, 1781; d. 12 mo. 2, 1825.

The following is taken from an account of Dr. King which appeared in the "Oxford Press" May 18, 1870:

"Vincent in early youth was known as a remarkably active boy of a kind disposition and possessed of a lively imagination. His parents being strict Friends, he was sent to Westtown school to receive a thorough English education. He remained at this school several terms, and while there the following incident took place which may have had tendency to lead him to pursue the study of medicine: One of the students was attacked with what was then termed typhus fever, and, to use a common phrase, was 'given up to die' by the attending physician. Vincent King, a brother-student, became much interested in the case, and asked permission of the superintendent to nurse and attend upon the pupil, who had now ceased to receive much aid from the physician in charge of the institution. Permission was granted, and young King assumed charge of the patient, watching him night and day, prescribing and caring for his sick schoolmate. Finally the sick student recovered, and, we are informed, is yet living at an advanced age.

"This success with his first patient led him to inquire further into the mysteries of the healing art, and while he remained at this school he was called Doctor by the pupils and teachers.

"Leaving Westtown, he at once chose the profession of medicine, and after diligent preparation and study graduated from the University of Pennsylvania in the class of 1807. In this year he was married. He first settled in Philadelphia, but in two years moved to Goshen, Chester Co., thence to Baltimore, and finally to Columbia, Pa. At this place he lost his wife after a short illness. In five years' time he married his second wife, Patience Wright, and removed to near the place of his birth.

"Dr. King was a man of talent, and was well posted in his profession, being intimate with some of the most eminent medical men of his day.

"Gifted with rare conversational powers, he was well calculated to succeed in his profession; which he did to a remarkable degree in his several settlements, to be suddenly broken by a temperament of an unsettled nature that seemed to impel his frequent removals.

"While he practiced in different localities several students, in order to avail themselves of his able counsels, studied medicine under him. His death, like that of his first wife, was very sudden, taking place while on a professional visit, where, being taken very ill, he lingered a few days, unable to be removed home until life had departed."

Their children were:—

120. Mary Ann, b. 6 mo. —, 1807; d. 1820.

It may be noticed that she being a descendant of James Trimble and Mary Palmer, their children combine a descent through both lines. They resided at the homestead of his parents in West Whiteland Twp., Chester Co., Pa., which he obtained partly by will of his father and partly by purchase of his brother Richard. He pursued farming, but in addition thereto had both a grist- and a saw-mill, which he kept in operation.

"She was remarkable in early life for her uniform stability of conduct and evinced a concern at that time to take up the cross, so that she became exemplary for moderation and plainness. Being a preacher of righteousness in life and conversation, she never permitted herself to assume a dictatorial spirit. She was remarkably careful to discourage everything calculated to engender strife, but rather at all times to exercise the office of a peacemaker. She was likewise much interested for the tender care and support of the poor in her neighborhood; more especially for those who with herself were advanced in age; which care remained with her to the close of her life of nearly ninety years."

Ch. of Hannah Trimble (T.-7) and Isaac Jacobs.

III—36. MARY JACOBS (Hannah 2, William), b. 2 mo. 7, 1768; d. 1818; unm.

She probably died in Whiteland, as a certificate of return from Gwynedd was given her in 1799, and was buried at Uwchlan Mtg. She appears to have been of more than a common person, as it was her that a former certificate to Gwynedd in 1889 had therein written that her "sober and orderly deportment hath merited our esteem for her."

III—37. ANN JACOBS (Hannah 2), b. 8 mo. 14, 1769; d. 7 mo. 23, 1771.

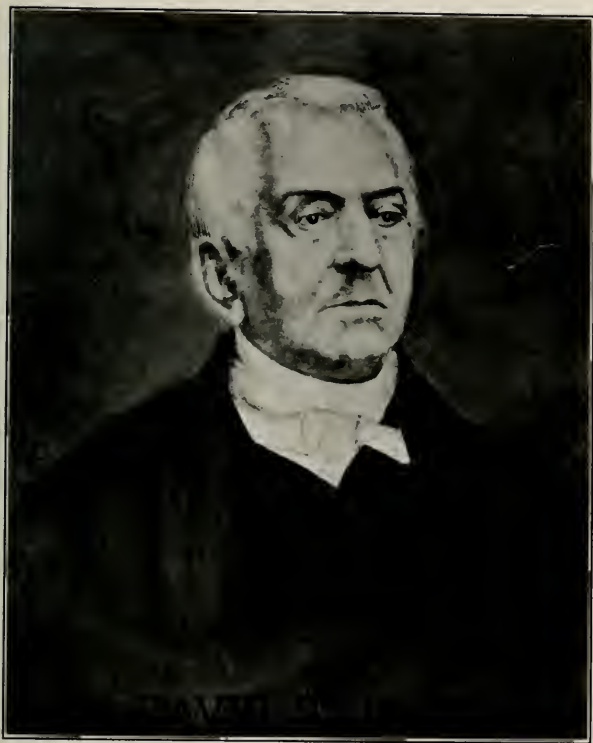

III—38. PHEBE JACOBS (Hannah 2), b. 6 mo. 9, 1771; d. 3 mo. 22, 1849.

Her mind being impaired, she was the especial care of a devoted and affectionate mother and sister, calling into exercise those rare Christian virtues that only the true in heart possess.

III—39. WILLIAM JACOBS (Hannah 2), b. 8 mo. 15, 1773; d. 6 mo. 4, 1795; unm. He probably died at Gwynedd.

They removed in 1801 to Elklands, Lycoming, now Sullivan, Co., Pa., and remained there four years, and in 1805 to Cayuga Co., N. Y., where he purchased a farm known as "Great Field." Here they made their permanent home. She was buried in North Street Cemetery, at Ledyard, that county. After Hannah's death, David removed to Union Springs, same county. He m. second Edna (Dean) Smith, 9 mo. 21, 1843, widow of Dr. Smith, of Lockport, N. Y. She d. 5 mo. 11, 1878, and both were buried at Union Springs, N. Y.

David's grandfather, also David Thomas, emigrated from Wales and married Anna Noble, a dau. of Abel Noble, who came from England, and his mother, Mary, was a dau. of Edward Richardson and Anna Jones, of Providence, Chester Co., Pa.

The following account of David Thomas is taken from Lippincott's Biographical Dictionary, pp. 2121:

"Thomas David, an American pomologist, florist and writer on agriculture, was born in Montgomery County, Pennsylvania, in 1776. He was educated by his parents in the religious principles of the Society of Friends. In 1805 he removed to near Aurora, Cayuga County, New York. In 1817 he published 'Travels in the West,' a work which attracted the notice of De Witt Clinton (Governor of New York) and led to Mr. Thomas being appointed chief engineer on the Erie Canal, west of Rochester, which position he held until the canal was completed; subsequently on the recommendation of Governor Clinton he was employed as one of the principal engineers on the Welland Canal in Canada. As a florist and pomologist he had few, if any, superiors in the United States. By his contributions to 'The Genesee Farmer,' he rendered an important service to the cause of agriculture, particularly in refuting an error once widely prevalent, that wheat under certain circumstances was liable to be changed into chess (Bromus Secalinus), a plant of quite a different genus. Mr. Thomas showed that when the seed-wheat was perfectly clean and the soil thoroughly cleaned of the seed of chess, that the alleged transmutation never took place. His writings, supported as they were by carefully conducted experiments, led not merely to the diffusion of more enlightened views, but to a great, practical improvement in agricultural science."

Although he had not received a medical education, he had given much attention to medical reading and thus possessed much knowledge, judgment and skill, so that when the disease known as the "cold plague" prevailed in 1812, he attended to a large number of his neighbors, every one of whom recovered, although much fatality occurred elsewhere. And again, whilst exploring for the Erie Canal in new and unsettled country with many assistants, those who at his direction boiled their drinking water remained in good health, whilst those who broke this order were prostrated with sickness. He had been a practical surveyor in his neighborhood for many years, which gave him experience for his greater work as a civil engineer. Whilst he was engaged in the construction of the Erie Canal, a controversy arose as to the best place for its western terminus. A majority of those in control decided in favor of Black Rock, but David Thomas, with Gov. Clinton and one other commissioner, favored Buffalo, and they prevailed so far as to have a branch built to Buffalo, and as a consequence the business all went there, of which Mr. T. said in his controversy: "I now submit the question to the elements and if Buffalo harbor becomes a failure, I shall then, but not till then, confess my error." His eminent scientific knowledge led to his election as an honorary member of the Literary and Philosophical Society of New York, and as a corresponding member of the Historical Society of London and of the Linnaean Society of Paris.

The following is the marriage certificate of Isaac Jacobs and Susanna Lightfoot, recorded in Uwchlan Monthly Meeting Book, page 140. This is most beautifully written on parchment.

Whereas, Isaac Jacobs, Jun'r, of Uwchlan, in the County of Chester and State of Pennsylvania, son of Isaac Jacobs, of the same place, and Hannah (Trimble) his wife, and Susanna Lightfoot, Daughter of Thomas Lightfoot, of Pikeland, in the county aforesaid, and Rachel, his wife (deceased), having declared their intentions of marriage with each other before a Monthly Meeting of the religious Society of Friends, held at Uwchlan, according to the good order used among them and having consent of surviving parents their said proposal of marriage was allowed by the said meeting. Now these are to certify whom it may concern that for the full accomplishment of their said intentions, this twenty-sixth day of the fourth month, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ten, they, the said Isaac Jacobs and Susanna Lightfoot, appeared in a Publick meeting of the said people held at Uwchlan, aforesaid and the said Isaac Jacobs taking the said Susanna Lightfoot by the hand did, on this solemn occasion, openly declare, that he took her, the said Susanna Lightfoot, to be his wife, promising with Divine assistance to be unto her a loving and faithful husband, until death should separate them, and then in the same assembly, the said Susanna Lightfoot did in like manner declare that she took him, the said Isaac Jacobs, to be her husband, promising with Divine assistance to be unto him a loving and faithful wife until death should separate them. He became a prominent surveyor; resided and died near Chester, Pa., 2 mo. 26, 1777, and buried there. He was a son of Thomas Lightfoot, the emigrant, and his second wife, Sarah Wiley (a widow). This Thomas was possibly the son of Thomas Lightfoot, who suffered persecution in Cambridge, England, in 1653. The son born in Cambridgeshire about 1644 removed in early life to the North of Ireland, and in 1694 to Moate Monthly in West Meath. In 1716 he emigrated to Pennsylvania with a part of his family and settled in New Garden, Chester Co. In the latter part of 1724 he m. Margaret, widow of John Blunston, of Darby, and removed to that place. He died 9 mo. 4, 1725, aged about 80 years.

Thomas Chalkley says in his Journal: "I was at the funeral of our worthy ancient Friend Thomas Lightfoot. He was buried at Darby. The meeting was the largest I have ever seen at that place. Our dear friend was greatly beloved for his piety and virtue—his sweet disposition and lively ministry. The Lord was with him in his life and death and with us at his burial."

Joseph removed to Maryland with his father, and afterwards to Baltimore, where he entered with his brother John into a shipping and mercantile trade, which continued for several years. Previous to his marriage he purchased and removed to a farm at Pinlico, a few miles from the city. This he afterwards sold, and purchased a large farm in Harford Co., Md., where in conjunction with the farm he also had a saw-mill. In 1st mo., 1870, he and Ann were both taken ill with pneumonia, of which she died, and which weakened him so that he died in a few weeks after. At the time of his death he was the oldest member of Baltimore Yearly Meeting of Friends, having lived almost a century.

The following account of him appeared in a neighboring paper a few days after his death:

"Joseph Trimble, an aged and much-respected resident of Harford Co., Md. (formerly of Chester Co., Pa.), died on the 17th inst., in the ninety-eighth year of his age. This venerable man was a member of the Society of Friends and a constant attendant of Forest Meeting, about six miles distant from his home, for upwards of sixty years, having, it is stated, never missed a meeting (twice a week) during that time. He also attended sixty consecutive yearly meetings at Baltimore. It is estimated that during his lifetime he has traveled at least one hundred thousand miles in going to and returning from meeting. He was always a very hale and hearty man, remarkable for his temperate and industrious habits. During the last years of his life he employed himself in his woodhouse in cutting up all the wood used in the dwelling, doing so for the sake of the exercise it afforded, and he could handle the saw and axe quite as dexterously as many men seventy years younger. He retained, to a remarkable degree, all his faculties except his hearing, which failed towards the close of his life."

The accompanying portrait is taken from a daguerreotype in the possession of his daughter.

In 1809 George went to New York to attend school; the next year he became a clerk in a commission and shipping house. From this he became actively engaged in business, which he pursued for about thirty years with success.

The accompanying portrait is from a photograph taken a short time before his decease, and his autograph from a letter to the compiler of this work. The following minute and resolutions will explain themselves, and also give a good account of the man:

"THE LATE GEORGE T. TRIMBLE.—Resolutions of the Trustees of the Roosevelt Hospital.—At a meeting of the trustees of the Roosevelt Hospital, held on Thursday evening, May 26, 1872, the following minute and resolutions were adopted:

"George T. Trimble, a trustee and the treasurer of the Roosevelt Hospital, died on the 16th instant, in the seventy-ninth year of his age.

"At the death of Mr. Roosevelt in 1863, and the incorporation of the Roosevelt Hospital in 1864, Mr. Trimble was the president of the Managing Board of the Society of the New York Hospital, and as such, under the provisions of Mr. Roosevelt's will and the charter granted by the Legislature, became, ex-officio, a trustee of the Roosevelt Hospital. Upon the organization of the board he was elected treasurer. He continued in these positions until his death, and was also a member of the Building Committee from the commencement of the building of this corporation until February last, when, at his own request, he was relieved from the duties of that position.

"From early life Mr. Trimble was active in the management of the charities of the city. Retiring at a comparatively early age from the pursuits of business, in which he had accumulated a sufficient property, he devoted himself to a life of usefulness towards his fellow-men. He became a trustee of the Public School Society in 1818, and continued such until the schools of that society became in 1853 merged in those of the Board of Education, having for various periods served as treasurer and vice-president, and from 1847 to 1853 as president, of that society. For many years he was connected with and the president of the New York Dispensary, the first established of that useful class of charities now numerous in this city. In 1847 he became one of the governors of the Society of the New York Hospital, in 1850 its vice-president and in 1853 its president, and continued president until his decease; and for a long period he has been a prominent and influential member of the Society of Friends, with which he was all his life connected.

"In all the positions he has held and all the connections of life he was characterized by an unswerving integrity, a perfect faithfulness in the discharge of every duty, and an urbanity and kindness which commanded the respect and affection of all who were brought into intercourse with him; and at a good old age he has died, attended by the love and regrets of family, friends and associates.

"It is especially as a trustee of the Roosevelt Hospital and as the treasurer from its origin that the board is called to regret his loss.

"He was punctual in his attendance at the meetings of the board and in the performance of duties as a member of the Building Committee, and exact and faithful in the labors of treasurer. He devoted much time and attention to the interests of this institution, and proved himself a wise adviser and careful administrator of its finances; therefore,

"Resolved, That the trustees of the Roosevelt Hospital mourn the decease of their late associate and treasurer, George T. Trimble, and recall with grateful remembrance the wisdom of his counsel, the faithfulness with which he discharged every duty, and the kindness and courtesy which characterized his intercourse.

"Resolved, That the foregoing minute and resolution be entered upon the records of this board and be published, and that a copy thereof, duly authenticated, be transmitted to the family of the deceased, with the assurance of the respectful sympathy of this board in their bereavement.

"EDWARD DELAFIELD, President.

"Attest: JOHN M. KNOX, Secretary."

DR. JOSEPH THOMAS.

The Series of Works With Which He Has Adorned Our Literature.

The funeral of Joseph Thomas, M. D., LL. D., the scholar and linguist, who died on Thursday afternoon, took place yesterday afternoon from his late residence, 231 North Twelfth street. The services were conducted after the manner of the Religious Society of Friends, of which Dr. Thomas had long been a member.

Impressive discourses were preached by Samuel Morris, of Germantown, and Joseph Elkinton. The former spoke of the long and useful life of Dr. Thomas, of his integrity of character and of his humble Christian faith. Dr. Thomas's old friend, Mr. Thomas Eaton, and his brother came from Long Branch to attend the funeral. The interment took place in Friends' Southwestern Burial Ground.

Dr. Thomas's literary work comprised the joint authorship, with Thomas Baldwin, in 1845, of "Baldwin's Pronouncing Gazetteer", and the authorship of the system of pronunciation of geographical names contained therein. In 1848-9 he contributed a paper on muscular action and the mechanism of locomotion to a work on "Special, General and Microscopic Anatomy," edited by Dr. S. G. Morton. In 1851-2 appeared his "First Book of Etymology," followed by an edition of "Oswald's Etymological Dictionary." He contributed geographical vocabularies to Webster's octavo Dictionary in 1847; to the University edition, 1856; to the unabridged quarto edition of 1864, and also enriched the latter with a pronouncing vocabulary of modern biographical names. In 1852 he visited Egypt and Palestine, and in 1853 published his "Travels" in those countries. In 1854, in connection with T. Baldwin, he prepared "A New and Complete Gazetteer of the United States," and in 1855 "A Complete Pronouncing Gazetteer, or Geographical Dictionary of the World"; in a royal octavo of 2200 pages, containing a notice of the pronunciation of the names of nearly 100,000 places, of which an enlarged edition was issued in 1866, and another is now in process of preparation. This work, popularly known as "Lippincott's Gazetteer of the World," has been very highly commended and for accuracy and completeness is without an equal in the English language. Dr. Thomas was author of the very valuable preface and introduction to this work, in which the principles which should guide to a correct pronunciation of foreign names are ably set forth.

In 1857 Dr. Thomas visited India, where he passed more than a year in the study of the Oriental tongues. He also spent several months in Egypt, where he made himself acquainted with the rudiments of the Arabic.

In 1864 his "Comprehensive Medical Dictionary" appeared, in which the same regard for accuracy in pronunciation is exhibited that characterizes his geographical dictionaries, while his medical judgment has also been made available. This work has been pronounced by Dr. Krauth "a masterpiece of practical skill and accurate condensation of what is most needful for the student of medicine and the general reader to know." In 1870-71 was published his "Universal Pronouncing Dictionary of Biography and Mythology," two volumes, royal octavo, 2343 pages, which, from the judicious brevity of the articles, the comprehensiveness of its selections and nice exactness in orthography and pronunciation, has already taken a very high place among our books of reference.

Dr. Thomas brought to the aid of the biographer the resources of profound, learning, critical acumen, untiring patience, and earnest conscientiousness, all of which admirable qualities are exhibited in the series of works with which he has adorned our literature. In the language of Professor Dana, of Yale College, "he has done his country a great service by his various labors."

He removed with his family in March, 1869, to Salem, Henry Co., Iowa, where he remained the rest of his life. "He was singularly unassuming and had such amiable qualities that he was especially beloved by his own family connections as well as by all who became acquainted with him."

IV—183. WILLIAM JACOBS (Isaac, Hannah, William) b. 12 mo. 22, 1814; d. 12 mo. 16, 1910; unm.

He was born in Chester County, Pa., but removed with his parents in his boyhood to Cayuga County, N. Y. After receiving a liberal education, he in his young manhood removed to Philadelphia, Pa., which was afterwards his home. He probably taught school for some time, but his principal occupation was as a writer. He engaged with his cousin, Joseph Thomas, A. M., M. D., as a co-laborer in his works, spending nine years on "Lippincott's Pronouncing Gazetteer" and four years on the "Biographical Dictionary." In his work he was very painstaking and accurate and he had a rare gift for condensing a book into an enlightening cyclopaedia article.

He is remembered with great respect for the guiltless innocence of his character, for the treasures of his learning and his beautiful simplicity of life. Many years ago he was accorded the degree of A. M. by Haverford College, Pa. Dr. Thomas bore testimony in 1870 to his untiring diligence and well directed research as contributing in no small measure to the accuracy and thoroughness of their works, that many of the small notices as well as a considerable number of the important articles were the product of his pen, among the later being Cicero, Milton, Lafayette, Alexander Hamilton and Napoleon III. He was a life long member of the Society of Friends.

IV—184. SARAH JACOBS (Isaac, Hannah, William), b. 2 mo. 1, 1817; d. 1 mo. 25, 1894; unm. She resided many years in Philadelphia, where she was also engaged in the same works as her brother as above stated. She died at the home of her niece, Sara Jacobs Packer, Salem, Henry Co., Iowa.

IV—185. ISAAC JACOBS (3d) (Isaac, Hannah, William), b. 2 mo. 5, 1819; d. 12 mo. 10, 1906, at his home "Pointed Firs," Aurora, N. Y.; m. ELIZABETH THAYER* 9 mo. 18, 1844, dau. of Alonza Thayer and Sarah Earle Greene, b. 3 mo. 16, 1824; d. 11 mo. 27, 1891.

Ancestors of Elizabeth Thayer Jacobs.

*Note.—Ralph Earle and his wife, Ione, emigrated from England between the years 1633 and 1638 and came to Portsmouth, R. I. At a town meeting, June 2nd, 1649, he was chosen "Treasurer for this next year insuing and also overseer for the poor,"

(Elizabeth's mother was related on her mother's side to Gen. Green of the Revolution and also to the Earles of Newport, R. I. See note.)

He had resided at place of his death for many years and the account of him here given indicates a noble character.

His children were:—

- 504. Mary Spencer, b. 12 mo. 15, 1845; d. 8 mo. 30, 1855.
- 505. Matilda, b. 6 mo. 30, 1848.
- 506. Arthur, b. 11 mo. 6, 1850; d. 8 mo. 20, 1855.
- 507. Lucy, b. 1 mo. 27, 1857.

Isaac Jacobs, the 3d, came with his parents and four older and two younger brothers and sisters from their home thirty miles from Philadelphia, in Chester Co., to Cayuga Co., N. Y., when he was six years old. They went by carriage to New York city, stopping with relatives in New Jersey, the Hunts and Clarkes, cousins of his mother's on the way. Thence up the Hudson by steamer, and by canal to Montezuma, where they took a carriage to the home of his uncle, David Thomas, who lived at Greatfield, near Aurora, and from there went on to their new home in Ledyard about ten miles farther.

He often told in later years how they all lounged for "Green Retreat," as they called the old Pennsylvania home. The big stone house with its deep window seats, where he remembered sitting with his porringer of bread and milk or book. The older children talked so much of this beloved home, recalling all the delights of the garden and orchards, the chestnut woods and fish pond, that he and his next younger brother Benjamin, determined to return to it, and the two little fellows, one six and the other four, were not missed and followed until they had walked a mile on their way South.

This love for the old home was so strong in him it seemed to be inherited by his children, who listened eagerly to every detail about it, and the many loved relatives and friends left there. In 1844 he married Elizabeth Thayer, and in their wedding journey was fulfilled his youthful desire to return to his early home. This ideal journey furnished an unending delight to his children, as first one parent and then the other would tell of the beautiful country they passed through and the renewing of old friendships. The journey was made in company with his father and mother, in a two-seated carriage drawn by two fine roadsters, Prince and Kate. Nearly every night was and April 29, 1650, was chosen with five others "for the Committee for the General Assembly at Newport" and held other prominent offices. No record of the date of his death, but his will was "Entered and Recorded the 14th day of the 11th month (O. S.) 1677." His second son, William, died at Portsmouth, R. I., 1715. He held high offices and was a large land holder, his claims in the original division of Dartmouth being upwards of two thousand acres. He owned a large share of the land on which the City of Fall River, on the north side of the river, is situated. His third son, Thomas Earle, b. 1662; d. 1727; m. Mary ———. Among his various deeds of real estate is one conveying the land upon which the Friends' Meeting-house in Swansea, Mass., now stands. His eldest son, William, married, Portsmouth, R. I., 1718, Mehitable Brayton, and later Abigail Lawton. John, 4th son of William and Abigail, b. 3-16-1738, in Newport, R. I., died 1816, m. Dorcas Barney. In the course of the Revolutionary War the vessel under his command was taken by a British cruiser. "He took his ill luck very philosophically. When the cruiser came along side after a long chase the first question he put was 'How many feet is your brig?' " He didn't mind being taken, but he hated to be beaten. "In long Island Sound "he could tell where he was by the lead alone, there are no such pilots now," so says the pilot of one of the Sound steamers. His daughter, Abigail, b. 3-29-1769, in Newport, R. I., m. Jonathan Greene, descendant of General Nathaniel Greene of the Revolution. (See Earl Genealogy by Pliny Earle). Claude Blanchard was commissary of supplies for the French army which landed in Newport in 1780. He visited the Newport school and gave this tribute to the scholars:—"I saw the writing of these children. It appeared to me to be handsome; among others that of a young girl nine or ten years old, very pretty and very modest, and such as I would like my own daughter to be when she is so old. She was called Abigail Earle, as I perceived upon her copy-book, on which her name was written. I wrote it myself, adding to it "very pretty." (See Child Life in Colonial Days, by Alice Morse Earle). Her daughter, Sarah Earle, married Alonzo Thayer, and their daughter, Elizabeth Thayer, married Isaac Jacobs 3d.

spent and often a day or two with relatives and friends. If more than a day's journey were required to reach one of these hospitable homes, a night would be spent at an Inn, the names of which charmed us with their quaint English flavor, The White Horse, The Ships Tavern, The Red Lion. He found the old home unchanged. It had not then passed into the hands of strangers, but was occupied by a favorite cousin, William Trimble, and Sarah Vickers, his wife. He did not see it again for fifty-three years, when he visited it with his daughter and found it sadly changed, it having long been rented.

His cousin, Dr. Joseph Thomas, has told many interesting things of his boyhood. When he was ten years old he remarked that he would rather suffer wrong than to do wrong, and this was a guiding principle to the end of his life. As with all of his brothers and sisters, he was very fond of study and reading and his father at that time had the largest and best library in Cayuga county. Although so fond of reading, he also was greatly interested in an active life and enjoyed the care of his orchards and garden. In his last years, when he could read but little, he said he could imagine no pleasure in existence, if he could not work in his garden, and he had that pleasure the last summer of his life.

The following tribute was paid him in a local paper:—

Isaac Jacobs died at his residence, Pointed Flrs, Aurora, N. Y., on the morning of the 10th of December, 1906, in the 88th year of his age. His long and beneficent life was passed chiefly in this vicinity as his parents came from Chester county, Pennsylvania, when he was six years of age.

He loved nature, the cultivation of trees and fruits was his lifelong pursuit. To him and to his father, this region is indebted largely for its fine fruit.

In driving through the country, it was interesting to be told by him, as beautiful orchards were passed that these were reared and planted by himself. We cannot measure our debt for such benefactions.

Honored, respected, beloved by all who knew him, his was a rare personality. While gentle and retiring by nature, he could stand bravely for principle, when to side with the righteous cause, as in the anti-slavery struggle, was to stand with the few, in the face and scorn of reproach of the many. The long life of this ideal citizen has been a quiet force of inestimable value in the community that was favored to be his dwelling place. His memory and example should be cherished, and his good work, that has blessed us all, be gratefully remembered.—E. H.

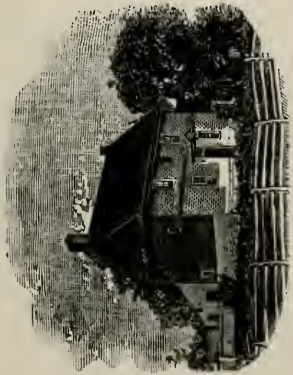

Extracts from letter of Isaac Jacobs.

The Mechem family emigrated from Chester Co., Pa., in the fall of 1824, arriving at Talcotts, Ledyard, Cayuga Co., N. Y., much to the surprise of that Yankee settlement, in a covered Pennsylvania wagon, usually requiring five horses, in which, with all of their effects they had made the long overland journey.

When our family came the following spring, we found the Mechems settled on a farm of 50 acres one-half mile south and three-quarters of a mile east of Talcotts. My father had a school in his house, although there was a district school in the village. Hannah Mechem taught the school the first summer, and I think the second, and her younger sisters, Mary, Elizabeth and possibly Ann, came to the school daily across the woods. At that time this country had been settled scarcely 30 years and about one-third of it was in timber. As I look back at that woodland path through the dense shade in the hot weather, and especially when the early flowers were in bloom, it seems like fairyland. I mention these particulars concerning the removal of the family thinking perhaps the conditions under which emigration was accomplished in that early day might be interesting. At that time grain was threshed with the flail and cloth for wearing apparel was made on a hand-loom. A tailor or would come to our house and sew, sitting cross-legged on a table, for weeks, until the garments for the men and boys of the family were all made for the season.

From an obituary we extract:—

In the death of R. T. Ellicott, West Chester loses a man whose life has been spent in our midst. We have known him ever since both were small boys, but we recall how all small boys envied him his possessions away back in the fifties.

Those possessions were his pigeons. For a boy of his age he had at that time unquestionably the finest pigeon loft in our borough. His loft was in a stable which stood back along the railroad at the foot of the lawn.

His variety of birds was unusually large for those days and many a small boy has made a narrow escape from getting run down by the cars in his anxiety to get a look at Dick Ellicott's fan tails or tumblers.

Just when he parted with them we do not know, but the stable and the pigeons have long since gone. There are plenty of men among us still who recall them, however.

When a youth he moved here with his parents from Maryland, where the family was interested in Ellicott's Mills near Baltimore. Having control of considerable property, he was not engaged in business.

He took especial interest in his home, which was furnished in a comfortable and attractive manner, and on his lawn, a fountain played in the gleam of an electric lamp, and was familiar to the eyes of all who passed that way.

To the graduates and students of Peirce School prior to 1896, the name of Thomas

THOMAS MAY PEIRCE, Ph. D. (No.-T. 425)

MARY B. PEIRCE (No.-T. 1004)

facing p. 784

May Peirce means a great deal, for it recalls one who was not only an efficient teacher, but a firm and loyal friend as well. To others, who know of him only as the founder of the most important business school in the world, the following sketch will be instructive, and makes the present a fitting time to give a brief outline of his highly useful life.

Thomas May Peirce, A. M., Ph. D., was born at Chester, Pa., December 10, 1837. He was of English ancestry, a great-great-grandson of George Perce, as the family name was originally spelled, who came to this country with William Penn, and settled on an extensive grant of land which covered the present township of Thornbury, in Delaware County and the township of the same name in Chester County, Pa.

His grandfather, on his mother's side, was the Reverend Thomas Potts May, who, after teaching school at Norristown for a time, became a theologian of note. His maternal great-uncle was the Reverend Doctor James May, at one time a member of the faculty of the Episcopal Theological Seminary at Fairfax, Va., and later of the Episcopal Divinity School of West Philadelphia. Thus, as far back as we know anything of his ancestry, they were men and women of talent and piety, deeply respected wherever they lived.

When a child, his parents moved to Philadelphia, where he was educated in the public schools, and at the age of sixteen he was graduated from the Boys' Central High School with the degree of A. B. Five years later the degree of A. M. was conferred upon him by his Alma Mater. Until he became of age he traveled extensively, supplementing his education by observation and practical work in business pursuits. One of his first ventures was in the business of engraving on wood, which was not a financial success.

At the age of twenty, he applied for a situation as teacher of a district school in Springfield Township, Montgomery County, Pa. He was successful from the first, and was soon called to the Norristown High School. From Norristown he went to Manayunk and later to the Monroe and Mount Vernon Grammar Schools, Philadelphia, all of which schools he served as principal. He inherited a talent for teaching from both sides of the family. His father, the late Caleb Peirce, a well-known and highly respected citizen of Philadelphia, was for a quarter of a century a successful teacher in Chester and Delaware Counties.

In 1865 he founded the business school which was to make him famous as the most progressive and successful business educator of his day.

On September 18, 1865, the doors of Peirce's Union Business College, as it was originally styled, were opened in the Handel and Haydn Hall, Eighth and Spring Garden Streets, with Thomas May Peirce as Principal. As he always manifested an active interest in everything relating to patriotism, the name "Union" may have been the outgrowth of his love for the Union, following, as it did so closely, the successful termination of the Rebellion.

The school was afterwards removed from Eighth and Spring Garden Streets to 39 South Tenth Street, where it was conducted till the completion of the new Record Building, in 1882, when it was removed to its present location. The enrollment during the first school year—1865-66—was 550 pupils. Since that time the school has increased steadily in magnitude and importance, and at the present time more than 1,800 pupils are annually enrolled. The school now occupies the entire second, third and fourth floors of the Record Building, and has seating capacity for 800 students at one time. More than 40,000 young men and women have secured their training for business at Peirce School, and the reports of the United States Commissioner of Education show that it is the largest private school in the United States.

Doctor Peirce was much in demand as an expert on handwriting and as a public accountant, being considered an authority on such matters in this part of the United States. For his testimony in one case he received $3,500, while upon several occasions he received $2,500 for expert testimony. His first appearance as a professional expert was in 1870, in the Penn-Middleton will case, tried before Judge Ludlow.

He was engaged in the well-known suit which involved the extradition of Joseph Brompton, of Great Grimsby, England, a dangerous criminal, who resisted extradition more than a year. His evidence materially assisted in the case of a bogus claim for insurance on a British bark which was scuttled in 1852. The bark had been cleared from Vera Cruz to Cardiff, Wales, and abandoned in the Gulf Stream, off the coast of Georgia. The master and mate had come to Philadelphia to collect the insurance money on the cargo, and the underwriters, suspecting fraud, their counsel employed Doctor Peirce to examine the log of the vessel, which was the only manifest that the officers had put in evidence. Doctor Peirce demonstrated beyond a doubt that the log had been tampered with and that the figures showing the amount of the cargo had been altered. In consequence of his testimony, a tug was sent to the Gulf Stream and picked up the abandoned vessel, and it was discovered that instead of the valuable cargo of eight hundred bags of vanilla beans, as claimed by the officers and apparently shown by the log, the vessel contained three hundred bags of worthless refuse and had been deliberately scuttled.

Other cases in which he appeared and rendered important service in the interest of justice were the famous Gaul case, tried in 1882, and several forgery cases, some of which involved a great deal of hard work and patient investigation, notably the Whitaker will case, but the frauds were proved and the criminals convicted.

As an expert accountant, his services were of great value in the case of the Treasurer of the borough of West Chester, Pa., Doctor Peirce's testimony securing conviction. In the case of the Presbyterian Board of Publication, on which he was at work a year, his skill as an accountant saved the reputation of the Board. He was consulted by business men and bookkeepers almost constantly, and his opinion was considered sufficient to decide many disputes and to aid in disentangling complicated accounts.

In 1887, he served the State as Bank Assessor; in 1879, he was elected President of the Business Educators' Association of America. He also served for many years as a director of the Fairmount Park Art Association; and in 1875 he introduced into many schools and churches the spelling bee exercises, which proved so successful and profitable in many communities. In recognition of his efficient services in the cause of education, Dickinson College conferred upon him the degree of Ph. D.

At the time of his death he was President of the Bookkeepers' Beneficial Association of Philadelphia, having been successively re-elected for five years; he had been a member seventeen years.

He was a prominent member of Grace M. E. Church, Philadelphia, and had for years been Chairman of its Finance Committee. In 1887 he was licensed to preach by the Presiding Elder upon recommendation of this church, but he did not accept the orders, feeling that he could do better service as a layman. He was active in church and Sunday School work, and as an evidence of his active interest may be enumerated the several church enterprises with which he was identified. He was President of the Philadelphia Tract Society of the M. E. Church, which publishes the Philadelphia Methodist; was a trustee of the Methodist Episcopal Hospital, and had been Treasurer of the Philadelphia Sabbath Association until his illness compelled his resignation. He was a trustee of Temple College, Philadelphia; a Manager of the Home Missionary Society, and of the Evangelical Alliance of America.

He was an eloquent and forceful speaker and was greatly in demand upon public occasions. For some years he took an active interest in politics, and in 1880 he stumped Ohio, Indiana and Maryland in the interests of the Democratic party. In that year he was his party's candidate for Receiver of Taxes. He was once offered by the President of the United States the Consulship at Liverpool, but he felt that he could not leave the school, and declined the office, although it was then, as now, one of the best at the disposal of the President.

He was the author and publisher of a number of books, which were primarily designed for his own school, but have been extensively adopted by other business colleges, academies and public schools. His principal works were "Practical Test Problems," "How to Become a Bookkeeper," "Peirce Manual of Bookkeeping," "Peirce School Writing Slips and Real Business Forms," "Peirce School Manual of Business Forms and Customs," "Peirce Manual for the Typist," and "Peirce Manual of Language Lessons."

The success of Doctor Peirce was due largely to his sterling character, untiring industry, and minute attention to detail. Anything he undertook he entered into with his whole soul. During the short time he spent in Philadelphia as a Grammar School principal, not more than four or five years, he made the reputation of sending more of his boys to the High School than any other principal. How was it done? In a very simple but effective manner, but a manner that required more personal effort than the other principals would give. For several weeks before examination time he and the candidates for examination would live in the school house, having their meals sent in and sleeping there at night. Is it any wonder that they all passed? Such effort, directed along any line, cannot fail of success.

Such he was, and such were his methods, all his life, and when death came, in the spring of 1896, he closed a life that had exerted a great influence for good over the lives of many thousands of people, young and old.

In 1909, the City of Philadelphia honored him by naming one of its new school buildings the Thomas May Peirce School. The building, which was erected at a cost of $170,000, stands at the corner of Twenty-third and Cambria Streets and will accommodate twenty-seven divisions.

V—434. AMANDA TRIMBLE GHEEN* (Hetty Ann 4), b. Jan. 18, 1830; d. Nov. 4, 1904; m. HEBER CHASE KIMBALL Dec. —, 1845, in Nauvoo, Ill., husband of her sister, Anna Alice (see last No.).

They resided at Salt Lake City, Utah. All were members of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, commonly called the Mormon Church.

Note.—The following extracts are taken from a sketch of the life of Amanda Trimble Gheen Kimball. She was born the same year that the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints was organized—1830. Her father was a prosperous farmer, as was also his father, Thomas Gheen, of Goshen, Chester Co., Pa., and her mother was also the daughter of a prominent farmer of Thornbury, Delaware Co., Pa., all of whom were Quakers. In 1840 some Elders of the Mormon Church came to Chester Co., Pa., and in August the father, mother and oldest sister were baptized and in December Ann A., aged 14 years, and Amanda T., aged 12 years, were baptized. In 1841 the father went to Nauvoo, Ill., and was ordained an Elder. He returned home and on Jan. 21, 1842, sold his farm and May 11 started westward "for the Gospel sake," and arrived at Nauvoo June 28, 1842. They were prospered and blessed and had a pleasant journey. He bought an acre of land two blocks west of the Temple and built a two-story brick house. He also bought 80 acres of prairie land. He made his family comfortable, assisted in building the Temple, and was always very kind to the poor. The day before the Prophet Joseph and his brother Hiram Smith were murdered by a mob in Carthage jail, he visited them and was received with many blessings. In 1845 he was taken suddenly ill and died July 15. Amongst the frequent visitors to his house were Brigham Young and Heber C. Kimball, to whom the father became very much attached, and the latter became the husband of the two daughters, Ann Alice and Amanda T. The two sisters whose lives were so closely interwoven were just the opposite in looks and temperament; Ann Alice was very tall, of dark complexion, black silken hair and very dark eyes; was intensely spiritual and rather delicate. Amanda T. was of medium height, fair complexion, blue eyes and light hair; was rather temporal and seemed more wrapped up in the affairs of this life than her sister, and enjoyed robust health. Ann Alice was gentle and rather Quakerish in her dress and seemed to avoid society, and appeared happier in her home. Amanda T. was quick to speak, of high temperament, loved and craved company, the association of the young and old, and was never known to refuse an invitation to a social gathering. She was well and strong and never known to shirk any duty. These two sisters were baptized the same day, received their patriarchal blessings the same day, were both married to the same husband, lived together, reared their children together and loved each other's children; together they participated in the trials, persecutions and drivings of their sect from their beautiful city of Nauvoo, Ill., and from their homes and possessions, but both lived to enjoy true happiness in their now far western home at Salt Lake City.

V—588. THOMASINE SUSAN FAIRLAMB (Thomazine, Mary, Mary, James) b. June 24, 1812; d. Aug. 8, 1895; m. PERSIFOR FRAZER SMITH July 24, 1833, son of Joseph Smith and Mary Frazer,* of Philadelphia.

Note.—Mary Frazer was a dau. of Gen. Persifor Frazer, an officer of the American Revolution, and Mary Worrall Taylor, who were m. Oct. 2, 1766. Gen. Frazer was a son of John Frazer and Mary Smith. John, son of Persifor and Margery Frazer, who left Ireland June 28, 1713. Mary, dau. of Robert and Mary Smith.

Joseph Smith was an iron and shipping merchant in Philadelphia. He was a son of Robert Smith, of Uwchlan, Chester Co., Pa.

Robert Smith was of Scotch descent. Little is known of the history of his family prior to the emigration to Pennsylvania, except that the family name was originally Macdonald, and that the branch of it from which he was descended formed an important part of the earliest Scottish emigration across the North Channel into Ireland in the time of James I. of England. Near the end of the seventeenth century Robert Smith's grandfather lived in the northeastern part of Ireland.

Just before the Battle of the Boyne, as the soldier-king, William III., was personally reconnoitring the locality which was soon to become famous, his horse cast a shoe. There was, of course, no farrier in attendance to replace it; but Macdonald, in whose neighborhood the accident occurred, and who, like many other farmers in thinly-peopled districts, was something of a blacksmith, volunteered to repair the injuries, shod the horse, and so allowed the King to proceed.

His neighbors, who, like himself, were in sympathy with the cause of which William was the champion, dubbed Macdonald "the Smith." Smith was a novelty, and the branch of trade it represented has always been an honored one, especially in primitive society, and this particular Scotchman, proud to have his name linked with that of King William, accepted the cognomen, and handed it down to his posterity as the family name.

The Scotch-Irish emigration to Pennsylvania in the first half of the eighteenth century, which gave to that colony so many of its best citizens, and which has done much to determine the character of the State, included among its number the parents of Robert Smith—John and Susanna—who left their homes in 1720, one year after the enforcement of "The Test," an oppressive act of the British Parliament.

Though the voyage was stormy and unusually long even for those days, tradition tells of no losses of life on the journey, while there was certainly one life gained, for Robert Smith was born at sea. Immediately after landing at Philadelphia, the emigrants pushed westward thirty miles into Chester county and passing by the fertile Great Valley took up lands to the northward in the hilly country at Uwchlan township, in a locality long known as the Brandywine Settlement.

The first appearance of Robert Smith in public life was in the commencement of the Revolution in August, 1775.

He took an active part in supervising the erection of military defenses, and afterwards sat in the Convention which on the 28th of September, 1776, adopted the first State Constitution of Pennsylvania. He was at this time a man of considerable wealth, energy and extensive influence. On the 12th of March, 1777, the Supreme Executive Council of Pennsylvania selected him as Colonel of the military forces of Chester county. He took an active part in the struggles of colonial times and the eventful years which followed, was a member of the State Assembly in 1785, and held various other offices of honor and trust, but died in 1803, at the age of eighty-three years.

b. Jan. 23, 1808; d. May 25, 1882; both buried at Oakland Cemetery, as were also several of their children.

They had resided in West Chester during their married life of over half a century. Of her it was written:—

“Mrs. P. F. Smith was for many years actively identified with the West Chester Trust and Relief Society, and was one of the Visiting Committee. She was always a friend of the poor, the bereaved and the suffering. Her charity was without ostentation, but it was hearty and generous. Many friends mourn her loss, although she had not been able for a few years past to be very active in her ministrations to others. After his death Mrs. Smith sold the property on Church street where they had long resided, and for the remainder of her life made her home with her daughter, Mrs. Monaghan, where she died.”

Her husband's career was peculiarly distinguished. He was born and educated in Philadelphia, principally in the classical school of Dr. Samuel B. Wylie and Joseph P. Engles. He graduated at the University of Pennsylvania on the 31st of July, 1823, and in 1824 removed with his father to East White-land. In Oct., 1826, he commenced the study of law in the office of William H. Dillingham, Esq., and was admitted to practice in the courts of Chester county at the November term of 1829, and had, consequently, been in the profession for more than 52 years. He was admitted to the Supreme Court in December, 1831, and in October of the following year to the Circuit Court of the United States for what was then known as the Third Circuit of Pennsylvania. In May, 1835, he was appointed clerk of the Orphans' Court of Chester county by Governor George Wolf, and on February 25th, 1839, was appointed Prosecuting Attorney for Delaware county by Ovid F. Johnson, Attorney-General under Governor David R. Porter. His progress was steadily marked, and his valuable services were in general demand. He was not allowed to remain long out of official positions, and it is due to his credit that in every instance he fulfilled the various duties assigned him with integrity, punctuality and signal ability. In February, 1849, he was admitted to practice before the Supreme Court of the United States.

In 1861 he was elected a member of the Legislature and re-elected in 1862-63 and 64. During the Civil War he was a staunch supporter of the Union cause. In 1865 he was appointed State reporter of the Supreme Court, a position which he held until 1876. The 32 volumes of his reports form an important part of every law library in the State. He also published the valuable legal text book known as “Smith's Forms.”

In his death not only have our town and county lost a valued and honored citizen, but the State as well has suffered a loss which will be sensibly felt.

They resided in West Chester, Pa., where he was prominently and extensively engaged in the practice of the law.

This morning, at his home on Virginia avenue, John J. Pinkerton died after being an invalid for several years. He had been a member of the Chester County Bar since February 1st, 1860. He was about 76 years old.

Mr. Pinkerton was for many years one of the best-known residents of Chester county, and specially prominent in his profession through being counsel for the Pennsylvania Railroad Company.

He was born in Honeybrook township, a son of Samuel Pinkerton, who was Prothonotary of Chester county in 1839. When a young man he served as a brakeman and conductor on the Downingtown and Lancaster Railroad, and afterward attended Williams College, in Massachusetts. On leaving college he took up the study of law, and since then had been making his home in West Chester.

For a time he taught in the public schools here, beginning in March, 1858, and having a room in the headquarters of the Good Will Fire Company, on Church street, north of Gay.

In the following year he became Master of West Chester Lodge, No. 322, F. & A. M., and at the time of his death he was the oldest surviving Past Master.

After being admitted to the bar he entered into partnership with Hon. Wayne MacVeagh, and they had an office in what is now the Marshall S. Way building on West Market street, but when the Brandywine Bank building was erected, at the corner of High and Market streets, where the Farmers and Mechanics building now stands, they moved their office thereto. After Mr. MacVeagh left West Chester the firm dissolved and Mr. Pinkerton located on North High street, where his office is still maintained.

At one time during his early life he was associated with Samuel R. Downing, now of East Goshen, in the management of the Chester County Times, a weekly paper.

Mr. Pinkerton was a lifelong friend of Mr. MacVeagh, who through all his triumphs in public life never forgot him, and it is recorded that when Mr. MacVeagh returned from his foreign posts of duty, he sought Mr. Pinkerton among the first after his arrival. On one occasion, after Mr. MacVeagh had served as Ambassador to Italy, Mr. and Mrs. Pinkerton met him in New York, and from Jersey City they escorted him to Philadelphia in the private car of the Pennsylvania Railroad's President, loaned for the occasion. Mr. MacVeagh had visited him in West Chester rather recently.

In an educational way he was prominent locally. For a number of years he served as a member of the Board of Trustees of the West Chester State Normal School and for a time was President of that body. He was also, up to the time of his death, a member of the Examining Committee of the Chester County Bar. When candidates desired to be admitted to study, he tested them in English history and literature, and the structure of the language, and when they were ready to enter practice, he examined them on pleading.

For a number of years he was active in the First Presbyterian Church. In politics he was a Republican, and at one time aspired to be Judge of the Courts, but the Republican County Committee endorsed Judge Hemphill for a second term and Mr. Pinkerton did not make an active campaign for the nomination. For some years he was borough solicitor.

He is remembered as a scholarly man, of fine appearance, always well dressed, and courteous in his manner. He had a beautiful lecture on "Alexander Hamilton," which was delivered in many places. As an after-dinner speaker he was witty and pleasing, being able to turn a compliment most delicately.

Having a fine library and being fond of books, he spent much time among them.

Mr. Pinkerton was a Son of the Revolution through the Carpenter family, from which he was descended.

He was selected about the year 1894 a member of a Constitutional Convention, to revise the Constitution of Pennsylvania, but the convention was not called because unauthorized by the voters.

Of late years he had been declining in strength, and was unable to walk about town, but traveled by carriage as long as he was able to go out. He sat much on his porch at his home on Virginia avenue, accompanied by Mrs. Pinkerton, who ministered to him faithfully as long as he required her services.

Amy A. Cope.

In the passing away of Amy A. Cope, many will feel that they have lost a friend and a counsellor. She was always kind, interested and sympathetic. Although for years a patient, cheerful sufferer, her heart and hands were never idle; she was always, when strength permitted, occupied for the welfare of those around her, who needed her help, and even little children came to her sick room to be instructed in various ways. It can truly be said of her, "She hath done what she could". In 1856 she married Paschall Cope, of East Bradford, this county, and they resided in West Chester, Philadelphia and New Garden. She leaves one daughter, Lydia C., wife of President Isaac Sharpless, of Haverford College, and several grandchildren, with whom she has made her home for several years. Here she had been tenderly and lovingly cared for and her loss will be keenly felt by a large circle of friends.

Aug. 20, 1909.

Another victim was added yesterday to the long list of boys who have been killed or maimed for life on the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad on Front street, due to the dangerous and unlawful practice of jumping on and off moving freight trains. Walter Faddis is the third victim within a few weeks and all three are in the Chester Hospital.

Young Faddis is the eight-year-old son of William Faddis, who is employed by the J. J. Buckley Company during the week and on Saturday nights assists at the Franklin House. The boy with several young companions had climbed on a freight train above Parker street and after enjoying a ride, he attempted to get off, but missed his footing and fell under the wheels, one of which passed over his leg and crushed it. The accident happened within sight of his home at 107 Kerlin street, but his little companions carried him to the sidewalk, where he bravely withstood the trying ordeal without a whimper until the ambulance of the Chester Hospital arrived and conveyed him to that institution for treatment. The little leg was so badly mangled that it was found necessary to amputate it above the knee. It was reported at the hospital this morning that the boy was resting well and would recover. He is a plucky little chap and displayed considerable nerve.

The accident created quite a commotion on Front street and attracted a crowd of men, women and children. There were many expressions of sympathy heard.

G. Thompson Guthrie.

After a brief illness, G. Thompson Guthrie, one of the best-known men in Downingtown, died suddenly this morning, in his 52d year. He was a contractor and builder, whose work is to be found in many places throughout this section of the State.

Yesterday Mr. Guthrie was about his work as usual, but last evening left ill, and this morning did not arise. About 9 o'clock he died, acute indigestion being assigned as the cause.

His family was much shocked, as there was no suspicion that his end was so near.

During the past twenty-five years he had lived in Downingtown, doing much of the best work there in his line. He erected the two bank buildings, the Methodist Episcopal and the Baptist churches, and had the new High School nearly completed. In West Chester he erected the Principal's residence at the State Normal School and a number of private houses. He also built several county bridges.

Mr. Guthrie was born in Guthrieville, and when a young man moved to Parkersburg and thence to Downingtown. He was a trustee in the Methodist Episcopal church, and always took active interest in the work; had served as Councilman and School Director, had passed the chairs in the Odd Fellows' Lodge and frequently went as a delegate to the Grand Lodge.

He married Miss Maud H. Hamilton, of Kelton, who survives him, with their three children, Florence, Clyde and Ralph. Clyde is married and the other two are single.

A sister, Mrs. B. F. Evans, lives in Harrisburg, and there are three brothers, Dr. D. C. Guthrie, Philadelphia; John, of Philadelphia, and Dr. George, of Wilkes-Barre.

He was a contractor and builder.

The following appeared in the "Daily Local News", of West Chester, Pa., of Oct. 2, 1897:

SKETCH OF HIS LIFE.

He was one of the leading members of the Chester County Bar, and once took an active part in the politics and business of this county. He is the eldest son of Jonathan J. and Rebecca Monaghan, and was born in Parkesburg, Chester county, July 2, 1852. When quite young his parents removed to Pettis county, Missouri, where he grew to manhood, attending the common schools of that county and the high school in the city of Sedalla, Missouri. At the age of 17 he returned to Pennsylvania and began the study of law in the office of his uncle, R. E. Monaghan, in West Chester. While reading law he prosecuted his studies of Latin and Greek for a short time under the well-known teacher, William F. Wyers, and afterward by private study, without an instructor, reading the full Yale College course in the classics.

He was admitted to the Chester County Bar July 3, 1873, and practiced law continuously since that date. His greatest strength was in jury trials and argument of legal questions to the Court. His practice was an active one, and he probably tried as many and as important cases as any member of this bar.

Blessed with a vigorous constitution, Mr. Monaghan did not appreciate the necessity of the gospel of rest, and as a result, in the fall of 1891, broke down in health. A voyage around the world, including some months of rest in Australia, effected, it was hoped, a restoration of his health. His business and tastes occasioned more than the usual amount of travel over the United States in the last ten years. Indeed, there are but five States and Territories of the Union which he had not visited.

The Monaghans are of Irish descent, the family being planted in America about 1799, by James Monaghan (grandfather), a native of County Fermanagh, who located first in Delaware, and later removed to Chester county, where he died in 1841. Jonathan J. Monaghan (father) was born in Chester county in 1813, where he grew to manhood on his father's farm and received a fair English education. In 1850 he married Rebecca, dau. of Robert Murdagh, of Oxford, this county, and by this union had a family of five children, three of whom are still living: Robert Jones, the subject of this sketch; James, a graduate of Lafayette College (1876), who read law with his brother, R. Jones, with whom he afterward formed a law partnership, practicing in this county, and in May 1892, was appointed by Governor Pattison as State Reporter for the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania for a term of five years; and Margaret, wife of Rev. William F. Gibbons, a minister of the Presbyterian church, who is located near Wilkes-Barre, Luzerne county, Pa.

FUNERAL SERVICES OF WILLIS V. HARDMAN.

Editor Logan Republican.

Impressive funeral services were held in the Mendon Meeting House over the remains of Willis V. Hardman, son of Joseph and Octavia Peirce Hardman, formerly of Mendon but later of Garland, Utah, on Friday the 10th inst., beginning at 1 p. m.

Beautiful and appropriate music was rendered by the Ward choir and by Joseph C. Sorenson, who sang "I Know My Heavenly Father Knows"; by Louie and Edith Hughes, who sang the duet "Sometimes, Somewhere," and by Richard Pilkington, of Smithfield, who sang "O My Father".

Bishop William D. Bird presided and the speakers were Andrew Sorenson, William Hill, of Logan, Heber Parker, of Wellsville, Bishop David Murray, of Mt. Sterling, Counselor Jensen, and Bishop Grover, of Garland, E. H. Peirce, of Salt Lake City, and Bishop Bird. All testified to the noble and Christianlike qualities of the deceased, always of a modest and retiring disposition but a dutiful son, an exemplary husband and a loving father. As a Church Member willing to go when called and to perform where required and worthy the blessings and privileges of the House of God. The benediction was by J. N. Sorenson.

Flowers and emblems covered the casket and filled two tables and twelve young ladies, dressed in white, marched ahead of the funeral cortege bearing the flowers to the Cemetery. Grave was dedicated by E. H. Peirce, uncle of the deceased.

In his vocation or chosen occupation Willis Vivian Hardman had worked himself up from a section hand, at his home town, to become section foreman of the Malad branch of O. S. L. system with headquarters at Garland, Utah. Here he was stricken with the dreaded malady, appendicitis, operated upon at the L. D. S. hospital by Dr. Pinkerton, the company surgeon; on Sunday, he failed to rally and on Wednesday morning at 3 a. m. with his wife and mother at his bedside, his spirit took its flight to mingle with the just and righteous ones who had preceded him to the other side.

The deceased was in his 28th year and the sympathies of the entire community go out to his wife, Laura, and their little daughter who played about the room totally unmindful of the full import to her future of the service and heedless of the great grief which racked the hearts of the wife and mother of the departed.

Logan Republican, 9-18-09.

VI—1004. MARY B. PEIRCE (Thomas M., Caleb, Margaret, Samuel, William,), b. Nov. 13, 1862, in Springfield, Montgomery Co., Pa.; address, 1616 North Broad St., Philadelphia, Pa.

The Peirce School (founded by her father) is being continued with M. B. Peirce as principal and L. B. Moffet as director.

VI—1005. EDA MAY PEIRCE (Thomas May 5), b. Jan. 18, 1864, at Springfield, Montgomery Co., Pa.; d. Aug. 5, 1910, at Au Sable, Clinton Co., N. Y.

The following is from the "Peirce School Alumni Journal" of Sept. 1910:

"The many friends of Miss Eda May Peirce were shocked when the news of her sudden death at Au Sable Chasm was received by telegraph August 5, 1910. She had been in attendance at a convention of missionary workers of the United States and Canada, at Silver Bay, N. Y. Traveling with two friends, they arrived at the Chasm in the middle of the day, and after lunch at the hotel she entered the Chasm, which she had twice visited on previous occasions. At a point near the entrance she stepped to the edge of the walk to obtain a better view, when she was seized with an attack of vertigo and fell a distance of twenty feet to the rocks below. She was instantly killed, and her body, which was carried away by the river, was recovered two days later.

She received her education in the public schools of Philadelphia, graduating from the High School in 1882, and from the Normal School three years later. She also took a course in the Peirce School, graduating from the business department in 1896. She was greatly interested in children and had taught in a private school four years. She was conscientious and enthusiastic in her work and met with much success. In 1895 she was appointed to the faculty of the Girls' High School in charge of commercial branches, which position she held for ten years, resigning in 1906 to devote herself to philanthropic work. The church strongly appealed to her. She was a member of the Grace M. E. church and served in many capacities in the various organizations connected with it. Here her love for the young was manifested and she was made superintendent of the young people's work of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the M. E. church, Philadelphia Branch. She spent much time in organizing societies among young people and carried on this work in many neighboring cities and towns. She was a member of the Quaker City Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, and of the Alumni Association of Peirce School, of which she was a vice president. She was also one of the owners of this school."

"She saw life as opportunity, as a trust to be fulfilled, and with all her powers sought to respond."

"One who never turned her back, but marched breast forward,

Never doubted clouds would break;

Never dreamed, though right were worsted, wrong would triumph;

Held we fall to rise, are baffled to fight better; sleep to wake."

His last residence was at Beardstown, Ill., where Ann G. continues to reside.

The following account of his life is taken from the "Creston, Iowa, Daily Advertiser" of April 14, 1897.

"The closing obsequies of the late C. W. Eckerson were held here at the Methodist church this afternoon. The remains arrived from Beardstown, Illinois, accompanied by the funeral party.

"The casket was placed before the pulpit railing, surrounded by a bank of floral offerings. The large number of pieces and the beauty of design were unmistakable testimonials of the worth of him of whom they bore silent but effectual testimony. He had been employed by the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy R. R. for twenty-seven years, the first four and a half as machinist, then as master mechanic, and was one of the most widely known and efficient men in the motive department of the "Burlington" road. His knowledge was acquired by practical service and by his industry, integrity and ability he was advanced to one of the most responsible positions on the system. His last removal by the hand of death brought sorrow to almost every home in Creston, where he had formerly lived for fourteen years. To-day as those grey-headed shopmen passed the casket and gazed at the calm face, they recalled many kind deeds and words of counsel that had come from him, aiding them in life's struggle.

"Suitable resolutions were passed by the employes of the C., B. & Q. shops to his worth, respect and memory."

Note.—Hon. Andrew Gregg Curtin was born April 22, 1815, and died October 7, 1894, being in his eightieth year. He was elected Governor of Pennsylvania in 1860, and again in 1863. He was consequently "war governor" during the trying times of the late Civil War, and by his able and energetic course was a powerful arm to the Union cause. He was afterwards Minister of the U. S. to Russia. His father, Roland Curtin, emigrated from Ireland. His mother was the dau. of Andrew Gregg, formerly U. S. Senator from Pennsylvania. His wife was the dau. of Dr. William Irvine Wilson, formerly of Potter's Mills, Centre Co., Pa., who m. a dau. of Judge James Potter of Centre Co., Pa., son of General James Potter, of Revolutionary fame. Mrs. Curtin died suddenly Dec. 7, 1903, aged 84 years.

The following notice and proclamation give a fair account of his life:

A Bellefonte, Pa., special of October 7, 1894, tells the following: Andrew G. Curtin, the most famous of all the war Governors and one of the most prominent figures of the time, died at 5 o'clock this morning after a lingering illness.

The news of the death of the ex-Governor soon spread about the town, and knots of people were seen in different places discussing his many fine qualities. The members of many a household had their eyes dimmed by tears when they remembered his goodness and the help he had given to many of the poor in his quiet way. Always generous, the old soldiers were his particular friends, and not one of them ever wanted for anything that was in his power to give.

All the members of the ex-Governor's family are living but one, a daughter, Jennie, who married William H. Sage, of Ithaca, N. Y. She died last November. The rest of his family consists of W. W. Curtin, of Philadelphia; Mary W., wife of Dr. George F. Harris; Marcy I., wife of Captain K. R. Breese, United States Navy, and Kate W., wife of M. D. Burnet, of Syracuse, N. Y. The ex-Governor and his wife had just celebrated their golden wedding on the 29th of May last in a quiet way on account of the recent death of their daughter.

Ex-Governor Beaver had full charge of the funeral arrangements. The services were conducted by members of the Grand Army of the Republic, who were the old war Governor's pets.

PROCLAMATION BY THE GOVERNOR.

It is with profound sorrow that I announce to the citizens of this Commonwealth the death of Andrew Gregg Curtin, which occurred at his home in Bellefonte, at 5 o'clock, a. m., this seventh day of October, A. D., 1894. His death leaves surviving but a single one of my predecessors in the Executive office of Pennsylvania. He was one of the most distinguished in the long line of illustrious men. Dying at the age of four score years, until lately his eye was not dim nor his natural force abated, and few, if any, of the citizens of our State ever maintained so lasting hold upon the affections of its people. Native of Pennsylvania, he sprang from a race of hardy men who left their impress upon its citizenship and who had been alike conspicuous in public affairs and in the development of the material interests of the Commonwealth. For more than half a century he was a member of the learned profession of the law, and though at times his towering prominence in politics overshadowed his fame as an advocate, his legal training during his entire public career, was of inestimable advantage to himself and benefit to the State.

VI—1316. REBECCA D. SMITH (Thomazine S., Thomazine, Mary, Mary, James), b. July 3, 1834; m. ROBERT E. MONAGHAN Sept. 12, 1866, son of James Monaghan and Catherine Streeper, b. July 24, 1822; d. June 29, 1895.

His father, a native of Ireland, took an active part in the rebellion led by Robert Emmett. Upon its failure he, then in his nineteenth year, came to America, landing at New Castle, Delaware, and being well educated engaged in teaching. He finally settled in West Fallowfield, Chester Co., Pa., where Robert E. was born. The son also engaged in teaching. He afterwards studied law and settled in West Chester, Pa. He became prominent in the councils of the Democratic party and was several times their candidate for Conspicuous as the possible candidate of his party for Governor as early as 1854, he was appointed Secretary of State to Governor Pollock, and with the exercise of the ordinary duties of that office he combined the direction and management of the public school system of the State, then in a somewhat formative condition, and which gained great impulse toward its future usefulness from his wise counsel. He was a most potent factor in determining the political conditions of the country during the period of the beginning and prosecution of the war for the Union, and for six years he discharged the duties of the office of Governor, to which he had been elected and re-elected in a manner that won for him, above all his contemporaries, the title of "The War Governor." He was conspicuously helpful to the Federal Government and President Lincoln, and while always jealous of the honor and regardful of the dignity of his own Commonwealth, he aided largely to make the part of Pennsylvania in the great struggle second to that of no other State in the Union. He was active in raising and equipping troops, and the splendid organization of the Pennsylvania Reserves was owing to his exertions. He was indefatigable in his ministrations for the comfort of Pennsylvania's soldiers in the field, on the march, in the camp or in the hospital. No personal service in this behalf was too exacting for him to render, and again and again his presence inspired our soldiery, and his sympathy cheered the wives and children of the absent, and the widows and orphans of those who never returned. To him, above all others, the State is indebted for the establishment of the Soldiers' Orphans' Schools, and the country owes to him the splendid example of Pennsylvania's care for the children of her soldier dead.

He and his native State were honored by his appointment as Minister Plenipotentiary to one of the great powers of Europe, and he was eminently successful in establishing and maintaining the most cordial relations of Russia's great empire with our Republic. He sat an honored member in the Constitutional Convention which framed our present fundamental law. He represented with distinction one of the principal Congressional districts of our State in the House of Representatives of the United States, and when he retired to private life he was followed with the affectionate regard of the people of all parties and of every section of the Commonwealth, of which he had been a faithful public representative. His presence in every popular assembly, and especially on the occasion of military reunions, was always the occasion for veneration of his imposing and genial personality.

His funeral will take place at Bellefonte, Centre county, Pa., on Wednesday, October 10, at 2 o'clock p. m. In honor of his memory, and in recognition of his eminent public services, I invoke for his bereaved family the sympathy of the people of Pennsylvania, and I recommend and order that on the day of his funeral, the flags upon the public buildings be displayed at half staff and that the several departments of the State Government within Executive control, be closed upon that day.

Given under my hand and the Great Seal of the State, at the city of Harrisburg, this seventh day of October, in the year of our Lord, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-four, and of the Commonwealth the one hundred and nineteenth.

ROBERT E. PATTISON.

By the Governor.
